ZEP PLOT INQUIRY BEGINS

The Zeppelin's Danger.
General Motors in Air Work.
Lilli Lehmann Dead.
Poor Mr. Scarface.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE giant Zeppelin, after being buffeted by storms over the French Alps, landed yesterday at Cuers Pierre Feu, France.

The balloon type of airship, offering vast, unnecessary surface for the winds' attack, is a survival of early aviation ideas that might well have been abandoned after the Wright brothers' demonstration.

An all-metal dirigible, strong enough to resist any wind, may be perfected. But why offer such huge surface for attack, when powerful, air-piercing planes can be built to defy any storm?

MOST important and gratifying news concerning aviation is an announcement, made on the authority of Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors.

The great automobile company, with its limitless resources, has definitely entered the field of aviation.

With control of the Fokker company, its landing fields and plant, and of other airplane interests, General Motors will aim at leadership in the new and most important field of transportation.

HENRY FORD, pioneer in aircraft among great industrialists; Charles E. Mitchell, head of the National City Bank, biggest financial concern in America, and now Mr. Sloan, of General Motors, forms the great air trinity. Other smaller and very able concerns were earlier in the field. But major development will doubtless be a matter of competition among the three, each possessing practically unlimited engineering and financial power.

THE often sad "little man" need not weep and say there is no chance for him. He has every chance, and all ahead of him.

One good idea, NEW, may be worth to aviation more than all the factories and billions of the big trinity. Flying has barely started. Nothing is final, everything is still experimental.

AIRCRAFT is still an imitation of the bird, and men do not succeed by imitation. The locomotive does not imitate the horse, nor the machine gun the bow and arrow. Entirely new ideas in shape, power, fuel, will change the airplane far more than locomotives have been changed since the early days.

GREATER engine power will supersede wing spread. And eventually will come wireless power, enabling the airplane to take up and use in flight power generated on the ground.

The flier will not need to carry his power plant with him.

THERE is unlimited opportunity for inventive genius in a field of new ideas.

Scientific training in aerodynamics is not essential. The man that invented the sewing machine could not sew. It simply occurred to him that if you put the eye in the needle's point you need not push the needle all the way through and out on the other side.

That is all there was to the sewing machine. The biggest ideas are simplest.

LILLI LEHMANN is dead in Berlin, aged 81. One of the greatest artists and teachers of her long period, she taught many and inspired tens of thousands with love of great music.

She ought to have a monument as fine as war ever erected to the memory of any wholesale man killer.

But civilization has not reached that point. We can get along without music, not without killing.

TWO sorrowful items in the news:

Number One: Mr. "Scarface" Al Capone, whose profession is said to be shooting or blowing you up, if you do not come across, is sent to prison for a year in Philadelphia. And his gunman bodyguard, caught with him, as they left a movie theater, also goes to jail.

And only because they were carrying "automatics."

"WHAT in heaven's name," asks Mr. Capone, "would they carry? Rattles or toy balloons, perhaps?"

To be jailed for merely having a gun, after you have used better and bigger weapons, from Mrs. Potter Palmer's residence on the North Shore, all the way South to the old Pullman residence on Prairie avenue and beyond, is calculated to make a man lose faith in his guiding star.

It is as though Napoleon, having crossed the Alps in midwinter, were locked up for lack of a passport.

SAD news item Number Two tells of call money in Wall street yesterday at 6 per cent, and abundant, at that price.

How hard that is on the banks. They were "all set" for a 20 per cent rate, having enjoyed 13 per cent two days ago.

Some may have to cut annual dividends from 100 down to 60 per cent or even less.

That is pretty hard, a poor return for sitting in your office, handling other people's money.

THE worst of it is that "outsiders" pour in money eager for the usury debauch, and no effective plan for shutting out these bootleg loans is offered.

Even the Federal Reserve, planned, evidently, to encourage usury and increase bank profits, seems unable to suggest anything.

THIS, for the information of those concerned, is written by one who owns a reasonable amount of bank stocks and has seen them rise in value hundreds of dollars per share with the usual emotions.

There ought, however, to be

CLINIC WARNED, INQUEST TOLD

CLEVELAND, May 18.—(AP.)—Investigation into the Cleveland Clinic fire which caused the deaths of 122 persons from gas generated by blazing X-ray film went forward today with information that cigarets were smoked near the film storage room and that the clinic had been warned of the danger.

These facts had been uncovered in testimony before an inquest conducted by Coroner A. J. Pearse and County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller, newspapermen were told. The inquiry was held behind closed doors.

Among federal men making examinations of the blasted clinic were C. R. Brown, United States Bureau of Standards, Washington; W. P. Yant, supervising chemist, and J. E. Crawshaw, explosive engineer, both of the United States Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh, and W. H. Smith, United States Bureau of Mines, Washington.

Mrs. Rose Reber, charwoman, told of her testimony. She said that men frequently smoked in the basement near the room where the film was stored, and that she never had seen the steel fire door closed.

A report of the Ohio Inspection Bureau warning the clinic to safeguard the building by removing the film was read into the record, Pearse admitted.

The inpection report was filed with clinic officials some time ago, Pearse said, together with recommendations that the film be stored in a separate building.

Officials of the clinic today announced that the death list to date included 122 names. Elimination of unverified names in an official check-up reduced the number of dead by several. Fifty persons were in hospitals, they said.

Ben Jones, 30, professional football player, was the last to die. He had undergone an operation for the removal of tonsils when the blasts came. Clinging to a window sill, he was rescued by firemen and then drove to his home at Grove City, Pa., apparently unhurt. But the gas had filled his blood with poison and, unknowing, he had been dying slowly from the time of the explosions.

Clinic physicians said the injured had improved chances of recovery today.

Motorman Injured When Hit by Auto

Paul Liebig, 50, of 1830 Florida street, North Side, a street car motorman, is in a serious condition in St. John's Hospital as the result of being run down by an automobile at Florida street and California avenue early today. At the hospital it was said he suffered a probable fracture of the skull. Rudolph Herr, 30, of 1425 Franklin street, driver of the machine, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving, later being released on $100 bail.

SQUIRREL HILL DRIVER HELD

A thoughtful policeman at the Squirrel Hill station, who had arrested R. J. McKinney, of 1347 Shady avenue, last night and charged him with being a suspicious person and violating the auto laws, took time to make this notation on the police report:

"Mr. McKinney is of the McKinney Manufacturing Company in the Bessemer Building."

The desk sergeant released McKinney on $100 securitiy after City Physician V. J. Yorty had pronounced the prisoner under the influence of intoxicants. The customary procedure is to require $1,000 bail in such cases.

Police alleged McKinney lacked a driver's license when he was arrested in an auto in Northumberland street. The car belonged, police said, to Samuel Wynett, of 2227 Murray avenue, who reported that it had disappeared a few hours before from in front of 5411 Albemarle street.

Hoover Sympathy Sent as Cleveland Mourns Dead

CLEVELAND, May 18.—(INS.)—Wheels of industry and the business of a great city came to a standstill today while funerals were held for 36 of 122 victims of the Cleveland Clinic disaster.

Mayor John D. Marshall officially proclaimed this a day for mourning and requested business be curtailed to permit general observance.

The city received messages of condolence from nations, rulers and other sympathizers the world over.

"The whole country shares in the sorrow which has come to your city in the tragic death of so many," President Hoover wired. "Mrs. Hoover and I send our deep sympathy to those bereaved by the terrible disaster."

FLIER KILLED IN SHAM BATTLE

COLUMBUS, O., May 18.—(AP.)—One man was killed and another seriously injured here today when two planes which they were piloting in the national Army air maneuvers, crashed over a North Side residential district and fell in flames.

The dead man was Lieut. E. J. Meadows, of the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron, Rockwell Field, San Diego, Cal. He died when his blazing ship crashed in the back yard of a residence.

LANDS WITH PARACHUTE

The second man is Lieut. Fred Salter, also attached to the Ninety-fifth Pursuit squadron. He jumped with a parachute and landed in a ravine, suffering severe burns. He was taken to a doctor's office where his injuries were dressed.

The crash occurred at an altitude of approximately 15,000 feet. Both pilots attempted to use the parachutes. Lieut. Salter was successful, but Sergt. Meadows' chute caught in the undercarriage of his plane and he was dragged to the ground with the flames from the burning ship whipping about him.

THROWN UNDER SHIP

As he neared the ground he swung under the ship which landed on top of him. The ship came down in the rear of a residence and set fire to a garage.

Dr. C. M. Valentine, Linden physician, who treated Salter's injuries, said the aviator told him he believed his plane was struck from below.

Lieut. Salter was badly burned as his gasoline tank exploded and the plane burst into ames, but he was able to make the leap.

Wife Ill, Sinclair Frets Behind Bars

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS.)—Harry F. Sinclair, the oil magnate, finished the second week of his 90-day sentence in the district jail today somewhat worried over the condition of his wife.

The oil man has been advised that Mrs. Sinclair has suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of worry and strain over her husband's incarceration and has been removed to a Michigan sanitarium to recuperate.

Hotel in Louisville Bought by Eppley

SPOKANE, Wash., May 18.—(AP.)—Purchase of the Seelbach Hotel, in Louisville, Ky., for $2,500,000 was announced here yesterday by Eugene Eppley, of Omaha, president of the Eppley Hotels Company.

Acquisitions of the Louisville hostelry, Epply said, brings the number of hotels owned and operated by his corporation to 21, the largest being the $18,000,000 Greater William Penn, in Pittsburgh.

Professor Blinded By Chemical Blast

ANNVILLE, Pa., May 18.—(AP.)—An explosion of chemicals in the laboratory of Lebanon Valley College here yesterday may cost Prof. Andrew Bender, head of the chemistry department, his sight. Prof. Bender was performing an experiment when the burning acid was thrown into his face, blinding him.

Caddy Goes Round On Court Links Sans Penalty

Harold Rauff, 18, of 134 North Winebiddle avenue, arrested yesterday in a caddies' strike demonstration at the Stanton Heights Golf Club, was discharged in Morals Court today.

Patrolman C. Wentland testified the youth appeared to be a leader of the boys on strike and that he arrested him on a disorderly conduct charge after being summoned to the club house by the caddymaster.

Rauff testified he had caddied eight holes for a man when striking caddies called to him to throw down the bags or he would be beaten. He heeded the warning and left the course, he said. The caddies were demanding $1 for a round of 18 holes instead of 75 cents, the present rate, he said.

POLICE AUTOS GUARD MILK DRIVERS

Protected by uniformed police, wagons of the Liberty Dairy Company today left the plant at Forbes street and Sixth avenue, and according to officials, made deliveries without interruption, except in two instances. A driver reported that his wagon had been stoned in Alice street, Mt. Washington, but that no damage had been done. The police followed the wagons in automobiles.

8 MEN ARRESTED

Police received a report that a gang of men had attacked a milk truck in George street, McKees Rocks, and shattered the windshield when they threw bottles against it.

Efforts of state and federal labor mediators to settle the milk strike came to naught. William Robinette, representing the United States Department of Labor, and William Broad, of Harrisburg, representative of the state interior department, left the city yesterday. They had conferred with company officials and spokesmen for the strikers, but were unable to bring about an agreement.

Eight men were under arrest today in connection with attacks on wagons, and attempts to intimidate drivers. John Bickel, 1210 Gerst way, driver of a wagon which was overturned in Buena Vista street,

Wealthy Widow, 68, To Wed Sixth Time

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 18.—(AP.)—Mrs. Nellie Ellaby Doyle, 68, who was left fairly well off by the death of her fourth husband, is to take as her sixth, Fred Fox, 30, a traveling salesman of Miami. Last year she divorced her fifth, Jimmie Doyle, who was a 25-year-old soda clerk and boarder at her home when they married.

DERBY FANS FAVOR BLUE LARKSPUR

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
International News Service.

LOUISVILLE, May 18.—Churchill Downs and the romance of a great horse race beckoned today. The world and its four corners responded.

For Louisville created the world's greatest horse race fifty-four years ago and this morning most of the world seemed to have beaten, not a path, but a boulevard to the scene of the Kentucky Derby and apparently the rest of the world was on its way.

26 MAY START

By the time this race of all races goes on about five o'clock, central standard time, (7 o'clock Pittsburgh daylight saving time.) the world will be at the doorstep of the Downs, eighty thousand strong, and virtually each of them a proxy for some state, some section and some land beyond the seas. Of all the great events on the sport calendar, only one is truly cosmopolitan in character and it will be held at Churchhill Downs late this afternoon.

Twenty-six of the country's great thoroughbred three-year-olds were nominated in the overnight entries, no empty honor in itself. But to the man in the street of the paddock, the infield and the stands and to the millions who will see the race only through the eyes of another, over a tremendous hook-up of radio stations, there will be but two horses in the race, Blue Larkspur, pride of Blue Grass breeding, and Clyde Van Dusen, sponsored by the East but the product of a Middle Western environment.

SLIGHT RAIN FALLS

This pair were backed right through the covers of the winter books and, rain or shine, fair going or foul, they will get the big play in the machines this afternoon.

The track was a Blue Larkspur track through the night and early this morning—fast, dry and velvety—but by post time it may be that it will be a Van Dusen track, after all—slow, wet and soupy. For rain commenced to fall before noon, making it likely there would be a heavy track. The fall was light, however, and it was expected it might cease before the course was rendered muddy.

However, good horses run well under all conditions and if the two favorites aren't good, they have shamefully deceived a lot of people.

KAISER'S GRANDSON TOILS AS LABORER IN FORD PLANT

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(AP.)—Garbed in greasy overalls, Prince Louis Ferdinand von Prussia, grandson of the former German Kaiser, was found yesterday working as a laborer in the assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company here.

"Louis Ferdinand," as he is listed on the plant's payroll, admitted his identity to newspapermen as he sat on the curb in front of the factory at noon with several other workmen eating his lunch from a paper sack.

The Prince said he liked his job.

"I'm just goofy—you understand that—about it," he told interviewers, "although I do not know what my parents will do when they find out about it."

The only flaw in the prince's enjoyment, it seemed, was the matter of punching a time clock each morning. For the two weeks he has been working, he said, he has arisen each day at 15 minutes past 6. He said he was arrested Wednesday for speeding on his way to work.

Through a personal request of Henry Ford, at whose home in Detroit the prince was a visitor, he was employed here as a student laborer. The young man said he had tried to go to work in a German factory, but his parents would not permit it.

CAPONE SOUGHT JAIL, IS HINT

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP.)—"Scarface Al" Capone, sentenced yesterday to one year in jail for carrying a concealed deadly weapon, was believed in some quarters today to have sought jail as an asylum from the bullets of rival gangsters.

At the brief hearing at which he pleaded guilty it was intimated he had courted arrest and that the loaded revolver he turned over to police was carried for that express purpose.

DENIES PARLEY FAILURE

The Philadelphia Record said today that this action followed receipt of word at Atlantic City, where he had asked hostile Chicago gang leaders to meet him for a peace pact, that not only would they refuse to meet with him but that he would be "put on the spot" and killed at the first opportunity.

Capone's story to police officials who talked with him for more than two hours tended to discount the jail-seeking theory.

He declared that the rumor that the so-called peace pact in Atlantic

Stockings 'Important' For Girl Job Hunters

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—After a survey of girls in business, Miss Lillian Locke, of Columbia University, has concluded that good clothes, especially stockings, are necessary in order to get a good job.

"Personality," says her report, "is counting more and more in business, and clothes, including stockings, give a shapely appearance to the legs, are important because of the way they affect the wearer and her business associates."

AIR MONARCH TO RESUME U. S. TRIP

By GEORGE AXELSSON.
International News Service.

CUERS PIERRE-FEU, France, May 18—After snatching a few hours sleep for the first time in almost two days, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the German trans-Atlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin, was at the hangar where the ship is housed here early today to make a detailed investigation of the engine trouble which necessitated a forced landing yesterday.

The master mariner of the air, pale and drawn after his ordeal on the "bridge" of the great Zeppelin while it battled for hours with four motors crippled against a 40-mile-an-hour headwind, is deeply affected over the accident, but anxious more than anything else to get under way again with the least possible delay.

HARD TO EXPLAIN

It will be some time before the precise cause of the accident is known. The failure of four of the five engines almost simultaneously is difficult to explain, even though a superficial examination has shown that crank-shafts and connecting rods snapped while the motors were revolving at a high rate of speed.

Immediately after the Zeppelin's return to Friedrichshafen, it is understood, a thorough investigation will be launched into reports that deliberate sabotage may have caused the trouble. Dr. Eckener refuses to discuss this possibility, but it is shown the suggestion is receiving serious consideration.

Little progress can be made in reconditioning the dirigible until the four "spare" motors, now being rushed here at all possible speed by automobile from Friedrichshafen, arrive.

MAY REMAIN WEEK

It appeared today that the Zeppelin may have to remain a full week in the hangar here, which once housed the ill-fated French dirigible "Dixmude," lost with all its crew

BARTELL BACK IN LINEUP

Dick Bartell, Pirate shortstop, who was injured one week ago today when hit by a grounder in the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game at Philadelphia, will be back at shortstop today when the Corsairs wind up a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals. Bartell will bat in the lead-off position. Grantham will stay at second and Comoroskey in left, Adams going back to the bench.

Either Fred Fussell or Remy Kremer will oppose the Cards in the closing engagement at Forbes Field this afternoon. Willie Sherdel will work for the Cardinals.

Tonight the Pirates leave for Chicago, where tomorrow they open a three-game series with the Cubs.

WALES AND HAGEN WIN 'MYSTERY' GOLF MATCH

SWINLEY FOREST, England, May 18.—(AP.)—The Prince of Wales and Walter Hagen, American golf star, who recently won the British open championship, defeated Sir Victor Sassoon and Aubrey Boomer, English star, by two holes in a "mystery" foursome golf match today on a private course here.

All the members of the quartet were gleeful over their escape from the battery of photographers and the army of newspapermen who had been lying in wait for them and vainly endeavoring to trail their swift course out of London into the wide open spaces of the suburbs.

It was a jolly party that teed off, all its members aglow with zest for a match that was purely a playful affair without a shade of worry by anyone over the outcome.

After Hagen had had breakfast, the automobile of Sir Philip Sassoon picked him up at his hotel. With them was Aubrey Boomer.

Sir Philip's car was waiting in a side street. Hagen made a quick break for it, and before the newspapermen realized what had happened, they were under way. The reporters gave immediate but futile chase in other automobiles and on motorcycles.

INDUSTRIES PUSH DRIVE FOR CUT IN TAX ON WAGES

PITTSBURGH HUB IN NEW AIR LANES

Pittsburgh's rightful place in the 36,000 miles of air crossroads over 24 air mail routes is foreseen by Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, who expects the first new important link to be in operation before next winter.

This route will link the city with Norfolk through Washington and Baltimore. The survey is being completed and is expected to be presented at a hearing before President Hoover's interdepartmental committee on airways next Wednesday. The second air route expected to be established will connect New York with Cincinnati and St. Louis by way of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

"Daylight flying over the route to Washington and Norfolk will undoubtedly be established before next winter," the postmaster general told Chamber of Commerce members here yesterday while on a visit to the city. "This will eliminate the sending of mail from the capital to New York before starting it westward.

"Pittsburgh is to be complimented on the speed and thoroughness of its plans, now that it has launched forth to make the city a hub in the air lanes."

The Postmaster General was a speaker at the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Personnel Association in the University Club. The Rev. Dr. W. Warren Giles, of the First Reformed Church, East Orange, N. J., also spoke. Mr. Brown told his listeners of the many details that are demanded in the daily routine of the postoffice department.

Dr. Giles, who is 80 years old and noted as a humorist, entertained the 400 guests with his philosophy of life.

FEELS SECURE

"That suggestion is absolutely wrong," he said. "I'm here because I'm here, although I do feel secure for the first time in a long, long while."

During a talk with Director of Public Safety Lemuel B. Schofield, Scarface said:

"I have been asked how I fared in gang war in Chicago; whether the odds were in my favor. Well, my answer is this: I'm satisfied, but it's an awful life to lead. You fear death every moment and worse than death you fear the rats of the game, who would run around and tell the police if you didn't constantly satisfy them with money and favors.

"I never was able to leave my home without my bodyguard, Cline. He lives with me and has gone with me constantly during the last two years.

ALWAYS IN FEAR

"I have tried hard to stop all this killing and gang rivalry. That was my purpose in going to Atlantic City. It was a peace conference; I engineered it. Some of the biggest men in the business in Chicago were there.

"Bugs Moran, leader of the North Side gang, seven of whose men were killed on St. Valentine's Day, and three or four other Chicago gang leaders were there. We talked over our trouble and at the end agreed to sign on the dotted line, bury the past and forget warfare for the general good of all concerned."

GANG WAR FEARED

CHICAGO, May 18.—(AP.)—With Al Capone "put away" for a year in a Pennsylvania prison, it remains to be seen whether the riddle of Chicago gang crime has been solved. There were ominous suggestions today that it had only been intensified.

The roost that Capone ruled was not one that the most optimistic police officers believed would collapse merely because its support was taken away. Even without its chief, the Capone mob remained a potent and sinister threat.

The gangsters themselves were not using a brass band to advertise their reaction to the jailing of Scarface Al, but police read several signs, none of which indicated any termination of gang warfare.

There was police speculation over a rumor that a "machine gun election" was being planned to elevate a new leader to Capone's vacant throne. There were reports, too, that rival gangsters, emboldened by the temporary removal of Capone, were getting ready to seize the "Capone territory" with bullets and bombs if necessary, and thus make the entire city the "territory" of one rum-running racketeering-extortion gang.

ZEP SABOTAGE QUIZ BEGUN

when a storm over the Mediterranean buckled its structure.

Most of the passengers from the dirigible were still in Toulon this morning, some of them undecided whether to return to Friedrichshafen and wait until the ship is repaired to resume their journey, or to proceed to the United States by boat.

Three of the passengers left for Paris by a dawn train, convinced that they had enough of Zeppelin travel for a while and anxious to get started for home on board a steamship as quickly as possible.

There was one living being on the Graf that did not enjoy the experience. That was the female gorilla "Missi" that had been shipped in a cage as freight. "Missi" became seasick from the rolling of the airship and her whines were the only noise in the tense atmosphere within the dirigible. "Missi" was obviously glad to get back on land.

OFFICERS UNSHAKEN

Dr. Eckener and the other officers, however, have lost none of their faith in the Zeppelin's ability, in spite of its performance yesterday, and it is felt that the mishap can be fully explained later. In the meantime they are marking time until the new engines arrive and the great liner put back into commission.

Most of the 3,000 inhabitants of this little village swarmed about the airport today, seeking a glimpse of the stricken leviathan of the air which had narrowly escaped disaster. Dozens of persons clamored for the honor of extending hospitality to the passengers, but all who remained were safely housed in Toulon.

Dr. Eckener is most grateful over the reception accorded him by the people of Cuers, and most appreciative of the splendid co-operation shown by France in aiding the stricken dirigible to effect a landing. Troops were marshalled all over the Rhone Valley to be ready no matter where the ship came down, and the ground crew which finally brought the ship to safety had been recruited from French gobs aboard battleships in the Mediterranean.

It is understood that the mishap will have no effect on the plans for another trans-Atlantic crossing, and that the Zeppelin will take off again as soon as the damage has been repaired. She will return to Friedrichshafen first and start out again for America whenever possible.

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS.
International News Service.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, May 18.—While the Graf Zeppelin, crippled monarch of the air, lay stricken in a hangar at Cuers Pierre-Feu, 15 miles from Toulon, France, plans were being made here today for a sweeping investigation into the theory that sabotage may have been responsible for the disaster.

Officials of the Zeppelin Works expressed hope this afternoon that repairs could be completed in 10 days, possibly permitting the airship to resume the flight to Lakehurst, N. J., from Toulon, France.

SINISTER MOTIVE SEEN

The sabotage theory, as first reported by International News Service early yesterday, has been entertained by Zeppelin officials ever since the first word from Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible, stated that the breaking of crank-shafts on two of the motors had caused abandonment of the dirigible's flight across the Atlantic.

The fact that two of the engines had gone dead almost simultaneously was immediately regarded as sinister, and when later reports showed that two of the remaining engines failed also, apparently from the same reason, the sabotage theory was strengthened.

ZEP'S STRUGGLE AGAINST WIND DESCRIBED

By FRANKLIN NICHOLSON,
International News Service.

(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service.)

TOULON, France, May 18.—After a night and a day filled with more thrills and excitement than the average person encounters in an entire lifetime, most of the passengers from the dirigible "Graf Zeppelin" are resting at the Grand Hotel here today, preparing to leave for Paris or to return to Friedrichshafen.

The rooms and corridors of the hotel buzzed until the early hours of the morning with the conversation of the passengers, who a short time before faced what at times seemed certain death when the Zeppelin fought its way with four of its five motors crippled against the twisting north wind so characteristic of the Rhone Valley.

The first indication the passengers had that anything was wrong was when both motors on the right side of the ship went dead.

2 MORE MOTORS QUIT

Then, suddenly and without warning, two more engines went dead, leaving but one, on the port side, functioning.

Suddenly I experienced the strange sensation of the ship hanging absolutely motionless in midair.

Then came a few terrible minutes of violent pitching and tossing, the other passengers not realizing exactly what had happened nor appreciating the possibility that we might crash at any moment.

Official announcement was made by Dr. Eckener that all but one motor was gone, and that we must try a forced landing.

The news caused great consternation among some of the passengers, but Mrs. Mary Pierce, the charming New Yorker who was the only woman aboard, was the most composed of all.

CRASH FEARED

Presently the Zeppelin began pitching terribly, and we made our way back to the cabin. Pots and pans in the kitchen went rattling about with a terrific din, and, about that time, the dirigible swoped low over a little French town, and twice it seemed inevitable that we should bring up against the side of a mountain nearby. Each time, however, we threw out water ballast, and climbed out of danger.

With masterly navigation, Dr. Eckener brought the Zeppelin to a higher altitude, and aided by a tail wind we headed toward Cuers. All that lay between us and destruction was one motor, throbbing faithfully to help us maintain some degree of equilibrium in the incessant gale.

At times we listed at an angle of 45 degrees, and that motor was all that kept us from being pitched about and carried completely out of control like a free balloon.

Then, to make matters worse, trouble developed in the radio, and Dr. Eckener made attempts to keep the world advised of our difficulties by dropping notes, weighted with ballast, money and detailed instructions as to their transmission by telegraph, to the ground below.

MORE TROUBLE

It seemed that our load of trouble and difficulty was complete, but even now another ominous sound was heard—the irregular pulsations which indicated that the last remaining motor, strained beyond its capacity by its heavy task, was failing too.

Dr. Eckener ordered that everyone take up stations inside the gas bag, as it seemed we could remain aloft no longer, and a sudden crash was bound to crush the cabin and all that was in it.

But suddenly, out of the falling dusk, loomed the lights of the Cuers Naval Air Station, and we knew that salvation had come at last. It was the work of less than half an hour to get the dirigible to the ground when rope had been dropped to the crew of 300 that had been assembled to aid us, and almost before we knew it, we found ourselves on solid land again, our experience swiftly receding into a memory like a horrible nightmare.

Weather Conditions.

A low pressure area in the form of a broad trough extends from Eastern Ontario southwestward over the lake region and the Ohio Valley states to Texas. The principal center of the low is over Southern Missouri, lowest barometer 29.70 inches. It is causing cloudy weather throughout its area and produced rain over all the Plains states, the Mississippi Valley states and eastward over the Gulf states to the Atlantic coast. It is raining this morning in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Relatively high pressure covers the Atlantic Coast states, the crest of the high off the South Atlantic coast. The Northwest high covers the northern plains, with its crest over Manitoba. It is causing a change to colder over that section, with frosts and freezing temperatures in North Dakota and northward in Canada.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 7.6 feet; Lock No. 7, 11.4; Pittsburgh, 16.1; Dam No. 2, 8.1; Dam No. 6, 15.7; Dam No. 9, 16.2, and Dam No. 12, 15.6. The dams are down.

Wire Burns Auto Fender, Driver Uninjured

Comparing reports today, police were able to inform Dr. Frank Grajewski, dentist, of 416 Rowland avenue, Carnegie, that he was a lucky man. Thursday night Grajewski, driving in Forbes street near Shady avenue, heard something strike his car. There was a shower of sparks and Grajewski stopped a block farther on to find a hole unaccountably burned in the right fender and paint scorched from his car, he told police. Later police learned that a steam shovel had ripped down the trolley wire at that point, they said.

Reporter's Leap To Save Zep Forbidden

CUERS PIERRE-FEU, France, May 18.—(INS.)—Franklin J. Nicholson, special correspondent of International News Service aboard the Graf Zeppelin and official representative of the Columbia Broadcasting Company, offered to leap from the Graf with a parachute to get landing directions when the ship's wireless temporarily failed to work, it was learned today.

While the Graf was being buffeted over the Rhone Valley near Valence and while Dr. Hugo Eckener was vainly trying to get in radio communication with the French ministry of aviation, Nicholson made his courageous offer. However, Dr. Eckener rejected it owing to the dangers it entailed.

FLIER IS KILLED IN 'BATTLE'

There were 104 airplanes participating in the maneuvers.

Forty-two pursuit planes from the Red air headquarters at Norton Field here were out to engage in the mock combat with 15 bombers, 32 attack planes and 15 pursuit planes from the Blue headquarters, Wright Field, Dayton.

It was reported that one of the planes struck the tail of another, then burst into flames. An eyewitness said that one ship suddenly became a mass of fire, then plunged to the earth. The pilot of the other ship tried vainly to fly it, but it went into a tail spin and spiraled down.

DESCRIBES CRASH

Lieut. Salter gave this explanation of the accident, which was the first to mar the army maneuvers which have been in progress four days:

"I was with the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron, carrying out an attack on Norton Field. There were 17 ships in my formation. Suddenly we saw a dozen Red planes beneath us and hopped on them for the attack.

"Without warning one of the Red ships crashed into the undercarriage of my ship. I was thrown against the wash by the impact, but quickly recovered control of my ship. Then I discovered that my gas tank had been punctured and that the ship was afire.. I I made my getaway as quickly as possible and jumped."

Lieut. Salter is 25 years old. Although army records show him as being from San Diego, he said he has been living at Los Angeles.

Spanish Sea Fliers Arrive in Havana

STRIKERS WAIT VERDICT IN RIOT CASE

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., May 18.—(AP.)—Union Rayon mill workers here awaited today a decision in the case of 86 of their fellow strikers charged with conspiracy to commit murder, rioting and intimidation which may decide to what extent they will be permitted to carry their picketing tactics without fear of interfering by law.

Meanwhile, National Guardsmen were investigating reports of further disorders between the strikers and non-union workers in outlying communities. Special officers were dispatched late last night to Carter, 12 miles from Elizabethton, after Sheriff J. M. Moreland said he received reports of an explosion. The guardsmen reported they could find no trace of any blast.

Decision in the hearing of the strikers will be the first since picketing activities began after resumption of operations with a limited force last week at the American Bemberg and Glanzstoff Rayon plants, which were forced to close April 15 by a strike of 5,000 workers. The law in Tennessee permits picketing.

Apprehension in the Elizabethton strike area mounted high yesterday with reports of vandalism and other disorders coming in from the neighboring mill workers' communities.

The day also saw the arrest of Adjt. Gen. W. C. Boyd on a charge of aiding and abetting in attempt to commit murder. The complaint against him was filed by a girl who was injured seriously Thursday as a picketing line thrown across a highway was charged by a taxi carrying employes to the Rayon plants.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S latest grandchild is christened Andrew Carnegie Rockefeller. A young lady, six years old, announces that she cannot die, because she has two horseshoes and a lucky penny. This latest Rockefeller may well feel that he cannot die of poverty, with those three names.

YET the fortune left by Carnegie is small compared with what he might have left had he had confidence in the future of the American steel industry. He was the greatest figure in that industry, but could not imagine what it was to be.

FOR nothing, as part of the bargain that gave him a poor couple of hundred millions, he might have had steel stock "common" that would be worth now more than all his fortune. But long after he sold out to Morgan he said, "That is not stock. It is not even water. It is just air, not worth a cent a pound." Including the stock bonus, it is worth about $244 a share now.

Never underestimate future possibilities of anything in this country. Even farming may pay, some day.

But, don't gamble.

Two Zep Passengers Chase Boat by Plane

LE BOURGET, France, May 18.—(AP.)—George N. Crouse, of Syracuse, and M. Y. Nathan, of New York, undiscouraged by their experience aboard the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, arrived at Le Bourget by air from Marseilles today.

They were too late to catch the boat train connecting with the steamship Aquitania and began negotiations to fly to Cherbourg in order to overtake the train and make the steamer.

'Daddy' Browning Plans Hospital Aid

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—Edward W. Browning, husband of "Peaches," announces he will sell $5,000,000 worth of real estate at auction in Madison Square Garden July 11. As explained by a friend, he proposes to establish a foundation to build playgrounds and supply children's hospitals with toys so that the hospital will be remembered as a place of pleasure rather than pain.

POLICE AUTOS GUARD MILK

North Side, early yesterday, identified two men as among the party attacking him. They are Joseph Hughes, 25, of 2023 Deraud street, and Stanley Lucas, 29, of 3025 Pulaski way. They were charged with being suspicious persons and released on bail of $100.

'RED' CHARGE DENIED

Edward Cassidy, 32, of 3500 Fifth avenue; Thomas Alerton, 21, of Dormont, and Will Moore, 26, of 1440 Meekin street, were arrested at Forbes and Magee streets after they were alleged to have molested milk wagon drivers. At Fifth avenue and Brady street, James McPoland, 41, of 5 Aliquippa street; James Lally, 25, of 39 Kirkpatrick street, and Thomas Gorman, 41, of 2017 Tustin street, were arrested for the same offense. At Center Avenue Station all were charged with being suspicious persons.

Denial that the strike is being fostered by the Communist party with the sanction of the union was made by P. J. McGrath, secretary of the Pittsburgh Central Labor Council, and Henry L. Burger, Cleveland, organizer of the drivers' union. This followed a charge made by Paul E. Reinhold, vice president and general manager of the dairy company, that Communists were back of the strike.

MEN TOLD TO "REST"

"I have no connection, never did have any connection with and do not believe in the Communist party," Burger declared at his room in the Pittsburgher Hotel yesterday. "I represent the International Association of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers of America, which is affiliated with and charted under the American Federation of Labor. As far as my politics are concerned, I am a Republican.

"I am not responsible for the destruction of property and the battles that have occurred between the strikers, sympathizers and men who are replacing those who are out on strike. We instruct the men to go home and stay there and take a rest. Of course we cannot control every man's actions and it is natural for trouble to occur from hot-headed men who are demanding their rights to organize."

SEVEN DISCHARGED

Seven men arrested near the plant of the dairy company yesterday were discharged today when arraigned in police court. Six youths, who had been arrested on charges of violating city ordinances by distributing cards near the plant, were discharged by Magistrate A. D. Brandon in Morals Court. They are Clark Fleming, 19, of 1418 Vickroy street; William Heil, 20, of 2131 Jonquill street; Angelo Parde, 18, of 3811 Flowers avenue; Alex Schultz, 18, of 1419 Penn avenue; Fred Dietrich, 20, of 1900 Spring Garden avenue, and Dave Chalpen, 18, of "city." The youths promised to stay away from the plant.

Carl Huff, 27, of 839 Suisman street, North Side, who is alleged to have accosted employes of the plant as they were leaving work, was discharged in Central Police Court by Magistrate Thomas D. Jones. No one appeared to prosecute.

FIRMS AIDING WORKERS IN CAMPAIGN

Pittsburgh industry, first in the country in wealth, resources and progressive energy of its man power, is making its weight felt in the nation-wide movement sponsored by the Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers for the reduction of the tax on earned incomes.

More than 1,000 sets of petitions have been circulated and signed in Pittsburgh industrial plants, including steel mills, sheet and tin plate plants, glass factories, foundries, fabricating concerns, machinery, electrical works and scores of establishments in the minor divisions of industry.

HEADS CO-OPERATE

Wage earners are signing the petitions on their own initiative, but in the majority of the concerns owners and executives are giving every encouragement to the small income tax payers in their appeals to Congress in their own behalf.

The Tranter Manufacturing company, in Water street, is one of the establishments giving 100 per cent support to the campaign through the co-operation of Henry Tranter, president. As a director of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Tranter was one of the first Pittsburgh manufacturers to indorse the movement.

"A more equitable tax on wage workers would benefit all classes," said Paul H. Magnus, sales manager of the Tranter Manufacturing company. "It goes without saying that the man dependent upon his professional fees, salary or wages, should not be taxed on the same schedule as the person who has invested securities. The wage earner gladly pays on his invested income if he has a chance to save and make investments. The wage earner's savings create wealth."

BAKERS AID DRIVE

The baking industry is co-operating with the Sun-Telegraph's campaign in the large plants as well as in the community bakeries. The National Biscuit Company, the Haller Baking Company and Braun Brothers & Company are circulating petitions through their plants and other concerns are preparing to join in the canvass.

TRIAL UP, KING STILL MISSING

Legal floatsam left in the Allegheny County courts by the high tide of reform William L. King raised here in 1927 will be swept into the rubbish heap next week, if District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner's expectations are realized.

With King and two of his henchmen, Abe Winberg and Sol Rosenberg, scheduled to go on trial for conspiracy, Gardner expected to quash almost two score cases which grew out of King's crusading activities.

Telegrams have been sent to a dozen cities where King might be expected to be living quietly, but no trace of him has been found, Gardner said. The district attorney did not expect the former head of the Citizens' League to appear for trial. He believed that Weinberg and Rosenberg, under $10,000 bond each, would appear.

The three are accused of having conspired to indict Maxie Friedberg, Milton Jaffe, Gertrude Cahill and Mary Snyder.

"I am undetermined what course we will take until the day of trial, until I see what witnesses are produced against King, Weinberg and Rosenberg. As for the other cases, the Commonwealth is in an embarrassing position. I do not feel like asking a jury to convict when we feel morally certain that in at least some of the cases the evidence is faked."

Murder Testimony False, Gets 2 Years

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 18.—(AP.)—Jack Quinn, first of three persons to be tried in an alleged plot to prevent the conviction for murder of Walter Liggett, young grain merchant, was sentenced yesterday to two years in the penitentiary for perjury. Quinn was a surprise witness at the first trial of Liggett, accused of the murder, last fall, of Turney Cunningham, hotel manager. Cunningham died in a pistol duel as the culmination of a six-years' affair between Liggett and Mrs. Cunningham.

PFARR URGES ADDITIONAL CARE IN HANDLING FILMS

While assurance has been given by City Building Inspector H. L. Ley and hospital authorities that Pittsburgh is well guarded against a counterpart of the Cleveland clinic disaster, Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr today said additional precautions may be necessary.

Pfarr pointed out the danger of private showing of films by inexperienced picture machine operators in hospitals, soldiers' homes, orphanages and similar institutions, unless non-inflammable safety film is used.

Even with fireproof vaults such as are found in Pittsburgh hospitals and other institutions, as required, Pfarr contended there should be utmost care in handling films. Two film fires in this city, he said, had occurred in buildings equipped with fireproof vaults.

According to hospital authorities here, a safety plan for each hospital was worked out under supervision of Building Inspector Ley that precludes menace by X-ray film explosions. Many use only non-explosive films, they asserted.

WOMAN PASSENGER TELLS OF THRILLS IN ZEP FLIGHT

By MRS. MARY PIERCE,

CUERS, France, May 17.—I had the time of my life, but it is wonderful to be on land again.

There was never a minute when I doubted for our safety. Dr. Eckener is certainly a superb commander of his wonderful craft, and his first thoughts were for the safety and comfort of his passengers. Being the only woman aboard, I had every consideration.

The landing was as exciting an event as the take-off.

Once, as we drifted up the Rhone Valley, we almost ran into a mountain which loomed directly in our course. Some one pulled a cord releasing a shower of water from the ballast tanks of the Zeppelin and we rose steeply.

At 3 o'clock, I met an officer coming along the passage between the cabins, and he asked me to go to the saloon and prepare for landing immediately, even without entering the cabin.

We then heard we were going to land as soon as possible. I was not at all nervous then, since there was no apparent danger.

I could hear the emergency wireless going, so I opened the door of the control room and went in.

The officers were giving orders, and ringing bells, and telephoning. The tense atmosphere there was positively thrilling.

Preparations for landing went ahead. We all lined the window and watched the ground crew grab the lines and bring the wounded ship back to earth.

DORMONT MAN OVERCOME BY GARAGE FUMES SAVED

Heroic work on the part of a Dormont fireman and a policeman saved the life of J. H. Folsom, 36, of 1262 Mississippi avenue, Dormont, who today is recovering from the effects of being overcome by carbon monoxide fumes. From 10:30 o'clock last night until after midnight, the fireman and policeman worked on Folsom with an inhalator before bringing him back to consciousness.

Overcome by the deadly fumes while repairing his automobile in the garage in the rear of his home, Folsom was found by his wife. She called the Dormont municipal building and Robert A. Goodwin, the paid fire truck driver, and Police Capt. Fred Wilson hurried to the scene with the inhalator. With the aid of Dr. John Madden, of West Liberty avenue, the men revived Folsom.

Today Mrs. Folsom called E. O. Garrett, borough manager, and informed the executive of the heroic work of the police captain and the firemen. Dr. Maggen also praised the work of the men. The inhalator was purchased by the borough only a short time ago, and last night was the first time it had been used.

200 P.C.W. GIRLS GIVE PAGEANT OF GREECE

More than 200 young women will re-enact scenes of 2,000 years ago this afternoon when, in the shadow of a Doric temple, costumed with the drapings of old Greece, students of Pennsylvania College for Women will present their May Day celebration on the campus, Woodland road.

The performance is to be called "Persephone, a Greek Dance Spectacle," and its author is Marjorie Stevenson, a senior in the college. Lee Mitchell, a senior in the drama school at Carnegie Institute of Technology, designed the settings. Miss Vanda E. Kerst is directing the production and Miss Mae MacKenzie is chairman of the music committee. An orchestra under Prof. J. Vick O'Brien will play and a chorus of 100 will sing Greek songs.

Miss Mary Jewell and Miss Lois Hartman, of the college faculty, trained the dancers, among whom are nymphs, muses, bacchantes, satyrs, the Furies and the poppies, Persephone's flower. The principal roles are taken by Martha Ackleson, Clare Fassinger, Gene Feightner, Amelia Lockard, Ruth Lupold, Nancy McIlwain, Ann Bateman, Vera Levison, Elizabeth Stadtlander, Edith Beal, Adelaide Hyndman, Margaret Loeffler, Clara Boyd, Dorothy Russell, Margaret Horrocks and Helen Matz.

Two Die as Storm Batters Lake Ships

CALUMET, Mich., May 18.—(AP.)—Belated reports received here described the wreck of two lake freighters in a terrific battle against winds and heavy seas Wednesday night and Thursday. Two men were washed overboard and drowned. The freighters Ralph Budd and J. E. Gorman, owned by the Great Lakes Transit Corporation, were driven on reefs. The loss to shipping was estimated at a million dollars.

Capt. John McNellis, of the William B. Davock, Pittsbulrgh Steamship Company boat, reported Jerome Mackin, wheelman, and Lars Johnson, watchman, were washed overboard.

Baker Disputes Rancher's Right to Earldom

LONDON, May 18.—(AP.)—The Daily Mail said today that the right of the present Earl of Egmont, known widely as "the Rancher Earl," to his title was being disputed.

A claim to the Earldom has been made by a sexagenarian baker, James William Perceval, living in North London.

It was understood that the present title holder, until a few months ago plain Mr. Perceval, an Alberta farmer, has not yet received any money from the estate and it is unlikely anything will be done until the question of the claim is settled.

Downtown Students Of Pitt Dine Tonight

Judge Richard W. Martin will be the principal speaker tonight at the annual banquet of students in the downtown division of the University of Pittsburgh. The banquet will be held in Hotel Schenley, and Dr. E. A. Holbrook, dean of the schools of engineering and mines, will be toastmaster. Talks also will be made by Chancellor John G. Bowman, A. L. Emery, president of the Downtown Students' Association, and Dr. Vincent W. Lanfear, director of the division.

Verona High Gives Senior Class Play

The Verona High School senior class play, "Ace High," was presented in the high school auditorium last night. The cast included Jean Davis, Viola Beers, Evelyn Elliott, Eunice Rupert, Georgie Davis, Ralph Brady, Charles Myers, Joseph Hartey, George Halowell and Craig Simpson. The play was under the direction of Miss Roma Haines, of the high school faculty.

HOLDERS OF CAR PASSES TO GET WEEKLY AWARDS

Michael Madigan, 86 Wyoming street, North Side, was awarded a street car pass yesterday and is probably watching the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to see if he will be one of the grand weekly award recipients, too.

MICHAEL MADIGAN

The second grand weekly award of $50 will be given to holder of pass No. 68,013 if the pass is presented at the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph offices prior to May 25.

Ten other weekly awards of $5 each will be granted to holders of these blue, No. 20 current weekly passes:

Michael Madigan, who is 13, will continue to watch the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and Pittsburgh Railways Company street car pass campaign. He will see more than $700 given to car riders each week, 25 passes every day, five $5 and five $2 awards daily, and, once every week, one $100 award, one $50, and 10 $5 rewards.

Today's 25 blue No. 20 current passes which will receive a pass good all next week are as follows:

26,781	81,776	49,132	70,982	09,991
79,896	59,454	79,613	17,999	41,987
66,113	87,093	27,918	56,823	76,831

These passes will receive a $2 award if presented at the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph before May 25:

Employes of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and the Pittsburgh Railways Company are not eligible in this campaign.

COURT STUDIES DRY LEGALITY

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 18.—(AP.)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday took under advisement the appeal of Mrs. Marie Bevington, of Sioux City, Ia., in which it was contended that the prohibition law is invalid. The decision probably will be filed at St. Louis, headquarters of the Eighth Circuit.

Mrs. Bevington was convicted in United States District Court at Sioux City of sale of liquor with previous conviction. Her attorneys based their appeal on the contention that the dry law was invalidated by the passage of the Willis-Campbell act.

They argued that decisions of the United States Supreme Court have held that the penalty provisions of the old internal revenue law were repealed by the passage of the Volstead Act. By the same token, according to their claim, the penalty provisions of the Volstead Act were repealed when the Willis-Campbell Act reinstated the penalty provisions of the Internal Revenue Act.

Government counsel argued that the Willis-Campbell Act reinstated only those provisions of the Internal Revenue Act which were not in conflict with the Volstead law.

Andrew J. Volstead, of St. Paul, father of the dry law, was an interested spectator in the courtroom. He told reporters "it is a little late in the game—after 10 years—to begin attacking the dry law."

Students Dry Spies, Court Case Reveals

BOSTON, May 18.—(AP.)—Federal prohibition agents told a judge in Federal court yesterday that two Harvard students had been employed to obtain evidence in liquor cases. The agents said that one student had been in the pay of the government for three or four months last year and that another had been used in a similar capacity.

A petition for forfeiture of an automobile was being heard in court. Maj. Henry E. Goodnough, assistant prohibition administrator, explained outside of court that any person with information that would aid in the enforcement of the dry law would be paid $5 a day for his services.

Cat With Rubber Heart Lives for Several Hours

HALIFAX, N. S., May 18.—(AP.)—A cat equipped with a rubber heart lived for several hours yesterday, Dr. O. S. Gibbs, of Dalhousie University, announced in a lecture at the Nova Scotia Institute of Science. The heart, electrically operated, maintained full action in the feline circulatory system, from which the natural heart had been removed.

Experiments to study the effects of drugs on the system soon wear out the natural heart, Dr. Gibbs said. He expects the rubber organ to prove a good substitute. The operation to replace the heart in the cat took about five minutes.

LENROOT GETS SENATE O. K.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP.)—Irvine Lenroot, former Wisconsin senator, is to be a judge of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Persistent opposition to his nomination was finally overcome yesterday and the Senate voted confirmation.

The vote was 42 to 27 and it came only after seven hours of continuous debate by the Senate in executive session, with Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, continuing to the end the effort he began during the final days of the Coolidge administration to block the appointment.

The nomination of the former Republican senator to the life-time post was transmitted to the Senate by Calvin Coolidge but never was acted upon. President Hoover resubmitted it early in the present session in the face of the open opposition that had become evident.

Senator Norris based his opposition on the former senator's attitude as chairman of the Senate lands committee during the inquiry into he leasing of Teapot Dome naval oil reserve. He also condemned his appearance as an attorney before the Interstate Commerce committee representing power interests shortly after his retirement from the Senate.

During the debate the recurring question whether the doors should be opened arose. A motion to open the doors lost, 38 to 34. A second motion to make that roll call public received a 38 to 36 vote in its favor, but Vice President Curtis ruled a two-thirds majority.

Beaver Evangelistic Campaign Closes

ROCHESTER, May 18.—The Beaver County Kernahan evangelistic campaign, conducted this week by 56 churches of all denominations, closed with a mass meeting in the Rochester Presbyterian Church last night. The Rev. A. Earl Kernahan, director of the campaign, which consisted of personal visits in all sections of the county, presided and reported that the total number of decisions had reached 2,402. The Rev. Frank C. Ramsey, chairman of the committee on arrangements, spoke on "The Meaning of the Campaign to Beaver County," later introducing the Rev. John Shell, Beaver Falls, secretary of the committee on arrangements, who spoke on "Meanings of the Campaign for Church Unity."

Merger Asked for Natrona Churches

A petition was filed in Common Pleas Court for the merger of Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church of Natrona Heights, incorporated in 1926, and St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Natrona, incorporated in 1898. Rev. A. Borstler was named as president of both congregations.

CITY OFFICIAL, 9 OTHERS HELD IN BANK ROBBERY

PINE BLUFF, Ark., May 18.—(AP.)—A city official was at liberty under $25,000 bonds and nine other persons were in jail here today charged with complicity in the holdup of the Peoples' Bank and Trust Company April 28.—The bank was robbed of $20,000 by five unmasked men.

Ralph R. Reed, city attorney of Pine Bluff, charged with being an accessory and receiving stolen property, was the tenth person arrested in connection with the robbery. He was placed in jail yesterday, but late last night bondsmen obtained his release. He will be given a preliminary hearing next Friday.

City and county officers said the warrant for the city attorney's arrest was based on evidence that he conspired with the holdup gang and received $10,000 of the stolen money.

Reed's arrest followed that of three Negroes, on accessory charges yesterday and the recovery of $1,000 in travelers' checks in their possession. Officers said the checks were part of the funds stolen from the bank.

Others in custody are three men recently arrested in New Orleans with $7,000 in cash in money belts they wore. They are alleged to have been among the five who actually staged the robbery. Two men and a woman were arrested in Little Rock the day after the holdup on accessory charges.

The robbers entered the bank at noon, forced employes and customers into the vault and escaped with all the money in sight. Their automobile was later found abandoned several miles from Pine Bluff.

Poppy Day Captains Get Final Orders

Team captains in the annual poppy day drive of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which will be held in Pittsburgh next Saturday, received final instructions at a meeting last night in the office of County Controller Robert G. Woodside in the court house. The day will be observed throughout the United States. There are 47 posts of the organization in Allegheny County.

DE KING KILLING HEARD ON WIRE

AURORA, Ill., May 18.—(AP.)—Robert A. Milroy, attorney for the Joseph DeKing family, told a state legislative committee yesterday that he was talking on the telephone with Mrs. DeKing when she was shot and killed during a dry raid.

Milroy's testimony, in which he told of hearing the shot fired by Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, was among the few bits of evidence heard by the committee which related directly to the slaying.

Representative Michael L. Igoe, of Chicago, a Democrat, criticized the dry Republican organization in the county, and charged Circuit Judge John K. Newhall, who was on the stand, with being the boss of the county Republican machine.

This was denied by Judge Newhall, although he admitted making campaign speeches for George Carbary, the state's attorney.

Igoe sought to show that Judge Newhall controlled selection of a grand jury by controlling the county board of supervisors which picked the jurors. He also sought to show that the supervisors appropriated the funds for the dry investigation of the state's attorney.

Carbary said his office had conducted a large number of raids and that he had no knowledge of the fatal DeKing raid until after it had been carried out.

WIFE MENACED IN RUM EXPOSE

Federal agents today were investigating a complaint made by Mrs. Charles Friedman, of McKeesport, that she had been threatened over the telephone by unidentified persons as a result of the Federal grand jury indictment of a number of McKeesporters. It was on testimony of her husband, now serving a Federal sentence in a prison camp in West Virginia, that many of the indictments were returned.

The seven members of the McKeesport police department and many of the other of the 32 men named defendants in Federal grand jury rum conspiracy indictments have furnished bonds for their appearance for trial. The office of the clerk of court was crowded most of yesterday with defendants and their bondsmen.

Friedman, whose testimony before the grand jury started the probe of alleged liquor racketeering in McKeesport, was ordered returned to the Federal prison camp at Alderson, W. Va., where he is serving a two-year sentence.

Friedman, also indicted in the new true bill, was convicted in a rum conspiracy trial two years ago.

FINAL APPEALS ON TARIFF

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP.)—Tariff suggestions had right of way at the Capitol today, with both branches of Congress in adjournment and only the House Ways and Means Committee Republicans meeting for a final hearing on appeals from members of their party for changes in the schedules they have recommended.

Disagreements over farm relief were sidetracked temporarily, but will be revived Monday by the initial meeting of the Senate and House committees charged with arbitrating the differences between the two chambers on the export debenture section and other points of difference in the bills they passed.

LONG FIGHT SEEN

Of the 10 members of the conference group, only two senators are on record as favoring the debenture proposal as part of the farm bill, and administration leaders are confident that this bitterly contested part of the Senate measure will be eliminated. With other sections also in dispute, however, it is expected to make the negotiations lengthy.

Although the House Ways and Means committeemen announced that today's meeting would be the last to hear complaints against their decisions in the tariff bill, they expect to meet again Monday and Tuesday to decide what changes they will introduce as committee amendments. Their work thus far along this line has given promise of smoothing out difficulties in the Republican ranks which have stood in the way of agreement on a special rule to limit the offering of amendments on the floor by giving privileged status to those emanating from the committee.

SUGAR INCREASE HIT

An early agreement on such a rule is now expected and the bill is likely to be taken up for amendment after Tuesday. Meanwhile the general debate before the week-end adjournment centered chiefly on the sharply contested proposal for an increase in sugar duties, which were described as "unjustifiable and indefensible" in a letter from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to Representative Frear (Rep.), of Wisconsin, which was read into the record by Representative Ruth Baker Pratt (Rep.), of New York. They were defended by Representative Eaton (Rep.), of Colorado.

The Senate, meanwhile, still had the bill to provide for the 1930 census and subsequent reapportionment of the House before it as its "unfinished business."

Dry Agent Owning Still Gets 4 Years

MADISON, W. Va., May 18.—(AP.)—Convicted of possessing a still, J. D. Sullivan, a state prohibition agent, was sentenced to four years' imprisonment in the state penitentiary yesterday by Circuit Court Judge C. M. Ward. A $300 fine also was imposed. Judge Ward granted a 90-day stay of execution to permit Sullivan's counsel to appeal to the Supreme Court. Opie and Ramie Hunter, convicted of ownership of the still, were brought back from the Chillicothe Reformatory for the trial and testified they bought the still from Sullivan.

NORRIS TO RAKE POWER PRESS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 18. — The power trust will have its day in the Senate next Monday, when Senator Norris, (Rep.), of Nebraska, arch foe of the power monopoly, speaks on the disclosures before the Federal Trade Commission of newspaper purchases by the power trust, it was announced today.

The Nebraskan was prevented from making his speech yesterday by the all-day session behind closed doors on the nomination of former Senator Lenroot as a judge of the Customs Court.

Mystery thrown about the activities of three would-be newspaper buyers and financial backers temporarily halted the Federal Trade Commission's power-press investigation yesterday after new disclosures of secret financing.

Chief Counsel Robert E. Healy said he expected to resume hearings some time next week.

MOBILE DEAL UP

Meanwhile the commission will investigate privately the connections of an unnamed Mobile, Ala., man who lent R. B. Chandler $50,000 and is to lend him $50,000 more, to start a new paper in Mobile. Chandler is publisher of the paper, The Mobile Press, which began publication April 15.

Chandler denied categorically on the stand yesterday allegations that the paper had been financed by the Alabama Power Company. He admitted that four of the 37 newspaper stockholders are connected with the Power Company. A fifth is a former Power Company director.

The four subscribed for a total of $12,500 of stock, with Chandler's $100,000 subscription, this would represent far more than half the $195,000 stock issue. Chandler said the man lending him his $100,000 was not connected with any power company.

NAMES MAN IN SECRET

The commission refused to accept this statement without invesigation. After Chandler had persistently refused to disclose the name of his backer, asserting that to do so would subject the backer to "vicious persecution" by rival papers, he accepted a commission proposal to furnish the name in confidence.

The backer will be subpenaed if there appears to be a power company connection, Healy announced. Otherwise, his name will be withheld and an announcement will be made that no such connection has been found.

"I think the whole point of this investigation is to trace this money and see if it's power company money," Healy declared.

At the same time the commission will arrange for testimony by T. M Stevens, Mobile attorney, portrayed in Chandler's testimony as the link between him and the backer who lent him $100,000, and as a key witness regarding other phases of the project.

WITNESS MISSING

A subpena had been issued for Stevens to testify yesterday. He was found to be in Spokane, Wash. Healy said Stevens' law firm had given assurance that he would appear later, and that it was understood he would be here next week. Chairman Edgar A. McCulloch, presiding, added that he thought Stevens had left Mobile before his subpena arrived.

Stevens is attorney for the $600,000,000 International Paper and Power Company at Mobile, Chandler testified. This company has bought large interests in 14 papers and sought to finance the purchase of many more. Stevens has been represented as an attorney also for the Alabama Power Company.

Chandler said Stevens had denied this connection. He said Stevens was the man who interested him in starting the paper, introduced him to the financial backer, "probably prepared the way" for him to obtain the $100,000 loan, and was active in the sale of the newspaper's stock.

4 Indicted in Death Of Boxer After Bout

FAIRMONT, W. Va., May 18.—(AP.)—Four men were indicted an charges of manslaughter in county court here yesterday as an outgrowth of the death of John Securro, Fairmont boxer, who died following a bout with Lonnie McCale of Fairmont here several weeks ago. Securro died of hemmorhage of the brain.

Those indicted were McCale, L. M. Lytten, promoter of the boxing show; Thomas McCafferty, McCale's second, and the referee, whose name has not been ascertained. McCale has been in jail since Securro's death, while anthorities have been unable to locate either Lytton or the referee.

Preacher Indicted In Child Marriage

FAIRMONT, W. Va., May 18.—(AP.)—Three persons, including an Oakland, Md., minister, were indicted by the Marion county grand jury here yesterday on charges of kidnaping a 12-year-old girl who was married to a 30-year-old man at Oakland.

The indictment charged that Porter Kirkwood, 30, of Idamay, took Thelma Emerson, 12, also of Idamay, to Oakland, Md., where they were married by the Rev. C. A. Shilke. An elder sister of the girl, Mrs. Mildred Tapp, also was named on the kidnaping charge.

H. C. White to Talk To Electric League

Harry C. White, author, scientist and philosopher, will speak Monday at noon at the luncheon of the Electric League in the Roosevelt hotel. Mr. White, will relate "The Story of Light." He has been personally acquainted with Thomas A. Edison for years, and will describe the early struggles of the famous inventor.

Body of Blast Victim To Arrive Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY TO OPEN COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—"Will you wear a feather in your cap for a greater Ellwood?"

With this slogan, the opening gun for this city's eighth annual community chest campaign will be fired next Monday. A total of $45,250 is the goal of this year's campaign, which will continue for a week.

The $45,250 is to be apportioned among five local charities—$25,000 for the new addition to the Ellwood City Hospital, $6,000 for maintenance of the hospital, $10,500 for the Community Service League, $1,000 for the American Red Cross, $2,000 for the Boy Scouts, and $750 for the Girl Scouts.

The campaign is sponsored by the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce. H. R. Smith is general chairman, and W. A. Kerr, vice chairman.

The city-wide canvass for subscriptions will be made daily until Saturday by 85 solicitors in charge of the division chairmen.

In order to permit citizens to see with their own eyes what is being done at the hospital, its doors have been opened for a public inspection. Powerful arc lights will illumine the hospital every night during the campaign. A fleet of automobiles have been pressed into service to provide transportation for visitors to the hospital.

SLAYER CALLED 'BACKWARD'

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., May 18.—(AP.)—Actions of Charles Foster, Claysville, Pa., on trial here charged with murder, yesterday were described as "strange" by Dr. McKinnistry, operator of a Washington, Pa., sanitarium, and former employer of the defendant. The Rev. Mr. Durkin, a Presbyterian minister of Foster's home town, described a mental affliction that changed Foster from an unusually intelligent boy of 12 into a backward youth.

Foster is charged with the killing of Martin Parks, alias Mike Baker, of St. Louis. He has based his defense on an insanity plea. The defense closed with five witnesses testifying.

Robert Foster, brother of the defendant, testified that mental ills had affected several members of the family. He said one brother was in an asylum, another brother and a sister had shown suicidal tendencies, and their mother had exhibited extreme nervousness.

California to Give Class Play Thursday

CALIFORNIA, Pa., May 18.—Commencement exercises at California State Teachers College will begin next Thursday with the class play "You and I." The literary contest, an annual feature, will be held Friday night.

Baccalaurate services for the graduation class will be held Sunday, May 26, with the Rev. Dr. Percial H. Barker, of Point Breeze Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, delivering the principal address. Monday, May 27, the annual piano recital will be given. Tuesday the Senior breakfast will be held at 8 a. m. with Class Ivy exercises following. On May 29, commencement exercises will be held with Dr. Leroy A. King, College of Education, University of Pittsburgh, speaking.

Three More Break Out of W. Va. Jail

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., May 18.—(AP.)—Three men escaped from the Upshur county jail here last night, making a total of 12 prisoners who have broken out of the place in the last two weeks. Two prisoners who had previously escaped but were recaptured declined to leave when the others made their getaway last night.

The three who escaped are, Albert Gainer, charged with robbery, and Ervin Stott and William Hamtilon, held in connection with the theft of wire from a mining company. They shattered a bar in a window which had been welded following the escape of nine men a fortnight ago.

Bullet Kills Plant Official, Inquiry On

WHEELING, W. Va., May 18.—(AP.)—Oscar P. McKee, 62, Warwick China company superintendent died of a bullet wound in the head in a hospital here last night. A cornoer's investigation was started.

McKee was found wounded in the street in front of the china plant yesterday. Police said he told them he shot himself accidentally while cleaning an automatic pistol in his office. The weapon was found in his pocket.

RECORD MONEY BILLS SIGNED

HARRISBURG, May 18. — The general appropriation bill allocating $121,474,905.07 of the state's revenue to governmental expenses in the 1929-31 biennium, was signed yesterday by Gov. Fisher.

This is the largest single appropriation bill ever approved by a governor of Pennsylvania.

Special appropriation bills approved by the governor bring the grand total of approved expenditures from the general fund to $192,141,884.14. Funds to be expended from the motor fund, banking fund, securities fund, game fund, fish fund, have been estimated at $147,700,000. Addition of these sums brings the grand total cost of the government of Pennsylvania to approximately $340,000,000 for the biennium.

The grand total is also approximately $109,000,000 more than the grand total actual expenses of government in 1923-25, and $60,000,000 more than the 1927-29 grand total.

The total appropriation for all purposes to schools for mental defectives and feeble-minded were:

Selinsgrove State Colony for Epileptics, $929,200; Laurelton State Village, $666,500; Pennhurst State School, $1,462,400; Polk State School, $1,448,000, and Cumberland Valley institution for defectives, $243,000. The latter provides for a start on construction of the institution and was pared $7,000 by the governor.

The Pennsylvania Training School for Boys at Elwyn, a state-aided institution, was given $420,000.

Other appropriations approved included: Dixmont Hospital, $330,000; Pennsylvania Training School, Morganza, $700,000; Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh, $1,213,000; New Western Penitentiary, Rockview, $868,000.

On the ground that the law of nuisance should not be made the subject of inflexible statutory law, Gov. Fisher vetoed the Daix bill designed to nullify decisions of the Supreme Court establishing the principle that the operation of a public garage in a residential neighborhood is a nuisance.

The governor said in a veto message that if the bill went no further than to nullify the principle he might have approved it but that he objected in that it declared that the courts shall not enjoin the operation of any garage except on proof after actual operation that the manner of operation creates a nuisance in fact.

A bill permitting any assistant district attorney of Lackawanna, Luzerne and Westmoreland counties to enter a grand jury room for presentation of a case was signed.

One third of the state tax on anthracite coal will be lopped off June 1, and the commodity freed entirely of the tonnage tax two years from that date, by virtue of Gov. Fisher's signature yesterday of the Heaton repealer. The governor vetoed the bill by Representative Jones calling for immediate repeal.

CLUBS PROTEST ON TOWN HALL

Further protests against locating the proposed Town Hall in the Oakland district today were being received at the office of the Allegheny County Town Hall Association, 635 Smithfield street, James C. Chaplin, chairman, said. The association is in favor of a downtown site.

Many clubs in the East End have vigorously opposed the building of the hall in that section, he said. Formal resolutions of protest have been made by the Squirrel Hill Board of Trade, the Wilkinsburg Civic Club, Wilkinsburg Thursday Club, Women's Club of East Liberty, Women's Club of Swissvale and the Women's Club of Aspinwall.

In an individual protest, William K. Johnson, an attorney, who owns a home in the Shadyside district, declared that present property owners in the Schenley Farms district were sold lots with a written provision contained in the deeds that nothing would be permitted which would detract from the value of of their property and from its desirability as a permanent place of residence.

MIAMI-BUENOS AIRES AIR TRIPS IN 80 HOURS TO BEGIN

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—J. T. Trippe, president of Pan-American Airways, Inc., has announced plans for 80-hour air transport service, for both passengers and mail, between Miami, Fla., and Buenos Aires. He also revealed his company is laying plans for 24-hour service to the Panama Canal Zone, 50-hour service to Peru and 60-hour service to Chile.

His announcement was supplemented by a statement yesterday by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, chairman of the company's technical committee, who said:

"Possibility of establishing this service and its effectiveness depend entirely upon perfected airways and the development of faster equipment. These mean good landing facilities and machine shops at principal points, and the extension of radio service for the transmission of navigation to pilots en route.

"All of these requisites are covered in the construction program of the company which is going ahead as rapidly as thoroughness and careful attention to detail permit."

Col. Lindbergh, who said he was planning a trip to South America at a date not yet determined, explained that two routes would be open for mail and passenger service between Miami and Buenos Aires, one over the west coast from Miami to Chile and then across the Andes to the Argentine capital, the other over the east coast of South America from Miami across the West Indies and the Guianas into Brazil and Argentina.

Memorial Proposed To College Founder

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 18.—Committees representing the Presbyteries of Pittsburgh and Washington and the Chartiers Church, near here, at meeting here, unanimously decided to report favorably on the erection at the church of a memorial to the Rev. Dr. John McMillan, pioneer preacher and educator, founder 127 years ago of Jefferson College, and organizer of the Chartiers congregation, the first Presbyterian Church in the United States west of the Allegheny Mountains.

The report will be presented to the two Presbyteries at their next meeting and the erection of the memorial is expected to be ordered.

WHIPPING GIRL OF 18 CHARGED

Frank Pugliese and his wife, of 206 Penn street, Sharpsburg, were to be arraigned in the court of Justice of the Peace Ralph N. Parkhill in Sharpsburg today on charges of abusing their daughter, Mary, 18. They were arrested last night by agents of the Humane Society, after neighbors had reported the girl was being continually whipped because she sought her own male companions.

A constable who went to the home to serve the warrant reported he found Alfred Pugliese, a brother, beating the girl with his fists. A warrant was sworn out for him by the constable, who expected to serve it today.

Man Dies as Spark Sets Clothes Afire

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 18.—Oscar Lee Miller, 35, was killed while at work yesterday at the plant of the Sharon Steel Hoop Company, when a piece of spark falling from above fell on his shoulder and ignited his grease-covered clothing. He rushed to a tank of water and jumped in, but inhaled flames, which later caused his death.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Ogontz Graduates Make Ready for 'Aviation Garden Party'

OGONTZ graduates are forming committees and starting work in earnest for their "aviation garden party." From all accounts, this is going to be one of the outstanding social events of June—it is set for June 14, you know—and certainly it will have an attractive setting in the grounds of the Arthur E. Braun home in Warwick terrace, Morewood Heights. Mrs. Braun is president of the organization and is general chairman for the party, too.

Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl, who has just retired as president of the Ogontz group here, and Mrs. William Thaw II are in charge of the invitations, while the tickets are being handled by a committee headed by Mrs. James Graves, chairman, and Mrs. Harrison Thomas, vice chairman.

Mrs. William Watson Smith is heading the hostess committee, and in charge of arrangement of the refreshments is a committee which is headed by Miss Helen Hunter, chairman, and Mrs. William Duff, vice chairman. Mrs. John Hunter is chairman of the dance committee and Mrs. Donald Baum is vice chairman.

The committee in charge of the entertainment is headed by Mrs. W. A. Duckham, and her vice chairman is Miss Ainslee Bennett. And the music chairman is Mrs. Oliver Smith, with Mrs. Paul Griffith as vice chairman. Mrs. Philip Chess is publicity chairman.

SEWICKLEY folks enjoyed an interesting evening last night when the Sewickley Child Health Association held a Poverty Night Club in the Dorian Club. All the characteristic "night club" touches were there. The tables were ranged around the dance floor and were covered with red and white and green and white gingham clothes, with candles held in bottle-necks. About the walls were hung huge black and white silhouettes, and in the corners of the room were smilax and ferns.

The girls who served as waitresses wore gay-tinted frocks with bright scarfs and berets, and, in chef's white cap and apron behind the "bar," were Hanson Thomas and William Galbraith.

There was general dancing between the cabaret acts. One of the feature events on the program was the "Dance of the Mystery Girls," danced by William Rose, wearing a scarlet domino and mask, and Mrs. Frederick Gwinner, III, in black domino and mask. James West Arrott, III, was master of ceremonies and there were numbers by Faber Downey, Robert H. McCague, David Chaplin and Ira Fitch Brainard.

Among the girls who served as waitresses were Phoebe Jane Campbell, Shirley Campbell, Alice Crutchfield, Frances Gott, Barbara and Rachel Merrill, Ruth Pitcairn, Virginia Richardson, Peggy Townsend, Mary-Wells Van Pelt and Mary-Thorn White.

Girl Reserve Club Carnival Tonight

SIDE SHOWS, acrobatic stunts, balloons and everything else necessary to make it realistic have been procured for the carnival which the Girls' Rerserve Clubs of the Central Council will give tonight in Central Branch, Young Women's Christian Association. The main show, side shows and food concessions will be in the gymnasium where the several vaudeville acts and acrobatic stunts will be shown. The auditorium is reserved for the presentation of two plays and for dancing. Zona Gale's play, "The Neighbors," is to be given by Dormont upperclass girls, Jean Mingis, Ruth Harmon, Dorothy Kaufman, Loretta Droz, Ruth Root, Jane Wright, Ruth Doum and Mary Llinelly. Betty Goddard and Annette Elliott are in charge of properties. Margaret Nichol has cotsumes and Betty Preller and Ruth Root are directing. The second play is "Mad-Mad," and will be given by Dormont freshmen including Evelyn Meenen, Jean Kelley, Harriet Chreiman, June Williams and Jean Stitt. Rather an interesting little sidelight in connection with the presentation of the Gale play is the royalty payment—the planting of a tree, a debt which the girls paid this week. The proceeds of the carnival are to be used in sending delegats to the national Girl Reserve conference at Kiskiminetas Springs in August.

FORMER MEXICAN PRESIDENT NOW SINGING TEACHER IN HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY HERZOG.

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, May 18.

ABOUT a year ago, Adolfo De La Huerta, former president of Mexico, moved to Hollywood with his family. Talking pictures burst into celluloid and flicker-ites suddenly rushed to the nearest singing teacher to learn the noise of warbling. Huerta, it seems, is an excellent tenor with a tift for teaching. He has a number of pupils, including Lois Wilson, Lena Malena, Andres De Beguarola and Robert Guzman. Seggy Gotz goes to him for supervision when he has a theme song to "mike." He, incidentally, will be used in John Barrymore's current sinema, "General Crack." The song is casually yclept "General Crack's Marching Song." The cracks, however, must be only in the title.

A financial villain has nipped one of the colony's best megaphoners. To wit, Roland West. Mr. West is a lad who produces a picture yearly for United Artists. His latest being "Alibi," he would produce at least two BUT The Income Tax!

Roland West

Roland's sinemas have a cheery way of clicking. Inasmuch as he receives a comfortable salary as well as a percentage of his productions, the profits reach eyebrowish proportions. A great deal is absorbed by the income tax. I understand after one earns a certain staggering sum the tax practically gobbles a third of it.

Why should Mr. West over-work for the joy of giving? Thank you, he is quite content with his picture a year. Which is a pity, for the silver sheet hasn't a wealth of directorial riches.

Paints House As Sales Trick

THE real estate theme song for this neck o' the woods may accurately be entitled: "It's Always Buying Time in Hollywood."

A flicker-ite, who later came to learn this (even as you and I!) purchased a home in the Toluca Lake section. Came a day when he desired to sell. He couldn't. Eventually, he simply had to get out from under, so he pondered, cogitated, and ruminated. Ah, ha, an idea!

He painted his home a brilliant red. It was an optical sore point, all right. The neighbors stopped, gasped, and sputtered. He smiled. It was his house. He'd paint it any color he darn pleased. Murmurs of mutiny among the neighbors. They'd move. They'd sleep in a pup tent in the middle of Hollywood boulevard by golly, before they'd live in proximity to that red monstrosity.

Lowell Sherman

The realtors of the vicinity in desperation rallied to act. They decided to buy the house. To clip off another paragraph, they did buy it—at the owner's price! (Idea donated gratis.)

When a director is ready to shoot a scene he has rehearsed, he usually calls, "Turn 'em over." The assistant orders: "Give 'er the A. C." (The alternating current that synchronized silent film with sound tract.) The scene is then taken.

Alan Crosland, director of "General Crack," called the customary "Turn 'er over" command, whereupon Lowell Sherman, broiling in his heavy costume of Emperor Leopold, remarked dryly:

"Thank you, Mr. Crosland. We are done on one side."

Moran and Mack Amuse-O-Gram

MORAN & MACK, the Two Black Crows, were reminiscing over old times.

Mack: Yeah, I sho was washed up with that guy.

Mack: Well, not exactly. You see, he knew about it 'fore I did.

SCREENALITIES: THELMA TODD began work 'tother morn at 9 a. m. in Billie Dove's flick, "Her Private Life." (Erstwhile monikered "Declasse"). Thelma finished work at midnight! The merciless incadescent lights burnt her eyes and the following day Thelma walked around with dark glasses. What price career is correct. CHARLIE FARRELL has a sailing ship. Months ago, JACQUELINE LOGAN was doing a screen Prudence Penny and assembling a cook book. Not any more. But, tut tut, the reason is certainly not what you are thinking. BEN LYON, RICHARD "SKEETS" GALLAGHER, and a few friends of his accompanied ROSCOE TURNER on a flight to Reno 'tother day. Takes six hours in a plane and and overnight plus in a train. WILLIAM HAINES, DIRECTOR HARRY BEAUMONT, ANITA PAGE, and other members of the "Speedway" cast are en route to Minneapolis. Anita's mother went with her. Anita's mother is always with her. I wonder if there can be anything in these newspaper stories about Hollywood. And —that's all.

Jacqueline Logan

HANDS UP! :-: AGE AND YOUTH :-: MODERN

Introducing Bobby Ullman, godchild of the late Rudolph Valentino. The boy is making his debut in a United Artist talk film.

MANY TALK PICTURES COMING

The George Sharp Players will present the mystery play, "The Skull," in the Pitt next week. Pauline MacLean, Mabel Kroman, Kenneth Daigneau and Gus Forbes will be among the principals.

Seats go on sale in the Nixon Monday for the engagement of "Three Cheers," which will play in that theater the week of May 27. Dorothy Stone and Will Rogers are featured.

"Alibi," all-talkie, based on the stage drama, "Nightstick," will open on the Penn screen Monday. The stage show will mark the local debut of Wesley Eddy as master of ceremonies.

PICKFORD TALKIE

Mary Pickford's all-talkie, "Coquette," will be seen and heard in the Aldine next week. The production is the movie version of the Helen Hayes' stage success.

Walter Huston, star of "Gentlemen of the Press," all-talkie coming to the Stanley Monday, served his apprenticeship on the vaudeville stage. For five years he has been prominent in Broadway dramas.

NEW SHOWS TODAY!

"The Desert Song," music and talk movie version of the well known stage operetta, opens an engagement in the Grand today. John Boles has a featured role.

"Close Harmony," song, dance and talk picture, opens in the Regent today. Charles Buddy Rogers and Nancy Carroll are in the cast.

Today also sees a new picture in the Enright. It is Cecil B. DeMille's "The Godless Girl." There will be a new Dick Powell stage show.

DRYS BURN OFF SAFE DOOR

Suspicious when the alleged owner of a pool room at 1901 Fifth avenue slammed the door of a safe and turned the combination, prohibition agents last night burned off the door with an acetylene torch. They reported finding 44 pints of bonded whisky. James J. Griffin, alleged owner, was arrested.

Denied admittance to a club at 6367 Penn avenue agents chopped down the door and arrested Bert Edwards, alleged bartender. A small quantity of liquor was reported seized.

Three alleged wildcat breweries were reported raided by the agents. They arrested Lem Zorn in a saloon at 3024 Carson street, Louis Nervo in a building at 1144 Penn avenue, and George Rodovic in a saloon at 121 Hawkins avenue, Rankin. Liquor was reported found in each place.

William R. Renaud was arrested when agents stopped his car at Seventh and Webster avenues and reported finding 40 gallons of moonshine. Steve and Mary Zlaski were arrested in a raid on a store at 1630 East Ohio street, and Mary Russo was taken into custody during a raid on a building at 15 Joseph street. Liquor was reported found in each place.

Drinking Crusade Against Dry Act Peeves Wife

CHICAGO, May 18.—(AP.)—Charley Zack's one-man crusade against the Volstead act finally has exhausted the patience of Mrs. Zack, who has asked for a divorce.

She said Zack was abstemious when they were married in 1920, a few days before the prohibition act became effective. With the law in force, however, Zack promptly announced himself as exceedingly peeved. He informed his wife, her bill declares, that he "knew his rights, and that nobody could tell him what he could drink."

"I am going to drink steadily," the then abstemious Zack was reported by his wife as saying, "until this prohibition law is abolished."

REPARATIONS CRISIS NEAR

PARIS, May 18.—(AP.)—Tuesday was designated as the time when the experts on reparations will reach the crisis in their deliberations.

One of the experts, who preferred to remain anonymous, said today:

"We shall know about Tuesday evening if there is to be a rupture or an agreement. If an agreement is possible our work will continue another 10 days."

Meanwhile the German reservations to acceptance of annuity figures proposed by Owen D. Young, American president of the reparations conference, loomed as increasingly liable to prove the rock upon which the conference may break up.

Mather Mine Blast Year Ago Recalled

WAYNESBURG, Pa., May 18.—Tribute to the memory of the 195 miners who lost their lives in the Mather mine blast on May 19, 1928, will be paid by ministers of the Jefferson and Mather churches Sunday, the first anniversary of the tragedy.

ACCORD DIVIDES TACNA, ARICA

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP.)—Tacna and Arica are to be divided. After 46 years of international controversy, Chile has agreed to return Tacna to Peru while retaining Arica.

The agreement was reached through direct negotiations made possible by the resumption of diplomatic relations between the two governments last year at the suggestion of former Secretary Kellogg.

As announced by President Hoover, not as arbiter but at the request of the two governments, the agreement does not mention the demand for a route to the sea which has been pressed by Bolivia, landlocked since the Chilean victory in the war of the Pacific which lost Tacna to Peru.

Bolivia and Peru were allies in that contest, and the announcement of the agreement between Chile and Peru brought a statement from the Bolivian legation that the questions involved were still "far from settled."

Gillespie Memorial To Aid Carnegie Art

As a memorial to the late David Lindsay Gillespie, a fund of $10,000, payable in annual installments, has been made to the Patrons Art Fund of Carnegie Institute for the purchase of paints, paintings and other works of art. The subscription was made jointly by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Lindsay Gillespie. The fund was started by the late Willis F. McCook and now has 18 memberships.

Policeman Appeals Six Months' Sentence

Policeman John DeGrange, 5426 Penn avenue, formerly assigned to the North Side Police Station, was free today on $1,000 capias bail after taking an appeal to the Supreme Court from a sentence of six months to jail and $50 fine imposed upon him yesterday by visiting Judge J. Lawrence Hildebrand, of Lawrence County, who at the same time refused him a new trial. DeGrange was found guilty upon complaint of an eight-year-old Reddour street girl.

Lindy Pays $1,200 For Wedding Outfit

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—The New York American says today that Col. Lindbergh has his wedding outfit and that it cost $1,200. It includes evening clothes and Tuxedo, cutaway, four street suits and a black overcoat.

North Side Girl, 9, Attacked by Dog

Ruth Spohn, 9, of 915 West Diamond street, was bitten by a dog in front of her home yesterday. She was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital, where the wound was cauterized and then removed to her home. Police notified Elizabeth Gerser, 902 West Diamond street, owner of the dog, to tie up the animal for observation.

Boys Find Pistol, One Shot in Play

Peter Vakera, 9, of 607 Forward avenue, was in the Homeopathic Hospital today as the result of being shot yesterday by a revolver with which he and Michael Elash, 14, of 603 Forward avenue, were playing. The Elash boy, who was turned over to the Juvenile Court, said he found the weapon in a field.

ST. MARY'S GIRLS SET RECORD IN RADIO DRIVE

The latest school to take part in the Sun-Telegraph-Stanley-Warner Brothers' theaters free radio campaign has upset all previous records for speed.

St. Mary's commercial high school, Webster avenue, a parochial institution for girls, has been working for a radio for just one week.

In that time, 116 new 13-week orders have been secured by the girls. Sister Mary Fabian, principal, says St. Mary's will undoubtedly go over the top early in the week.

With only 107 girls now in the school, the average number of orders is over one for every student.

Only eight girls have so far obtained over one order apiece, and only two, Frances Golden and Catharine McKeever, have obtained three.

This Atwater Kent No. 53 8-tube radio set with electro-dynamic loud speaker self-contained is exciting favorable comment wherever it is installed in this campaign.

To obtain the set, 125 new 13-week orders for the Sun-Telegraph must be obtained. To make the supply of order blanks general throughout the district, Haller Baking company, United Laundries, and Donahoe's are including them in all delivery packages.

These subscription blanks may also be obtained from any Stanley-Warner Brothers' theater or from the Sun-Telegraph.

Texas Guinan Loses Suit for $25,000

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 18.—(AP.)—Texas Guinan, New York night club hostess, yesterday lost a Superior Court suit for $25,000 which she claimed was due from the West Coast Theaters for use of her name during a contracted week's appearance at one of its Los Angeles vaudeville houses last October.

Under the same ruling the defendant concern's cross complaint asking $1,500 for alleged breach of contract by Miss Guinan was dismissed. The suits were the outgrowth of Miss Guinan's inability, because of alleged illness, to make her contracted appearances.

Kennywood Offers Dancing and Circus

The Playboys, dance band under the direction of Izzy Cervonne, is now at Kennywood Park for an engagement of six weeks. They will play in the dance pavilion tonight. The park is now open daily and Sunday, the picnic season having opened last Thursday. The Dutton Circus is playing an engagement of 17 days in the park.

National Park Open Today and Sunday

The National Amusement Park, Freeport road, between Aspinwall and Blawnox, is open. New rides and devices have been installed. For dancing tonight, the Royal Ambassador Orchestra will play from 8:30 until midnight. The park also will be open Sunday.

TURF CLASSIC NOW ANY HORSE'S RACE

MONTHS of speculation, dope-delving and form studying in horse-racing circles will find an answer before nightfall in the result of the Kentucky Derby.. The arrival of the day that is to be featured in the sport realm by the fifty-fifth running of the famous classic finds this blue ribbon of the American turf shaping up as the most open race in recent years. Even a race follower who professes to believe that a certain entry of his choice stands out beyond all the rest deems it advisable to qualify his predictions with a flock of "ifs" and "buts."

Mack Garner.

Blue Larkspur has ruled as the popular favorite, perhaps, firstly because that horse appears to have a lot of class and secondly because a Bradley entry is always to be feared in a Kentucky Derby according to one type of dopester. But as the day of the race drew near, the fates appeared to be lining up against Bradley. First, Blue Larkspur lost his special trainer, Dick Thompson, because the latter was stricken with appendicitis, and then in the drawing for positions yesterday the Bradley horse drew the outside place.

PERHAPS the bad breaks for Blue Larkspur will not extend into the race itself, and Jockey Mack Garner may succeed in piloting the horse to victory, but as a general proposition the Bradley starter doesn't look as promising for first place this afternoon as he did a few days ago.

But what horse among the others entered is most likely to win out if Blue Larkspur does not come up to original expectations is just as uncertain as the form of the Bradley colt himself. Karl Eitel, Clyde Van Dusen, Naishapur, Voltear, Bay Beauty, Doris, Minotaur, Essare, Windy City, possibly some others—they've all got a chance. It's any horse's race.

NOT ONLY was Manager Bush's action in dropping Paul Waner to sixth place in the Pirate batting order warranted by the continued batting slump of the right fielder, but it proved a helpful move that sewed up the game for the Buccaneers yesterday.

Possibly the discovery that he was losing caste served to wake up the elder Waner. In any event, he swung more like his old self when he came up in the seventh inning than at any previous time this season, and his ringing double drove in three runs that put the game on ice. Perhaps that wallop in the pinch, his most opportune blow of the year, will help to pull Paul out of the slump that has cost his team more than one ball game this spring.

Paul Waner.

THE combined efforts of two such experienced left-hand pitchers as Jess Petty and Fred Fussell have resulted in the grand total of one game won against three lost for Pittsburgh up to date, not to mention Thursday's affair in which Petty was batted off the hill again but escaped being charged with the defeat. The club's other southpaw, Larry French, 21 years old and an obscure rookie when the season began, has turned in the exact opposite of those figures. Single-handed, he has won three games and lost one.

THAT shows how little any one can tell about baseball values in the spring. Petty, counted upon as an ace, has been hammered off the knoll in four out of five starts and has won only a single game. Fussell has been used only for relief purposes. Yet French, fresh out of the minors, and who lost six games more than he won for Portland last year, steps in and wins a ranking second only to Burleigh Grimes as the most valuable hurler on the club.

The young southpaw has defeated New York, Brooklyn and St. Louis in a row, and the only defeat charged against him was suffered when he went in as a relief pitcher at St. Louis on April 29 after an injury to Grimes. He has taken part in seven games thus far and all around looks like one of the best young pitchers of the year.

WALTER MILLER'S feat of pitching 26 runless innings in succession for Cleveland has brought a number of queries as to how closely he approached the major league records for scoreless hurling.

Miller did not get even half way to the best standing mark, which is 56 innings without allowing a run, established by Walter Johnson, of Washington, from April 10 to May 14, 1913. The National League record is 44 straight innings, set by Ed Reulbach, of Chicago, from September 17 to October 3, 1908.

Walter Johnson.

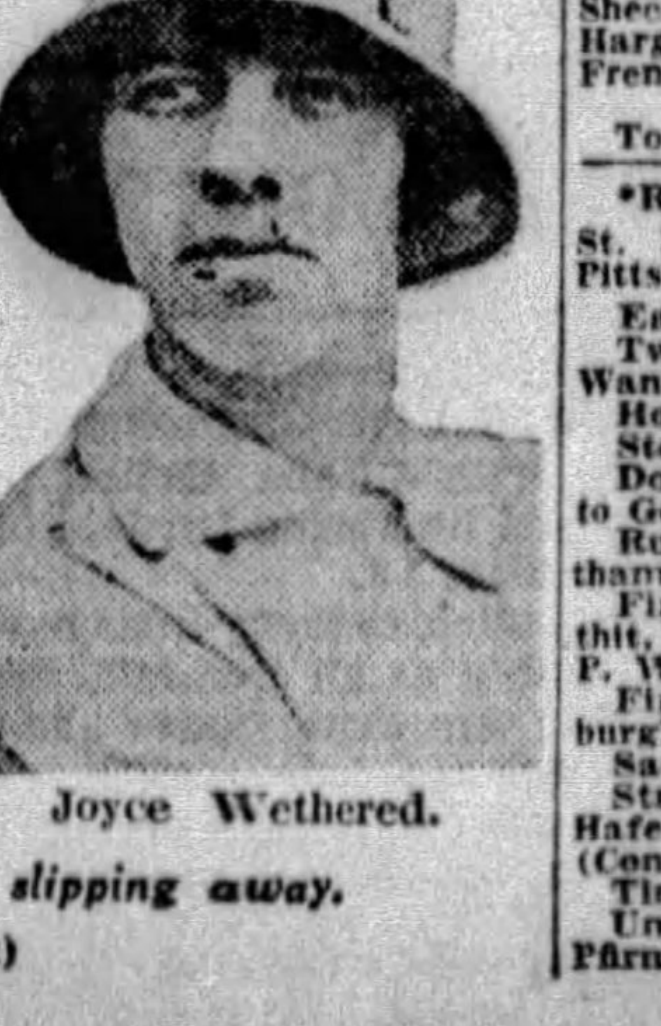
MILLER did not even equal the world series record, which is 27 straight innings in one series, or three full shutout games, pitched by Christy Mathewson, of the Giants, against the Athletics in 1905. The work of the Cleveland southpaw this spring has been impressive, however, even though he did not succeed in cracking any records. In four straight games he lost to Chicago, 2 to 1, defeated Washington, 1 to 0, defeated Philadelphia, 9 to 0, and lost to St. Louis, 1 to 0. From this it will be seen that though Miller failed to break a record in one direction he came pretty close to doing so in another, as it isn't often that a pitcher holds his opponents to only three runs in four straight full games and yet gets only an even break out of it—two won and two lost.

THE conclusion of the series with the Cardinals today will not bring a respite to the Pirates. There will be 13 other tough games dead ahead of them with the western clubs, the strongest in the league apart from the Giants.

Manager Bush will take his crew away tonight for a string of three contests in Chicago, starting tomorrow, returning on Wednesday for four meetings with the Reds here. A visit to St. Louis for three games will follow, and then the Bruins will be met at Forbes Field three times before the Eastern clubs arrive.

INJURIES to players continue to add to Donie Bush's troubles around the midway in the Pirate lineup. Sparky Adams suffered an injury to one of his fingers on Thursday, but said nothing about it. Yesterday the digit was hurt again.

As a result, Adams will be out of the lineup today, Bartell going back to short. Grantham will be kept at second base, with Comorosky in left field.



Joyce Wethered.

ONCE again American girls have failed in an attempt to bring the women's British golf championship to this country, the only British golf title that has never been won by a representative of Uncle Sam. But there is an extraordinary obstacle that explains it all—the woman golfer who plays like a man. In Joyce Wethered England unquestionably has the greatest woman golf player that ever lived, and as long as she continues in her present playing form there will be little danger of the title slipping away.

PIRATES CLOSE SERIES WITH CARDINALS

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

Dick Bartell, peppery Pirate infielder, who was forced out of the game last Saturday when hit in the face by a hard-hit grounder during the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game in Philadelphia, will be back at his familiar post at shortstop at Forbes Field this afternoon when the Corsairs wind up a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Bartell will bat in the lead-off position. George Grantham will continue at second base, while Comorosky will perform in left field, Sparky Adams going back to the bench.

The peppery Pirate infielder, although receiving a bad gash in his lip as a result of being struck by a ball off Fresco Thompson's bat last Saturday, has recovered rapidly and announced himself fit to play against the Cardinals this afternoon.

Larry French comes like a cool breeze on the desert to Manager Donie Bush of the Pirates. With many of his so-called first-string pitchers floundering, the Pittsburgh pilot placed his dependence on the kid lefthander from Portland and Larry is coming through like a star.

As a result of French's cleancut triumph over the Cardinals in the second game of the series, the Pirates today were in a good mood as they prepared to take on the

Fernandez Stops Singer in Third

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—Ignacio Fernandez, game little brown man from the Philippines, scored a sensational knockout over Al Singer, New York featherweight idol in the third round of a scheduled 10-round match in Madison Square Garden last night. Fernandez finished Singer with a right to the chin after being fouled several times in the second session.

Gorilla Jones, Negro welterweight, from Akron, O., continued his winning streak by scoring a peculiar technical knockout over Izzy Grove, of New York, in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round match. Grove was temporarily blinded by a light blow and staggered to his corner, refusing to continue.

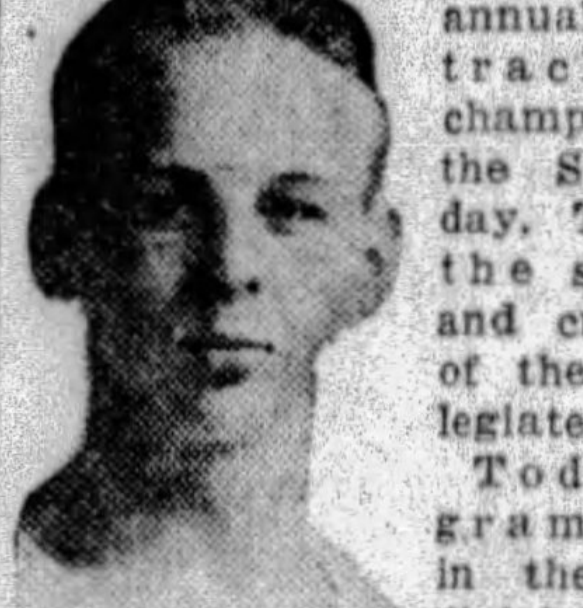
RIOT ENDS GRAYS' GAME

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—The American Negro League game between the Homestead Grays and Hilldale of Darby broke up in a riot at the end of the ninth inning here last evening with the teams tied at 6 all.

BIG FOUR STARS COMPETE FOR TITLE HERE

By JESS CARVER.

The Blue and Gold of Pitt and West Virginia will blend with the Black and Red of Wash-Jeff and the Plaid of Carnegie Tech in the annual Big Four track and field championships in the Stadium today. The meet is the strawberries and cream event of the day's collegiate menu.



Russ Smith

Today's program, especially in the tri-state district, is one well worth while. While the stars of the Big Four are competing here, Geneva and Bethany will pit their squads against each other at Bethany; Grove City will entertain Allekheny at Grove City, Waynesburg meets Wesleyan, and interscholastic carnivals will be held at Greensburg, State College and West Virginia. The latter affair will have the state championship for its plum.

W. VA. DEFENDS TITLE

West Virginia's varsity squad will put the Big Four championship on the block here in the stadium. The Mountaineers wrested the honor from Pitt last year, winning the title with a 4½-point margain. Pitt is a heavy favorite to regain the title, which it won on the occasion of the first meet in 1927.

Competition in the sprints, the pole vault, the hurdles and the broad jump are expected to feature today's meet. Pete Bowen, Pitt crack dash man, will attempt to win the 100, 220 and 440. He will be furnished with stern opposition by Waggoner and Ruck, of West Virginia; Hamilton, of Wash-Jeff, and Capt. Red Kennedy and Nease of Carnegie. In the quarter-mile, he'll have Walker, of Wash-Jeff; Montgomery, of West Virginia, and Nease, of Tech to beat. Montgomery is the defending Big Four champ and record holder.

In the hurdles, Ed Knoblock, another Panther ace, will make a gallant attempt to win both the high and low timber races. He'll find Russ Smith, Wash-Jeff captain and present low hurdles champion, a tough man to beat in the lows and Maxwell, of West Virgnia, and McFarlan, of Tech, barring his path in the highs.

BOWEN, EAST'S HOPE

A triple triumph for Bowen today will just about clinch Pete's claim to being the leading sprinter of the East and hope of the Atlantic seaboard in the comng I. C. A. A. A. A. meet.

Records will be heavily shelled in at least seven of the events. Pickard, of Pitt, will, in all probabilities, shatter his own pole vault mark of 12 feet 6 inches, set last year. Utterback, the Panther Negro star, will try for new marks in

ESCAPING KAYO, DAVIES BEATS GRANDE

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

A squat little, coffee-colored Filipino with a rushing style and a solid punch in either fist and answering to the rather intriguing name of Frisco Grande had wee Willie Davies, of Charleroi, one of the veterans among the top-flight flyweights, about as close to a knockout in the Moose Temple ring last night as Willie ever has been, but Willie wriggled out of the tight spot, and, with his superior generalship, slashing left hand, choppy right-hand punching to the head and body at close quarters and superior speed afoot, came back to canter away with the unanimous decision of the judges and referee at the end of the 10 rounds.

Grande, who hails from Buffalo and gave Willie a tough fight at New Castle several weeks ago, looked like a barrel of high explosive during the first two rounds as he chased Willie all around the ring, throwing punches with both fists. Willie stabbed with his left on the run and grabbed clinches along the ropes and tried his best to smother the rain of blows. He wasn't entirely successful and was shaken up by a solid left hook early in the opening session. Grande's aggressivens and scoring gave him the round.

WILLIE KNOCKED DOWN

The second round started as the first had ended, with the Filipino forcing Davies before him. Suddenly Davies halted to stand his ground and trade punches. A left hit him on the chin and he went down heavily in his own corner for a clean knockdown. He was groggy, but fighting to clear the cobwebs from his brain and instinctively struggling to get up almost before he settled on the floor. Grabbing for the ropes and floundering about, he gave a perfect imitation of Leon Errol. Referee Jack Henderson waved Grande back and began to count. All the while Davies continued the fight to gain control over his wobbling legs. He finally made the grade with the aid of the ropes, while the ringsiders were pleading with him to take a long count.

Once up, Willie sagged and lurched and reeled drunkenly out to midring to meet his heavy-set Oriental foe. From his corner the slant-eyed Grande rushed to finish him, swinging both fists. Once again he drove Davies before him and Willie had all he could do to ride with the punches and stall until he could regain his equilibrium. Finally he weathered the storm and began to box. A clinch followed, and, coming out of it, he nailed Grande with a right to the point of the chin that started Frisco toward the floor. The bell rang a moment later.

MAKES HARD RALLY

That was the last round Grande won. Fully recovered, Davies came out of his corner for the third round intent on boxing and taking no further chances with the rushing, winging Filipino. In and out and around he dodged and bobbed, snapping his left solidly to Grande's flat nose and then peppering him with rights in close.

THOUSANDS SET FOR DERBY

By JACK MALONEY, Staff Correspondent.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—Derby Day!

Crowds—thousands from all parts of the United States invading Kentucky.

As post time nears, a few stragglers are coming in—many afoot, hitch-hiking, "riding the rods," or in any other way they can get here—all to pay tribute to the thoroughbred who is first to flash across the finish line in the fifty-fifth running of the American turf classic at Churchill Downs.

They are drawn as by a magnet—lowly swipes and track hangers-on rubbing shoulders with financial giants. The cream of the nation's

BLUE LARKSPUR FAVORED TO COP CLASSIC

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—(AP.)—A record field of 26 3-year-olds, pick of the East and West, North and South, is named to start in the Kentucky Derby, which will be run today for the fifty-fifth time since Aristides, the "Little Red Horse," romped home a winner in 1875.

The field outnumbers by four the previous record, made last year, when Reigh Count, flying the colors of Mrs. John D. Hertz, proved the best of an array of 22 thoroughbreds in the race through one mile and a quarter of mud.

Experts doubt that all those named actually will answer the bugle call to the post, somewhere around 5 o'clock Central Standard time, this evening. The weather will be a deciding factor, and if the prediction of showers is fulfilled, thereby slowing up the track, as many as a half-dozen horses may be scratched.

75,000 AT SCENE

Rain or shine, however, fully 75,000 spectators, representing the chivalry and beauty, the wealth and fashion of the turf world, as

Last year's winner—Reigh Count, owned by Mrs. John D. Hertz, of Chicago.

BRITONS BOOKED HERE

At A meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Soccer Football Association last night, it was decided that the Preston North End Football Club would be brought to Pittsburgh next Saturday. The English club will meet Heidelberg, National amateur and Western Pennsylvania champs, at the Duquesne University grounds. Kickoff will be at 3:30 o'clock.

LOCALS AT DERBY

Some 500 Pittsburghers will be among the thousands of spectators at the Kentucky Derby at Louisville this afternoon. More than 200 of these went in the annual Derby Special train, leaving the city Thursday night, while others went in regular trains and by automobile.

SAYLOR TO BOX BRIGNOLIA ON BOWL CARD

Buck McTiernan of Swissvale, is off the opening card of the Meyers Brothers' Bowl in North Braddock, according to announcement by Jules Beck, matchmaker of the new arena, which will be thrown open to the public next Thursday night with Benny Bass meeting Steve Smith in the 10-round main bout.

Inability of the promoters to have McTiernan's manager, Bunny Buntach, agree to an opponent selected by them at an increased sum after the boxing commission had officially frowned on Bobby Green, of Cumberland, as a suitable opponent for the young star, caused the club finally to drop McTiernan as one of the principals in the eight-round semi-final and match Young Saylor, of Charleroi, and Larry Brignolia, of Erie, for this number.

McTiernan's manager refused to let Buck meet either of these men, figuring he is not yet sufficiently ripe in experience to risk his future against such seasoned opponents.

The Bowl card now is complete, for Young Nanci, of Swissvale, has been matched to box Johnny Haggerty, of Lawrenceville, in the second bout, and Ken Hargraves, of New Kensington, will oppose Jack O'Banyon, of Clairton, in the opening event.

An open-air amateur boxing show of seven bouts will be staged on the Avalon High School field this evening under the auspices of Marne Post No. 109, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the benefit of the home recently purchased by the post.

THOUSANDS AT DERBY SCENE

Just to see a horse race.

But to them it is THE horse race. Twenty-six starters were scheduled to face the barrier in the entry list announced yesterday. Some may be withdrawn. Some have no chance to win—and their trainers admit it. But they'll start simply to have their owners' colors paraded to the post.

Others feel that their derby candidates have an outside chance, and are starting them with a prayer for a "break" in racing luck.

A few stables will start their hopefuls because friends backed them in the winter books, and the owners was to give them a run for their money, hoping for the best but not expecting it.

Eliminate them and we have the contenders—Blue Larkspur, the prospective favorite; Clyde Van Dusen, Minotaur, The Choctaw, Windy City and Voltear.

TRACK FAST

Should rain in the next few hours make the track muddy, Kay Spence, Audley Farm's trainer, probably will withdraw The Choctaw. Showers were forecast in a weather bulletin here late yesterday.

Early today the Churchill Downs course was lightning fast. Jock won the sixth race on yesterday's card at a mile in 1:37 2-5—under wraps—one and one-fifth seconds short of the track record.

While some horsemen already are conceding victory to Col. E. R. Bradley's Blue Larkspur on the strength of an excellent morning trial yesterday, others feel that the race is an open contest. Railbirds timed Blue Larkspur at 1:40 1-5 in a mile gallop, under restraint.

But a morning workout is not a grueling grind at a mile and a quarter under 126 pounds with other good horses contesting every foot of the route. It is not the crushing jam at the start and turns where racing luck takes toll without regard for any horse. It is not the heaving, rushing field, bumping, kicking, fighting desperately to get through to the front.

That's the Kentucky Derby.

Unless Blue Larkspur breaks in front, he may be blocked all the way to the stretch, and that might hinder his race. He is assigned to the outside post position, and Voltear is in first position at the rail.

Moe and Joe—

Aren't picking the Derby winner today, confining their efforts, as usual, to the New York track. This happens just now to be Belmont. They like JACK HIGH in the fourth race as their Best Bet of the day, while ON HER TOES looks the part to them as their Long Shot Special in the fifth.

The less said about Moe and Joe's luck yesterday the better. They had two good-looking things in TOMBEREAU and EXCALIBUR, but both ran outside the money.

RECORD DERBY FIELD SET

well as official life and the racing citizenry-at-large, will throng Churchill Downs to get at least a fleeting glimpse of the big race for 3-year-old equine glory, prestige and gold. On the basis of 26 starters, the financial harvest for the winner will amount to approximately $56,000 of the total stakes of $66,000.

Crowds at such an event as this are always a matter of guesswork, but Louisville, its pulse stirred by the big advance jam, will play host to a record gathering for today's classic.

More special trains than ever before have rolled into the yards from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Memphis, Atlanta, New Orleans and as many other points as you care to mention. The fleet of private cars has simply staggered the boys who have tried to estimate how many millions in wealth and how much dazzling society or impressive position they represent. The conclusion is generally drawn that "they are all here."

Around the hotels, the social centers and at the picturesque Downs, the crowds swarmed this morning, buzzling of the race, the favorites, the latest time trials and the chances of this horse or that.

Out of all the chatter, however, emerges the conviction that Blue Larkspur, star of the famous E. R. Bradley stable, is the horse to beat; furthermore, that if any horse in the big field is to upset Kentucky's own favorite it will be Clyde Van Dusen, gallant little Man o' War gelding, owned by H. P. Gardner, of Amsterdam, N. Y.

BRADLEY ENTRY FAVORED

These two top the list. Blue Larkspur, favorite of the winter books as well as of the spring, is backed at approximate odds of 3 to 1, and Clyde Van Dusen is held second choice by the wagering men at about 5 to 1. By coincidence, the draw for positions saw the names of these two favorites last out of the box. They are thus placed on the extreme outside, with the Dixiana Farm's Voltear occupying the No. 1 position at the pole. If the experts regard this as a disadvantage, at least it is an even break for the main choices.

There will be a real touch of drama to the bid of Blue Larkspur, for the home-bred favorite, seeking a third Bradley triumph since 1921, will go to the post while his trainer, Dick Thompson, lies seriously ill in a hospital following an operation for appendicitis. Thompson was taken suddenly ill last Wednesday as he saw his charge brought to the peak of condition. Col. Bradley has scant hope of repeating his one-two triumphs of 1921 and 1926, but the chance at least exists, with Blue Larkspur's stablemate, Bay Beauty, in the field.

BETTING ODDS VARY

Odds published last night or reported on Blue Lockspur, the Kentucky Derby favorite, ranged from 2 to 3 to 1, coupled with Bay Beauty. Clyde Van Dusen was held second choice at 4 to 1 and 5 to 1.

These entries topped the field by a wide margin in the wagering. Grouped at 10 to 1 were Voltear, Naishapur, Minotaur, Karl Eitel, The Nut and Windy City. The horses quoted at 15 to 1 included Calf Roper, Panchio, Ervast and Prince Pat.

Those held at no better than 20 to 1 were Boris, Upset Lad, Essare, Lord Braedelbane, Chip and The Choctaw.

Thirty to 1, the longest odds, were assigned to Paraphrase, Chicatie, Folking, St. Ignatius, Paul Bunyan, Ben Machree and Hiram Kelly.

Westmoreland Co. Meet on Today

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 18.—A dozen of the leading high schools of Westmoreland County will participate in the annual Westmoreland County scholastic track and field meet to be held at Latrobe High School field today.

Greensburg, Jeannette, East Huntingdon, Scottdale, Latrobe, Norwin, Monessen, Mt. Pleasant and other schools in this district are expected to send teams. The meet has been an annual affair, but this year for the first time it is being sponsored by the Westmoreland County High School Coaches, Association.

DAVIES WINS OVER GRANDE

It was that way until the finish, with Willie winning every round from the third on except the sixth, which might have been called even. In that session, Davies slowed down a bit, permitting Grande to become the aggressor, but his own execution with his left hand kept him in the fight to the extent of evening up the round.

In the last three rounds, Willie was giving Frisco a boxing lesson, and, at the finish, there was no doubt about the winner. Davies' consummate skill and generalship had chalked up another victory for him, but he had had a close call until he got going, and his judgment in not taking a count when he was down was open to serious question, especially for a boxer of his acknowledged keen fighting brain. At the rate he came back he easily would have overcome even a count of nine and he certainly needed that respite in the pinch.

Willie, at 114½ pounds, had an edge of a quarter of a pound over Grande.

HARGRAVES WINS, LOSES

Frankie Rio, of Cleveland, 128¼, received an undeserved split decision over Ken Hargraves, Negro featherweight, of New Kensington, 132, in the six-round semi-final. Rio, one of Jimmy Dunn's boys, and with Jimmy in his corner, proved a fancy tapper and stepper, but was outpunched consistently by Hargraves, who fought his usual counter fight. The bell saved Rio in the first round, as he staggered around from a right drive to the chin after having stepped cockily about Hargraves up to that time. Judge Jim McLaughlin rightly voted for Hargraves, while Referee Henderson and Judge Joe Keally scored it for Rio. The decision was popular with the fans and was well received, but that didn't render it a just one, nevertheless. Hargraves weighed 132 pounds and Rio 128¼.

Jackie Murray, Negro, of the Hill, scaling 144 pounds, scored a one-round knockout victory over Jess Hoak, of McKeesport, 139, when he floored Hoak twice and Hoak, tangled in the ropes backstage, miscalculated the count the second time and got up just after the referee had completed the toll. He took nine on the first knockdown. Hoak had the better of the early part of the round, during which he accidentally dropped a couple of lefts low, and was forcing the fight when he ran into a right to the jaw that sent him down the first time. When he arose, Murray showered him with punches and finally battered him through the ropes for the fatal count. The crowd booed the stopping of the fight and would not let the next bout be introduced and the chances are the pair will be rematched.

ZELNACK BEATS SPENCER

Chuck Zelnack, of Glassport, turned in a neat victory over Harry Spencer, of Washington, Pa., in the six-round opener. Spencer failed to show to his usual good advantage and didn't win a round after the first one.

The crowd failed to tax the capacity of the arena as in recent weeks. Bill Schuster was back on the job as announcer.

Crawley Victor Over Lou Wallace

WHEELING, W. Va., May 18.—(AP.)—Tommy Crawley, Pittsburgh lightweight, was given a newspaper decision over Lou Wallace, of Cleveland, in a 10-round bout here last night.

National Hook-Up To Broadcast Derby Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—(AP.)—Arrangements were announced today by the National Broadcasting Company for sending the story of the running of the Kentucky Derby through a hookup of 58 stations, by far the largest number ever to broadcast the racing classic. At least two stations will be on a short wave length, thereby enabling followers of the English Derby to follow the race through the receiving station of the British Broadcasting Company.

Carrick High School's hope for capturing the Section 2, City League championship went downward yesterday when Oliver High, holder of third place in that division, nosed out Ted Lyons' nine, 8 to 7.

In another section 2 game, Allegheny whitewashed Perry High, 10 to 1, in a one-sided swatfest.

Schenley High made its place at the top of Section 1 the more secure be defeating Peabody, 11 to 4, for its seventh consecutive league victory. Westinghouse High, which reposes in second place, with one more game played, and one defeat, smothered Fifth Avenue High under a 20-to-6 count.

U. S. DAVIS CUP TEAM WINS

MONTREAL, Que., May 18.—(AP.)—The United States Davis Cup team pushed its way into the second round of American zone play yesterday by defeating Canada in the doubles for its third straight victory. Two more singles matches are on the program for today, but they cannot affect the results.

Twenty-four hours after each had turned in victories in the opening singles matches, John Hennessey of Indianapolis and John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., paired in the doubles to down the Canadian pair of Dr. Arthur Wright and Dr. Arthur Ham, 6-1, 6-0, 1-6, 6-2, and clinch the United States' place in the second round.

But for a brilliant rally in the third set, the Canadians were outplayed badly by the American pair. Through the first two sets Hennessey and Van Ryn, the latter a newcomer to Davis Cup play, were playing in invincible form dropping only one game in the first set and taking the second at love. The Canadians's sole game victory was in the sixth in the opening set which they took on Ham's service after it had gone to deuce six times.

The Dominion stars, with Wright as the big gun in the attack, executed an abrupt right-about-face in the third set. To the amazement of the crowd they ran up a lead of 4-love with the loss of only five points and then ran out the set with only one game going to the invaders.

That was the Canadians's sole winning gesture. Apparently tired from their efforts in the third set, Ham and Wright could offer little defense for the United States' attack on the fourth and lost it and match, 6-2.

SOUTH AFRICA WINS

SALTS ICEBADE, Sweden, May 18.—(AP.)—South Africa swept the opening two singles matches in its second round European zone Davis Cup tennis encounter with Sweden yesterday. L. Raymond of South Africa defeated S. Malmstroem, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, and his team mate, C. J. J. Robbins, downed M. Oestberg by the same scores.

West Virginia Cubs Beaten by Kiski

Long's Sport Comment

MISS WETHERED'S greatness was never demonstrated so convincingly than in her victory over Glenna Collett in the 1929 final yesterday after the American girl had gained a lead of five holes and was still 2 up at the end of the first 18.

Champions in other sports must stick to their lasts to retain their form, but it appeared to be no trouble at all for Miss Wethered to drop out of tournament competition for three years and then come back this spring and win the title for the fourth time. That shows how far superior she is to her field. She is as far ahead of it as Willie Hoppe once was in balkline billiards, or as the Yankees have been in baseball.

STOWE, SMILERS CITY LEAGUE VICTORS

By TOM BIRKS

Two games were played in the City League last evening, Stowe and Pleasant Valley pulling through on top. The Stowe Civic aggregation blanked Reliance Life, 9 to 0, without letting a single Lifer get to second base. A listless, although close contest found the Pleasant Valley Smilers on the "smiling" end of a 9-8 score, in the other tilt.

In the Philadelphia Company League, Pittsburgh Railways simply outclassed Equitable's nine, winning by a 13-1 count. It was Railways' lid-lifter, and a parade preceded the engagement.

Presbyterian rallied in the seventh to score two runs and defeated Hawthorne, 4 to 3, in the Crafton Church League.

Westinghouse tallied five times, but it was not enough to stop Rankin in that team's Tri-Boro League opener, the latter nine pulling away in the seventh to win, 6-5.

The Lincoln Civics were battered around by the Iroquois in the Central Pittsburgh League, the Indians winning, 6-1.

Carnegie nosed out Hornes, 5 to 4, in the Commercial and Industrial loop.

In independent games, St. John's beat the Jimmy Smiths, 3-2; the Rooney Reds defeated Evans A. C., 4-3; J. L. Thomas Club defeated the Reineckers, 11-6 and J. A. Lineys took the Delack Club into Camp, 6-1.

WOMEN OPEN GOLF SEASON

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

The Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania officially inaugurated its team league season yesterday at the Oakmont Country Club with the six teams of Section 1 in action.

The net result of play under ideal conditions was a victory for Oakmont over the Pittsburgh Field Club, 10 to 5; Stanton Heights nosing out the Allegheny Country Club, 9 to 8, and Fox Chapel triumphing over Edgewood, 10 to 5.

The outstanding performance of the matches was that between Miss Anjeannette Hunter of Stanton Heights, captain of Section 1 and West Penn women's champion, who for the first time in her career defeated the former West Penn champion, Mrs. J. Bernd Rose of Allegheny. Miss Hunter won all three points to set down Mrs. Rose.

Mrs. J. Raymond Price of Oakmont, another former champion, met defeat two ways at the hands of Mrs. C. I. Wendt of the Pittsburgh Field Club in another upset. Mrs. L. G. Riley of Edgewood, former Pittsburgh city champion, won her match.

Shady Side Academy's golf team bested Duquesne University, 10 to 2, on the Shady Side course yesterday.

KREMER OR FUSSELL TODAY

Pilot Donie is not sure whether he will use Remy Kremer or Fred Fussell, but it will either be the Frenchman or the slim lefthander on Fogarty Knoll. Manager Bill Southworth said this morning he would make his choice from among Wee Willie Sherdel, Fred Frankhouse or Bill Hallahan. The latter is the sensational southpaw who came to the Cards from the Houston club of the Texas League.

Paul Waner shared honors with French as the Buccos rode to a 6 to 2 victory yesterday. Switched to sixth place in the batting order as a move to help the kingpin hitter, Brother Paul connected for a clean-up double in the seventh with two out that put the game on the ice. Brother Lloyd, Traynor and Grantham counting on the wallop. A moment before Capt. Traynor singled cleanly to right to score Adams with a tally that broke a deadlock.

SPARKY STARTS PARADE

Opposed to French on the mound was Grover Alexander and for seven rounds the battle waged warmly between the patriarch and the rookie.

Adams opened the contest on the offense with a double that grew into a run, but Chick Hafey, strong-armed slugger of the Cardinals evened up the count in the second by hitting a crashing homer over the scoreboard. L. Waner broke the tie in the second after reaching first on an error with two out, he scoring on hits by Traynor and Grantham.

Frank Frisch walked and stole second with none out in the fourth. He was still on third after two were out, but Wattie Holm opened the lane to the plate with a clean single. From that point until the blowup of the seventh there was no scoring. French held the Cards to seven hits, the Pirates making 10 off Aleck.

Why Must Americans Prefer Speculating to Investing?

By B. C. FORBES

IS America becoming a nation of investors or a nation of speculators? Judging by the extraordinary number of new institutions and new facilities being provided for speculation, the conclusion cannot be escaped that more Americans are interested in speculation than in safe investing.

The New York Cotton Exchange this week announced rules for starting trading in securities, an entirely new venture. On the same day the New York Metal Exchange inaugurated trading in copper futures. Very recently the New Produce Exchange launched a stock market on its floor. The exchange for trading in rubber was organized some little time ago. It is a poor commodity indeed which does not now have dedicated to it an exchange where it can be speculated in.

In other large cities throughout the land facilities have also been provided for enormously increased speculation in stocks. Dealings in Chicago, in Detroit, in Los Angeles have become notably heavy, and I understand that Los Angeles is getting ready to create a second stock exchange.

That our intoxicating increase in wealth should have stimulated unexampled speculation is perfectly natural. When wealth came to the French, to the British and to the Germans, conservative investing was the rule—with, of course, occasional spectacular and sensational spasms of gambling. But the typical American is much readier to "take a chance" than is the typical Frenchman, or Briton, or German.

So long as bonds occupied first place in this country, relatively few Americans were moved to buy them. But when stocks began to be played up after we became a creditor instead of a debtor nation, Americans in every part of the country sat up and took notice. Here was something which appealed to their temperament, something which offered a thrill.

This speculative appetite was tremendously whetted by the success scored right and left. Tom told Dick how he had made a killing; Dick took a few flyers and then told Harry how easy it was to make money without having to work for it. This incited Harry to get aboard. Presently, everybody was doing it. Most people still are doing it.

The gains were so alluring that Tom, Dick and Harry became dissatisfied to buy only what they could pay for. They learned to borrow. To buy on margin. This caused brokers to borrow more and more heavily, until today the disclosed brokers' loans approach seven billions. In addition, banks are lending many more billions to clients who use the money to speculate in stocks.

This has led to a rise in money rates to heights nobody ever expected to see under our Federal Reserve system. At this moment it costs 9 per cent to borrow funds for four months or longer, while this week loans borrowed from day to day have cost around 15 per cent.

Of course, no investment stocks of the New York Stock Exchange yield anything like 9 per cent to 15 per cent. The only incentive to buy stocks now is, therefore, not an investment, but a speculative one.

It's a glorious game while it lasts. But Tom, Dick and Harry must not expect that the making of "easy money" will last forever. It never has in the past, nor will it now. He who takes the risk of making "easy money" must be prepared to lose his money.

Secretary Mellon's recent old-fashioned advice to buy bonds may yet prove to have had some virtue in it. Andrew W. Mellon has demonstrated during his career that he possesses better financial brains than most of the rest of us.

WHEREAS many industrial corporation presidents are dumbfounded at the high quotations current for their stocks, several leading oil men think their own stocks are selling on a very attractive level. Big oil mergers are brewing.

BECAUSE W. C. Durant is out of the country (in Europe) it doesn't mean that he is out of the stock market. He probably has paid larger international telephone bills than any other man in the world. He is as bullish as ever on his pet stocks.

MY guess is that after the burdensome July settlements, money will rule cheaper in the second half of the year than it has ruled in the first half.

INDUSTRY has not yet developed summer quietness.

GREASY NEALE

Pittsburgh district sports fans have known Earl (Greasy) Neale as a football star at West Virginia Wesleyan College, gridiron coach at Wesleyan, Marietta, W. & J., and Virginia and as outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds. Now he's back in a new role, that of coach and member of the advisory staff of the St. Louis Cardinals, who finish up a series with the Pirates at Forbes Field this afternoon.

RUMOR LONE STAR GAS SPLIT-UP IS PENDING

Stocks were active in the short session of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today, with Western Public Service, Lone Star Gas and Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt leading the list.

These three leaders were in good demand at the start of trading, although Lone Star came into the market with a small fractional decline from last night's final. The recession was momentary, however, and the stock was later moved to a higher level. It is rumored in the Street that Lone Star directors will shortly announce a split-up of the shares on a 2½-for-1 basis, with an additional offering of new stock to present holders at $30 a share.

Western Public has been in demand for several days on reports of the steady progress being made in its program of construction and expansion in the Salt Lake City area, where it will market gas produced in the Wyoming-Colorado fields. A pipe line to carry the gas is being rushed to completion, and will be in operation some time this summer, it is expected.

The revival of activity in Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt was attributed partly to the announcement of the General Motors hook-up with Fokker Aircraft yesterday. The General Motors interests are said to be in negotiation with Screw and Bolt, through Bendix Aviation, with a view to obtaining rights to the Dick propeller, controlled by Screw and Bolt. One of the stories in the Street here is that an offer of $40 a share was made for Screw and Bolt, but that the interests controlling the company declined the proposition. Further developments are expected, however, and the bulls or bolts are anticipating an even better offer.

CUBS REGAIN LEAD; REGAN BEATS YANKS

By LES CONKLIN,
International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The National League race is an in-again-out-again-Finnegan affair these days, with the leading contenders changing positions almost daily. The Cardinals are back in second place today and the Cubs, who celebrated their homecoming yesterday by beating Cincinnati while the Cards lost to Pittsburgh, are once again setting the pace.

Hack Wilson, colorful Chicago outfielder, gratified his admirers by providing baseball's greatest thrill, a home run with the bases full. It was Hack's seventh circuit clout of the campaign. Sheriff Blake, who had lost his last four games, held the Reds to six hits and won, 9 to 3.

FRENCH WINS THIRD

Larry French, rookie pitcher obtained by Pittsburgh from Portland, Ore., won his third game in the big show, outpitching the veteran Grover Alexander. Paul Waner's double with the bases loaded gave Pittsburgh the game, 6 to 2.

The Pirates regained third place from the Braves, who lost to the Giants for the first time this season, 9 to 5, when the New Yorkers scored four runs in the tenth. Ed Roush got five hits and Jackson contributed a homer, a triple and a double.

The Brooklyn Robins ended their losing streak of nine games by out-slugging the Phillies in a 14-to-13 nightmare in which 10 pitchers labored.

BILL REGAN HERO

After having tied the score with a hit in the eighth, Bill Regan clouted a triple which enabled the Red Sox to nose out the Yankees in the twelfth, 5 to 3. Ed Morris outpitched Hoyt.

The St. Louis Browns took second place away from the champions yesterday when they nosed out Cleveland, 7 to 6, despite two home runs by Earl Averill, the coast phenom.

Meanwhile the Athletics, with Lefty Grove on the mound, maintained their lead by beating Washington, 4 to 1. Grove yielded only five hits.

Duke Prep Netters Win Over Peabody

The Duquesne University Prep net squad defeated Peabody High School yesterday afternoon on the Bluff courts. The Preps won by four matches, 2-2.

Redmond, Peabody No. 2 man, won the only Peabody singles victory and paired with Maits in the doubles, again triumphed. The summary:

Singles—O'Loughlin, Duquesne, defeated Maits, Peabody, 6-2, 6-2; Redmond, Peabody, defeated Huttinger, Duquesne, 6-3, 6-0; Beringer, Duquesne, defeated Lazar, Peabody, 6-2, 7-5; Breen, Duquesne, defeated Goldenson, Peabody, 6-3, 6-3.

Doubles—Maits and Redmond, Peabody, defeated O'Loughlin and Huttinger, Duquesne, 8-6, 8-6; Beringer and Viragh, Duquesne, defeated Lindsay and Lazar, Peabody, 6-0, 7-5.

Columbia, Cornell, Yale Crews Favored

NEW YORK, May 18.—(INS.)—Forty thousand persons are expected to line the banks of the Harlem this afternoon to witness the four races between the crews of Columbia and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The undefeated Blue and White oarsmen are overwhelming favorites to score a clean sweep over the Back Bay oarsmen in all four events, the varsity, junior varsity, freshman and 150-pound varsity races.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 18.—(INS.)—Yale and Cornell ruled equal favorites today a few hours before the start of the varsity race this evening in the Carnegie Cup triangular regatta on Cayuga Lake. Princeton, the third entry, and Yale both were beaten by the powerful Columbia crew, but the Elis made a better showing in defeat.

WRESTLER SIGNS

CHICAGO, May 18.—(INS.)—Offering the winner a title bout with Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight champion, Promoter Krone today singed Jim Londos, Greek wrestler, and Ray Steele, of California, for a match in the Coliseum here May 27. It will be a finish engagement, best two out of three falls.

Stock Trend Down

Wall Street Quotations

STOCK PRICES MIXED TREND DOWNWARD

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—Price movements were mixed at the opening of today's market, but the general tendency appeared to be downward. Wilcox Rich "A" and General Railway Signal each dropped 2 points, and Anaconda, American Smelting, Sparks Withington, United Aircraft and Pathe "A" showed initial declines of a point or more. St. Joseph Lead and Underwood, Elliott, Fisher each advanced 1¾ points on opening transactions, and Montgomery Ward, North American and Nevada Copper advanced a point or more.

Uneasiness over the credit situation, created by reports that directors of both the New York and Chicago Federal Reserve banks were in favor of an increase in rediscount rates, probably accounted for much of the early irregularity. While brokers were pleased with a drop to 6 per cent in call money yesterday, there was no assurance that the rate could be maintained next week, particularly if there was a revival of speculative operations for the advance.

Early selling was most effective in the motors, motor accessories and a few high priced specialties. Case Threshing Machine broke 4¼ points and Otis Elevator 2. Early declines of a point or more were registered by Murray Corporation, Stewart-Warner, Borg Warner, Packard, General Mills, American Can and Advance Rumely.

Curtiss Aeroplane and Allied Chemical each ran up about 6 points and Wright Aeronautical 3. General Electric moved up 4 points, but quickly lost most of its gain. International Harvester and Goodyear Rubber were in good demand.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, May 18.—Wheat went down today to the lowest price May delivery in Chicago has touched since 1925 and within a cent of one dollar per bushels. Foreigners led the selling, which was based on over-plentifulness of supplies and on crop prospects pointing to additional big accumulations. Starting ⅜@½c to 1⅛c lower, wheat afterward showed some recovery. Corn, oats and provisions were relatively firm with corn opening unchanged to 1c higher and subsequently scoring a general upturn.

With latest reports today from Kansas, the banner wheat state of the country, saying general crop conditions were very promising, traders here were occupied largely in striving to get rid of old supplies. Aside from the fact that wheat values were abnormally low, however, no immediate reason was apparent for wheat buying, and even ardent friends of higher prices conceded that any advance must come from crop damage, export demand, farm relief measures, or all three sources combined.

For the time being, holidays abroad were interfering with export business and current messages from Washington indicated negotiations between the Senate and the House regarding farm legislation were liable to be somewhat lengthy. However, after prices today had got close to the old-time dollar-a-bushel level, a number of standing orders to buy appeared, and the market responded with rallies.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Better Buying Than Selling.

Liquidation of holdings by small traders and investors continues to appear in the stock market whenever any untoward development relating to credit conditions assumes prominence. In view of the relatively small recessions on this selling, it seems reasonable to conclude that the purchasers are more powerful financially than the sellers. In the familiar words of the street, the stocks go into stronger hands. In various banking quarters there is no diminution of the attitude that many sound securities will witness much higher levels, but that if the market last year was a selective one, the next major advance will be exceedingly selective.

Bradstreet's weekly business review says: "Trade and industry have continued to run above a year ago, notwithstanding the continuance of unsettled, chiefly wet and cool, weather, in wide areas, whereas spring crop work has been retarded further. Where warmer weather has appeared, as in parts of the South, the Central West and the Southwest, business has improved somewhat. In some lines a further easing off is noted from the activity of April. Later received measures of movement in April points to that month having shown surprisingly little reduction from March, and apparently guarantees a four-month record in trade and industry which has not been surpassed, if, indeed, equaled for years past. Examples of active operations long this line are found in large foreign trade; an improved demand for cement; a gain in employment over March, something not occurring for years; heavy cotton consumption, and a record use of rubber. An especially interesting feature, in view of the long period of partial operations in coal mining, is the report that industrial stocks of bituminous coal are the smallest for three years. Weekly bank clearings $12,761,784,000, a decrease of 3.4 per cent from last year.

General Gas Financing.

One of the larger public utility financing projects to date this year is an offering of 430,000 shares of Class A common stock of the General Gas and Electric Corporation, control of which was recently acquired by the Associated Gas and Electric Corporation. General Gas subsidiaries operate in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, South Carolina, Maryland and Florida. Holders of the various classes of General Gas common stocks may subscribe for additional shares at $25 per share to the extent of dividends receivable in lieu of receiving the cash dividend. It is also proposed to exchange additional Class A common shares for the outstanding issue of 380,320 dividend participations in the ratio of 5 shares for 8 dividend participations. After the new offering, there will be outstanding 750,612 shares of Class A common stock, 399,091 Class B common, 62,601 shares of $8 cumulative preferred and 83,391 shares of $7 cumulative preferred, and the dividend participations, which will be exchanged into 142,420 addition Class A common shares.

Week's New Financing.

New financing for the week ended May 17 amounted to $142,402,140, against $170,875,558 a week ago. Of this amount $56,835,000 represented bond offerings and $85,567,140 stock flotations, against $96,202,358 and $74,653,500, respectively, the previous week. In the same week last year $127,837,000 bonds were offered. For the year to date bond financing aggregated $1,415,110,473, against $753,779,394 in the 1928 period. New stock flotations thus far total $1,443,842,613.

Expect Rise in Crude Oil.

Reports from Houston, Tex., say large sales of crude oil have been made recently. Major refiners are protecting their future supplies, and several refineries with no production of their own require crude on which to operate. These factors indicate an advance in crude prices in Mid-Continent and West Texas may be expected soon.

Week's Failures Increase.

There were 47 more business failures last week than during the week before, R. G. Dun & Co. reports. Last week's total was 475, compared with 442 a year ago, and 428 a week ago.

Re-discount Raise Refused.

Directors of the Chicago bank, at their regular meeting this week, approved an advance from 5 to 6 per cent and requested authority from the Federal Reserve Board to make the change, after similar action had been taken by the New York directors Thursday.

Similar requests were also made by the Boston and Philadelphia Reserve banks with the same result. The San Francisco bank was given authority to raise its rate from 4½ per cent to 5 per cent, thus bringing it up to the level maintained by the other 11 institutions.

The requests were presented to the Federal Reserve Board at its meeting in Washington yesterday, but in neither case was sanction forthcoming.

Aviation Corporation Expanding.

Control of the Universal Aviation Corporation and the Embry-Riddle Company, Midwest airway operators, has passed to the Aviation Corporation of Delaware, according to G. B. Grosvenor, president of the latter. Mr. Grosvenor's statement said in part: "With Colonial Airways and Southern Air Transport, which we have also acquired, Universal and Embry-Riddle give the aviation corporation upwards of 5,000 miles of established mail and passenger routes. This places under the aviation corporation's control by far the largest air transport system in the United States."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 18.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 6 to 12 points, with the active months soon showing net gains of 20 to 22 points on active covering in new crop positions, together with some trade buying of old crop months, which was evidently influenced by reports of showers or rains in western and central belt sections and prospects for showery weather over Sunday.

The demand tapered off somewhat on the advance to 18.85c for July and 18.95c for December, and there was enough realizing to cause setbacks of a few points, but more buying orders came in and the market was firm at the end of the first half hour. Owing to the holiday, there were no cables from Liverpool this morning, and the market there will remain closed until Tuesday.

Futures closed steady, 13 to 17 points higher; May, 19.57-60c; July, 18.78-80c; October, 18.76@80c; December, 18.91c; January, 18.92c. Spot steady; middling, 19.85c.

BIG GAIN AHEAD FOR COLUMBIA PICTURES

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

COLUMBIA PICTURES CORporation is expected to earn $450,000 after taxes and all other charges in the year ending June 30, 1929. This would be equivalent to $3.75 a share on the 100,000 common shares after providing for the annual dividends of $3 a share on the 25,000 shares of preference stock.

These earnings will be the greatest in the history of this company, which was organized in 1924. Profits have shown a steady growth. They were $59,907 in the year ended June 30, 1926; $155,638 in 1927, and $249,931 in 1928.

The present fiscal year is the first in which the company has had a large production of feature pictures. The first six months of the year did not reflect the results of this new policy, but the latter half is showing it in a substantial manner.

IN THE quarter ended March 31, net was $158,000. This is at the annual rate of $632,000 a year, or $5.57 a share on the common.

The cost of pictures is written off over a period of 10 months, while the revenues spread over about 18 months. Thus earnings for the present quarter and the first half of the next fiscal year will be as good as in the March quarter, and quite probably better.

The preference stock has attractive possibilities for the future. It is convertible, share for share, into common until March 1, 1934. The stock is redeemable at $47.50 a share on 60 days' notice, but the conversion privilege is protected by the fact that preference holders will have until 10 days before the redemption date to make the exchange.

THE company has the unique record of never having taken a loss on a picture. Part of the output this year has been of the "talkie" and "sound" type. Next year's production will include a greater proportion of these. In addition to feature pictures, the schedule calls for 40 short talking, musical and novelty pictures, 24 of which will be made under a contract with the Victor Talking Machine Company.

The company has all the technical advantages of the leading producers. It is licensed under patents controlled by Western Electric. The Victor contract will give Columbia the use of the former's studios at Camden, N. J. The cost of these pictures will be shared by the two companies.

Columbia owns and operates fully-equipped studios in Hollywood, Cal., and has distribution offices in New York. As exhibition outlets the company has access to the theaters controlled by such leaders in the field as Fox, Keith, Loew's, Stanley, Universal, United Artists, Roxy and Capitol.

THE company is in a strong current financial position. Current assets on March 31 amounted to $1,795,854, against current liabilities of $374,303. Cash amounted to $669,703, and inventories, including completed and uncomplete pictures, were valued at $881,245.

Estimated earnings for the present fiscal year will be six times the dividend requirement of $75,000 on the preference stock, while, on the basis of results in the three months ended March 31, they were eight times the requirements.

Mid-year Settlements.

The course of money rates, and the conditions which are making fos the disconcerting fluctuations in collateral interests since the turn of the year, have been the subject of much controversy and give promise of continuing to excite much comment over the next little while. Much has been said of the prospect if an easing of the situation in the not distant future, but the tendency of things in the time money market, and likewise in the bond market can hardly be looked upon as supporting such theories. On the contrary money brokers, who apparently have been unusually well-posted in the past, are of the opinion at the moment, that a perceptible tightening in time money rates is not only possible but probable, as the time for mid-year settlements rolls around.

Kennesott Meets Monday.

That part of the Street which has been bullish on Kennecott Copper prospects has not changed its views that the outcome of the directors' meeting scheduled for Monday will be productive of developments favorable to shareholders. With the meeting for dividend action now close at hand, it is confidently predicted, in spite of the apparent change in the copper situation to somewhat less favorable status from the producer viewpoint, that the Kennecott board will vote more liberal disbursement. It is expected that the regular rate will be raised from $4 a share to a $5 basis, with an extra dividend of $1.

Reject Delayed Deliveries

The committee appointed by the New York Stock Exchange to consider delayed delivery plan of securities has reported unfavorably on the plan as proposed. The committee after hearing from representatives of 26 exchange firms the majority of whom had originally signed the petition, reached two conclusions: First, that the mechanical helps that might be provided from such a plan are not sufficient to call for its adoption and, secondly, that inauguration of this plan would possibly cause very dangerous results from standpoint of credit situation.

Estimated Warner Bros. Profit.

Based on operations to date, Warner Bros. and its present subsidiary will show net profit for fiscal year ending August 31 of about $16,500,000 after taxes and charges, equal to more than $12 a share on 1,349,000 common shares that will be outstanding after allowing for exchange of all Stanley Company stock and for conversion of all outstanding Warner preferred. Warner took over Stanley Company and First National Pictures as of December 31, 1928, and this estimate includes earnings of these companies for the full fiscal year from September 1, 1928, to August 31, 1929, of which about $1,000,000 is applicable to the period prior to the actual merger.

YOUTH ACCUSED BY GIRL, 10

County detectives today arrested Russell Brown, 22, of Collingwood avenue, Swissvale, and accused him there. You come with me and I'll ravine at the foot of Schenley avenue, Swissvale, yesterday.

The child, whose name the Sun-Telegraph will not publish because of her youth, related the story when she returned to an aunt at noon yesterday.

In Monongahela avenue a well-dressed young man stopped her, the girl told detectives.

"I'm a policeman," he said. You stole that dollar from a boy back there. You come with me, and I'll prove it."

On that pretext the girl was taken to the ravine.

Artificial Wood Made of Rubbish

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP.)—Adolph Hawerlander, German chemist, has a machine for making wood out of rubbish. At a demonstration in his laboratory he put such things as corn stalks and excelsior in a revolving drum and sprayed it with a chemical under pressure. Then the waste was pressed under heat. The result was lumber veneered as desired. The inventor says his product is cheap, strong and more fireproof and waterproof than natural lumber.

Man Shot by Negro Succumbs to Wound

Frank Cronin, 37, of 88 Forty-fifth street, shot by a Negro in front of a restaurant in Arthur street last Monday night after he is alleged to have delivered a five-gallon can of moonshine to the place, died in the Passavant Hospital early today. Five persons, arrested in connection with the shooting, were to be turned over to the coroner today.

Woman Crash Victim Gets $35,000 Award

CUMBERLAND, Md., May 18.—The jury in the suit of Mrs. Josephine E. Metz, of Lonaconing, for $50,000 damages against Cumberland and Westernport Transit Company and American Oil Company brought in a verdict for $35,000, one of the largest ever given here. The woman, a passenger, was injured in collision between a car and an oil truck.

JOE TURNESA TRAILS

MOORTOWN, Eng., May 18.—(AP.)—Joe Turnesa, American, was 2 down to the Britisher, Herbert C. Jolly, after 18 holes of their 36-hole final in the 1,000 Guineas match play tournament here today.

Turnesa started off with a rush, making the first and second holes with birdies, but after a seesaw battle broke badly at the sixteenth and lost a pair of holes by vicious hooking with the iron and from the tee.

Turnesa's play near and on the green was perfection, but his spasmodic errors with his iron gave the Britisher three holes. Twice he hit seconds out of bound, once into a ruinous ditch. Then his seventeenth tee shot struck a tree on the left fairway. It rebounded into a deep dross trench for a penalty.

They halved the home hole with 4s. The cards:

Il Duce Sees Gene And Johnny at Rome

ROME, May 18.—(AP.)—Prime Minister Mussolini attended two exhibition golf matches played over the Roman Golf Club course by Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell. The Ryder Cup players from the United States came to Rome for charity.

The Premier was accompanied around the course by Henry P. Fletcher, United States ambassador, and Sir Ronald Graham, the British ambassador. Il Duce seemed much interested, asked a number of questions about the game and chatted briefly with the players.

Fool Women Going Too Fast, Pastor Tells Seniors

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 18.—Speaking on "Speed" at senior day at Washington and Jefferson College, the Rev. Dr. Robert MacGowan, pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, said: "These fool women nowadays are going a little too fast. We have learned that women are no more angels than we suspected in days gone by."

He cautioned the students that you of today must "slow down."

Last night President and Mrs. Baker entertained the seniors and members of the faculty at a reception and dinner. Tomorrow night the annual senior "hop" will be held.

PAINTS FOR RELIEF FUND

CLAUS BERGER AND HIS PAINTING

THE PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for fruit and vegetables was slack Saturday at the Pittsburgh wholesale produce market. No change was made in the quotations.

The butter, egg and cheese markets were steady, demand fair and little change in the prices.

Car lot supplies were moderate with a total of 509 cars on track. Arrivals included 1 beet, 10 apples, 5 baggage, 1 carrot, 1 cauliflower, 1 corn, 1 celery, 5 cucumbers, 5 grapefruit, 2 lemons, 10 lettuce, 7 onions, 20 oranges, 1 pea, 10 pineapples, 30 potatoes, 4 strawberries, 3 tomatoes and 2 watermelons.

Leg Touches Wire, Man Electrocuted

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., May 18.—When his left leg came in contact with a wire carrying 220 volts, John Polan, 24, of Rice's Landing, was electrocuted. Attempts of fellow workmen to revive him were futile. His widow and a small son survive.

Greensburg Jeweler, Ill 16 Years, Dies

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 18.—H. W. Furtwangler, 66, veteran Greensburg jeweler, is dead here following an illness of 16 years. He had engaged in the jewelry business here with his father who had founded a store in 1840.

DEATH DRIVER ASKS PAROLE

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 18.—Appearing in Criminal Court here before Judge Erwin Cummins, Chauncey E. Frazier, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey E. Frazier, former W. & J. student, pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Harold Minnick, a W. & J. freshman, of New Bethlehem, Pa.

Minnick was killed in an automobile accident on the National Highway west of here on the night of March 31, 1928, when a car driven by Frazier crashed while the two youths were taking Ann Marie Check and Betty Lindeloff from a W. & J. fraternity house party to their homes at Wheeling.

Frazier's counsel asked for a parole, and the court set Monday as the time for a hearing.

The two Wheeling girls, both of whom were injured, and Minnick's parents have filed damage suits aggregating $60,000 against Frazier, who has been permanently crippled by the accident.

Straphanger Hurt Sues for $20,000

A sudden start of a street car on which she was a straphanger August 7 last, inbound on Penn avenue, near Twenty-fourth street, threw her against a rail and to the floor, Catherine Kerr alleged in a suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company, asking $20,000 for personal injuries, filed in Common Pleas Court.

KENTUCKY DERBY COMING TO PITTSBURGH OVER AIR

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor

"THEY'RE off!"

Will it be Blue Larkspur, Clyde Van Dusen, Bay Beauty or an obscure dark horse?

The fifty-fifth running of the Kentucky Derby will be brought to Pittsburghers today by radio.

Clattering of horses' hoofs as the 26 entries trot to the post, a description of the motley throng, and a hair-raising account of the chase around the mile and a quarter track will have listeners standing on their feet cheering for favorites. Local stations will start broadcasting the Derby before the race begins, WJAS going on the air at 5:30 and KDKA and WCAE at 6:30. The race itself will last little more than two minutes.

MIMIC WARFARE

Brookhart

Activities of the war correspondents of the future will be vividly demonstrated when an eye-witness story of a mock aerial battle involving the "capture" of Cincinnati will be broadcast through WCAE at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The "war correspondent" will be O. B. Hanson, engineering manager of NBC. He will describe the "battle" from a plane which will hover above the aerial combatants.

The description of the aerial maneuvers will cover the air "attack" on Cincinnati and the defensive tactics of the planes assigned to protect the city from the invaders.

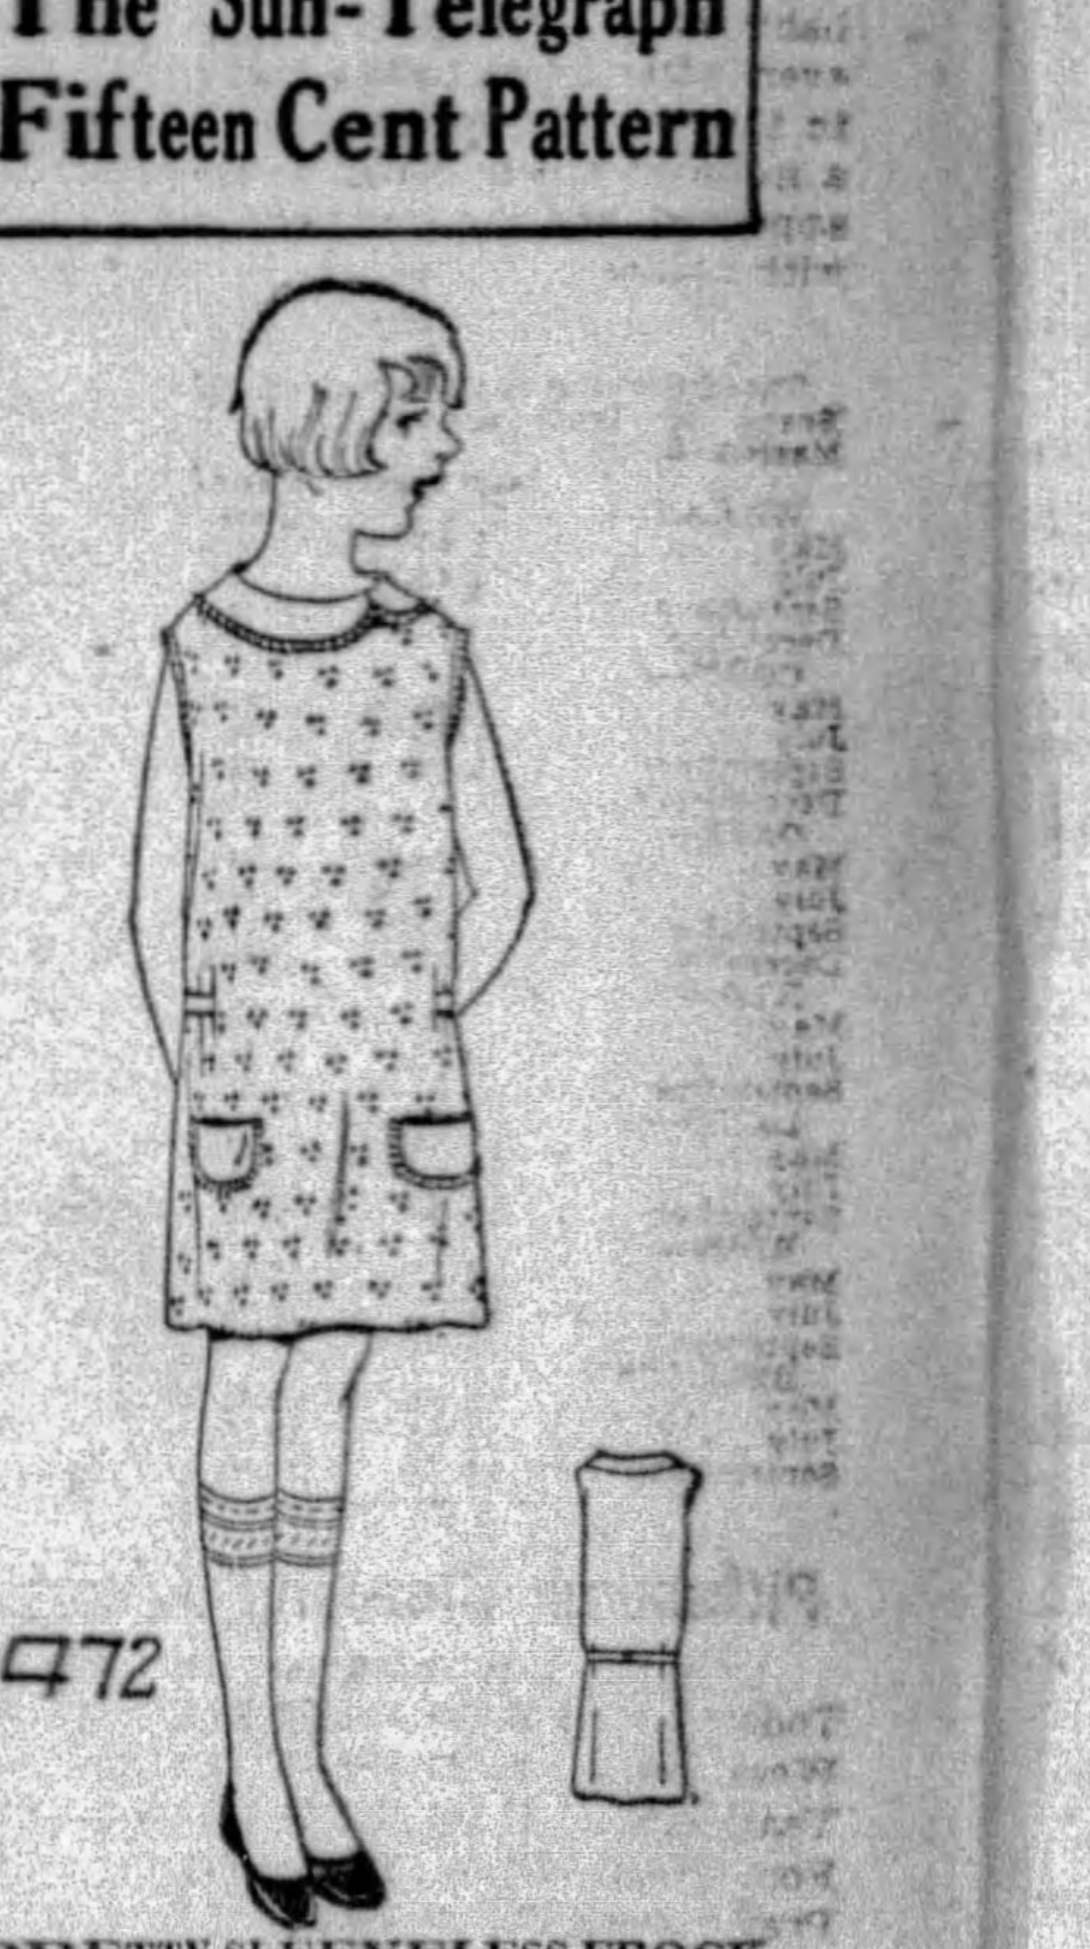
The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A PRETTY SLEEVELESS FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL

Cotton prints, pongee or gingham may be selected for this dainty model. It is sleeveless, but with the shoulder line long enough to cover the top of the arm. Convenient pockets trim the fronts, a comfortable collar encircles the neck and narrow belt portions hold the fulness of the dress at the sides and back. Red and white dimity with plain white dimity, and red plaitings is suggested for this model.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. To make a 6-year size will require two yards of material 32 inches wide or wider. For collar, belt and pockets of contrasting material ½ yard is required. To finish with bias binding or plaiting will require two yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

WOMAN JAILED IN JONES CASE

Mrs. Jennie Frishman, 40, storekeeper at 1202 Colwell street, is the first woman sentenced in Federal Court here under the Jones act. She was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge R. M. Gibson when she pleaded guilty to selling a half pint of whisky and possessing contraband liquors since the new act became effective.

Jail sentences were imposed on eight others who pleaded guilty to violating the prohibition law, among them Isaac Baltansky, a previous offender, who was sentenced five months to jail.

The others were: Frank Hudler, a Second avenue saloonkeeper, four months; Christ Linnenan, River road, East Monongahela, three months; Bernard Kist, Johnstown, two months; L. P. Buckley, Johnstown, three months; Jacob Okis, Johnstown, three months; Andrew Pavlick, Johnstown, one month, and John Hollfelder, Johnstown, four months.

SUN-TELEGRAPH TO OPEN MODEL HOME TOMORROW

Homelike qualities are emphasized in the second model home which will be opened tomorrow by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph in Bellanca avenue, Brentwood.

The home is easily reached by automobile or street car. The best motor route, by way of Arlington avenue and Brownsville road, is marked with red arrows. Two lines of Carrick cars will carry guests to within two blocks of the model home at the Brentwood car loop.

The idea of comfort is stressed in all the appointments of the home. As the guest enters the center hall, the living room is at the left and the dining room at the right. An attractive tile mantel and fire place is the central feature of the living room.

Lighting fixtures are in Swedish iron wrought in colonial style. The interior is finished in dark walnut. The kitchen at the rear of the home is specially designed with built-in equipment, including electric refrigeration.

Three bedrooms and a bath room are on the second floor. The lavatory is a modern tile room in buff and blue. Each bedroom includes large closets for clothing. A clothes chute is in the hallway. A radio aerial has been installed in the comb of the roof and has outlet plugs in the upper hall and in the living room.

The laundry in the basement is well lighted and conveniently arranged. Stationary tubs are installed and a modern hot water heater. A magazine feed heater burning coke is available to heat the home.

'TYPICAL GIRLS' SPEND HAPPY DAY AT WEST POINT

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 18.—America's 18 candidates for selection as the typical American girl spent one of their most delightful days at this historic spot yesterday. They returned to New York last night by motor, along the Hudson River route.

Just before their departure from West Point the entire cadet corps, in dress uniform, paraded before the girls, who stood at attention as the sunset gun was fired and the flag was lowered.

The girls, with their chaperones, left New York in the morning, following the Westchester drive along the east bank of the Hudson. Just beyond Yonkers they stopped for luncheon at a quaint road house, celebrated in revolutionary history.

The girls posed for photographs with a group of high Army officers. They also saw the Army polo team in practice for its game with Harvard, in the West Point riding hall.

Mill Foreman Held On Extortion Charge

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., May 18.—Collection of money from employes on threat of discharge is charged against Frank K. Griffiths, foreman of the tube mill at the Aliquippa works of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, who was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace C. R. Hayward here and held for court under bond of $1,000, which was furnished.

Griffiths confessed that he had been operating this "collection plan" for 10 years and that during that time had received about $10,000.

TROLLEY MAN GETS BEATING

Enraged when he was called a "bum" by a passenger, Mike Mucery, 51, of 1513 Nixon street, a conductor on a Brighton road street car, late yesterday grabbed S. W. St. John, 41, of Jack's Run road, Bellevue, another passenger, and started a fight, according to the police. The conductor suffered wounds on the head which required his being held in St. John's Hospital for observation. St. John was released at the North Side Police Station on $30 bail. Charges of disorderly conduct were placed against both.

Police learned that when the conductor failed to stop to let off a young woman passenger, someone called out, "Open it, you big bum." Thinking St. John the man responsible, the conductor grabbed him, it is alleged.

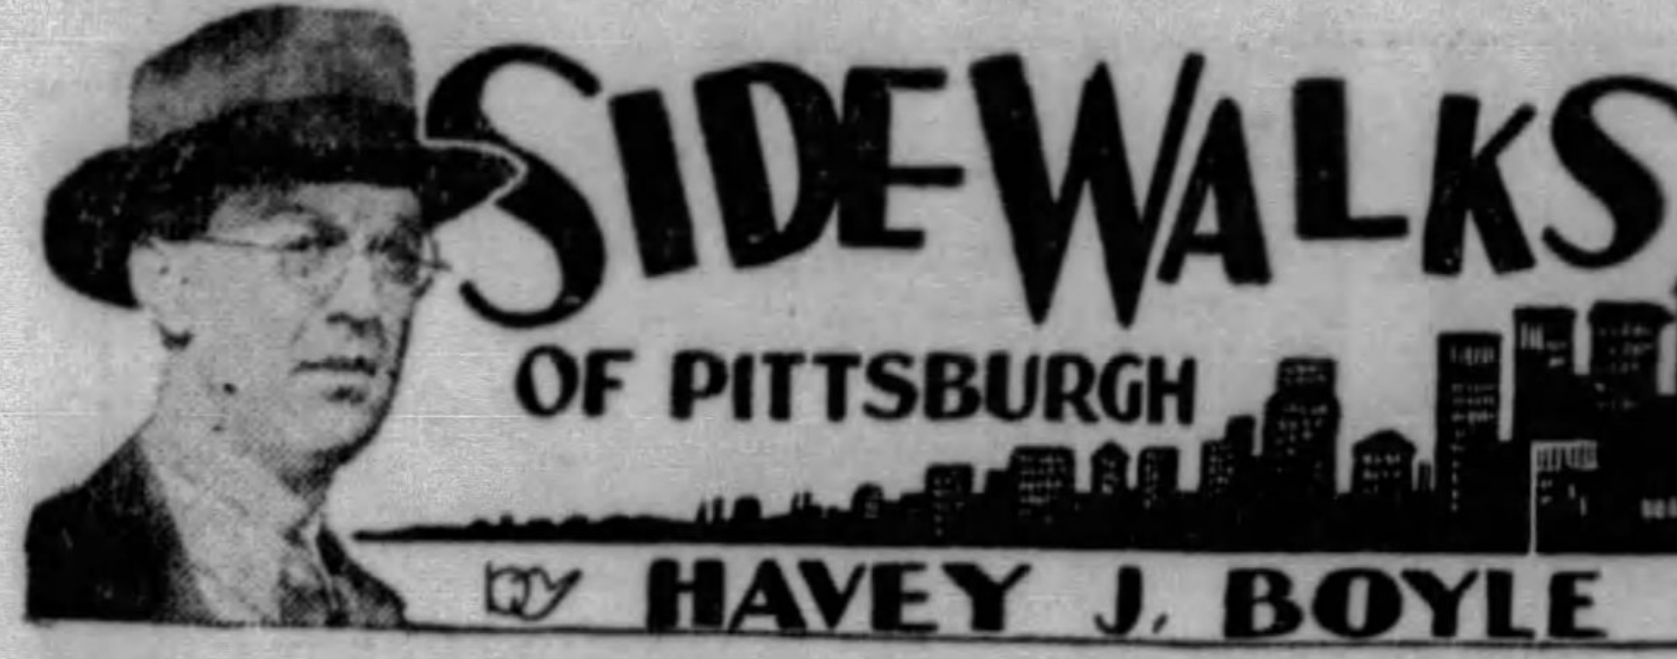
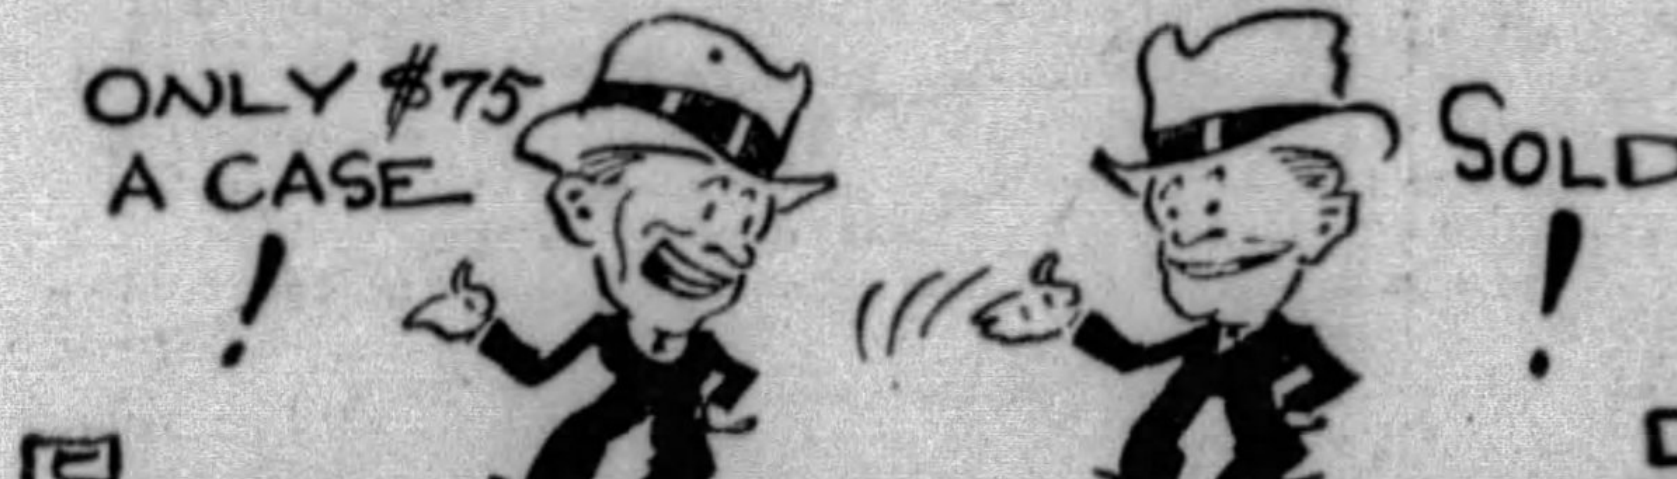
NORTH SIDE, SOUTH HILLS And EAST END NEWS



by HAVEY J. BOYLE

ONE of the small fry among the men who used to run rum into the city has gone into legitimate work and in a confidential and reminiscent mood the other day he went over some of his experiences when "in the trade."

"Some of the boys brought their goods in from Canada," he said, "but I always went to Florida to get mine. It was cheaper there for one thing and my trade seemed to like the stuff. I paid $28 a case for it and got $75 a case here. Every trip showed a nice profit, even considering the wear and tear on the tires over some of the bad roads in the South. I ran two cars, paid the drivers $100 a trip and expenses, and moved along nicely. Then one night the signals got crossed and I was thrown for a loss. Both cars were knocked off, and the cars and whisky confiscated. It cost me what you writing fellows call a pretty penny.



ONLY $75 A CASE !
SOLD !

"I'm out now and for keeps. I missed a jail term, was never pinched, but I'm playing safe. No, I'm not ahead even with all the risk. Of course, I had many good times when the money was rolling in, but good times after they're past aren't substantial things like money in the bank."

* * *

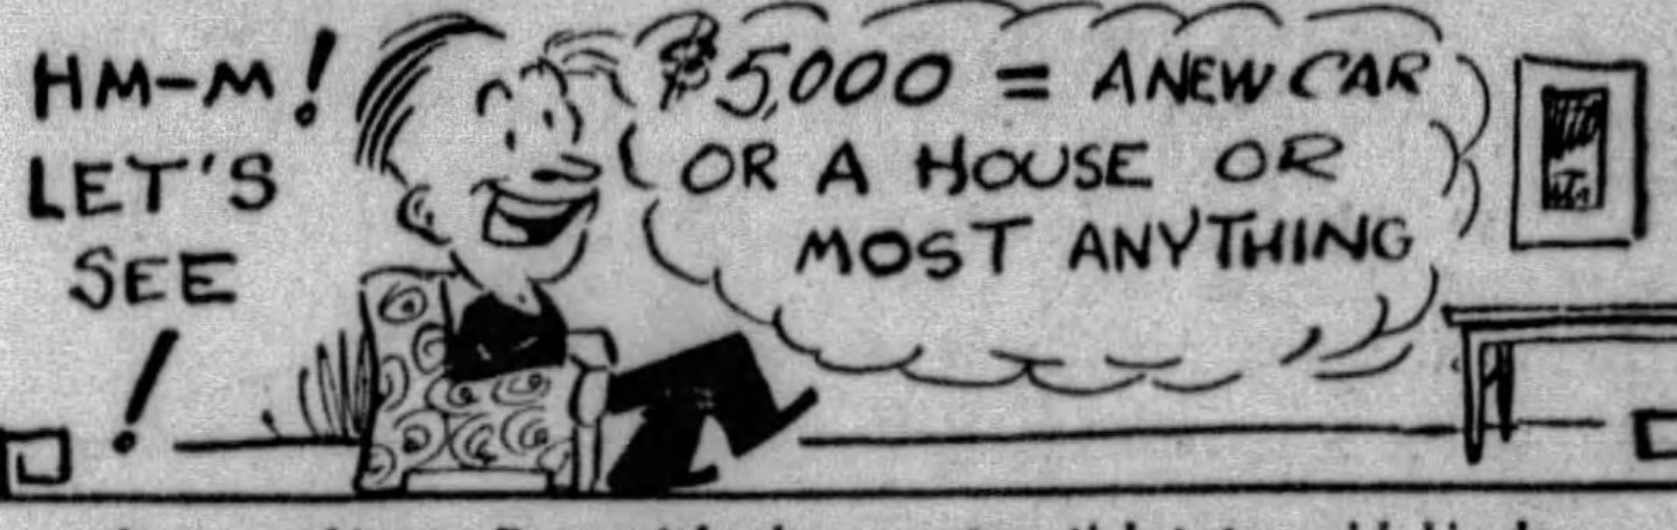
Another man who at one time was engaged in selling "pool" tickets, lotteries in which the purchaser of a ticket stands in theory at least to win $5,000 or more for a 25-cent gamble was talking about the crusades which from time to time are carried on against the lotteries. Naturally, he had a defense or at least his own point of view, coming perhaps from the fact he had made money out of the lotteries. The accepted belief that lotteries are bad, of course, needs no laboring here, but it isn't often that the other point of view is expressed. Here it is by a man who was once in the selling end of the game:

"A customer played three tickets a week for which he paid 25 cents.

"It is my contention he got a quarter's worth of amusement out of this even if he never won a cent. I believe he spent many other quarters foolishly from which he did not get nearly the value that we offered him. His amusement depended largely on the amount of imagination he had, on his financial condition.

"For a quarter the customer got the mythical mortar and bricks to build his castle in Spain. It might be a house and lot he had in mind to buy with the grand prize of $5,000; it might be a trip for his wife and kids; it might be a new automobile; it might be anything he desired.

"Without the quarter ticket to spur on his imagination and dreams he never could have envisioned spending $5,000 for anything. But with the quarter ticket to aid his daydreaming he was able to spend many golden moments painting his pretty pictures.



HM-M! LET'S SEE !
$5,000 = A NEW CAR OR A HOUSE OR MOST ANYTHING

"You might say that such visions were shattered every week when he failed to win and that he would turn up a sorely disappointed and disillusioned man. That is not true. Only vaguely he thought he would get the money, but the figure dazzled him always and brought up pleasant prospects which in his workaday world he never could have seen.

* * *

"I REALIZE that on the moral side there is no defense for lotteries. Nor legally do they have in this country a legal leg to stand on. But I contend that if every law was enforced to save a man a quarter of foolish spending he would be up in arms against the authorities.

"I do not expect to win any converts or to have lotteries legalized. Neither would I advise anyone, much less try to sell him a pool ticket now. The chances are 10,000 to one against him, maybe more. What I point out is that a man gets a quarter's worth of dreams out of his speculation and dreams do not come easily to unimaginative persons.

"And, believe it or not, of the thousands I've seen buy pool tickets I never heard of a dissatisfied customer. They seem to be satisfied with their long shot, knowing well the odds are all against them."

MOTHER, 91, PRESENTS $500 PURSE AT BANQUET

A $500 gift from a 91-year-old member, Mrs. Anna DeLong, of 4025 Maple avenue, was announced last night at a Mother and Daughter banquet in connection with the 75th anniversary observance of Central Presbyterian Church, Sandusky and North Diamond streets.

Mrs. S. B. McCormick, widow of the former chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh and one-time pastor of Central church, made the principal address.

A neighborhood meeting addressed by pastors of the district was held following the banquet in the church auditorium. Among those who spoke were the Rev. CHARGES WIFE ATTEMPTED TO KILL HIM

His wife, Florence M. Frick, of 322 Amber street, attempted to kill him and herself and was constantly intoxicated, George Frick, of the downtown Y. M. C. A., alleged in a bill of particulars filed in his divorce suit in Common Pleas Court.

She annoyed and embarrassed him at his office by her inquiries and suspicion, uttered threats to kill him, and when she came home late and intoxicated one night in January, 1928, and he refused to eat some ice cream she brought, she knocked him unconscious by hitting him on the head with a vase, according to the bill.

April 21, 1928, she broke all dishes and vases in their apartment, packed her clothes and left, saying she was going to the man she really loved in Atlanta, Ga., he alleged. She returned in June, 1928, and they lived together again at 225 South Negley avenue, and on Christmas day last she attempted to kill him with a butcher knife, cutting him in the struggle for the weapon, according to the bill.

He stated that on April 13 last he was summoned from his office by a call that she was sick at 322 Amber street and when he visited her she was in bed and suddenly drew a revolver and declared she would kill them both before he disarmed her. April 29 he stated he was again summoned and notified that she had attempted suicide and when he called upon her she admitted she had taken poison two days before.

FIND SOLVES MYSTERY OF DEATH

The unclad body of a woman that was dragged from the Ohio River at Rochester last Monday has been identified as that of Miss Adelaide McGowan, 54, of Ingram, it was learned today.

And with the identification mystery was attached to the circumstances attending her death.

It was reported that Miss McGowan had disappeared from her home about two months ago.

Three student nurses of the Presbyterian hospital, on March 5, reported watching a woman fall or leap from the Point bridge into the Monongahela river. The woman's identity was never established.

Workmen on the Rochester-Monaca Bridge saw the body of Miss McGowan floating, pulled it to shore. Beaver County Coroner H. C. McCarter, offering drowning as the probable cause of death, estimated that the body had been in water for longer than two weeks.

The funeral took place yesterday. The body was laid to rest in Homewood Cemetery. The identification certificate was signed by a sister, Miss Margaret McGowan, of 3462 Delaware avenue, North Side, formerly of Ingram.

Will Rogers Says

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.

This Al Capone that is supposed to be field marshal on Chicago's western front: well, in Miami and Chicago and all the other cities he has been received by the mayor, chambers of commerce and daughters of various revolutions; but he blew into our little City of Brotherly Love here yesterday and before his valet could unpack his machine gun, why, he had been sentenced to a year in jail for wearing pistols instead of a vest.

A Woman Motions to Don To Read the Mysterious Letter She Dropped

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Don Carlos Whiting goes to Hawaii after he discovers that his wife, Eve, is carrying on an affair with George Phillips, a neighbor. She is a pretty, selfish person, with whose beauty Don Carlos had fallen in love. On landing in the islands he is accosted by a native, David Nahuli, who offers him $2,000 for delivering a black bag. In carrying out this mission he sees Eugenie, Nahuli's wife, a gorgeous creature who fascinates him. In the meantime Phillips carries on his suit for Eve's love, but quarreling brings unhappiness. Then, in wandering around, Don Carlos meets Selma Wilson, crippled mother of an unusual family.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.

IT WAS FRIDAY afternoon of a hot tropical day and Don Carlos was out at the Moana.

Dick Randolph had written Don Carlos, some time before, that a friend of his would be coming on the next steamer; would he, Don Carlos, go out to the Moana upon his arrival and meet him?

He had gone, and found that Ed Thompson was a different type from what he had anticipated him to be in the weeks that fled by quickly awaiting Thompson's coming from the Orient. Just what Dick, gay, fun-loving, could see in nervous Ed Thompson had been beyond Don Carlos' imagination.

But that was one of the charms of these islands—one met so many people. Like ships in the night, they saluted each other and then passed on into life's vast wastes. Save for those few who made a definite impression on one's mind.

The men were sitting on the lanai porch this quiet, lazy afternoon idly whittling away the moments. Suddenly Thompson spoke:

"Don't you think so, Don Carlos?"

"What are you talking about?"

"Oh, I had a little argument in the lounge room this morning, and I say all this tosh they give you about the lure of romance in these islands is pure rot. To me it is just another Americanized port. About as much romance as Crossing Golden Gate and landing in Marin County. I say, old top," giving Don Carlos a resounding whack between the shoulders, "I'm talking to you. Are you daydreaming? Have you found any of this romantic lure?"

Don Carlos looked at him. Thin acrid Thompson, in the late forties. Romance had surely passed him by. Yet he was longing for it.

Don Carlos spoke eagerly: "But there must be something to all these stories one reads of hidden romance in these islands. Just look out there at Diamond Head—and think of Punch Bowl. Calm on the exterior now, but once there ran through them hidden fires of molten lava. Hidden fires—everywhere—I am tempted to believe in this land where nature smiles so warmly. And yet, how silly of me. I dream, I guess, because my mother gave me a romantic name. Phew, isn't it hot?"

A slender wisp of a girl, escorted by a tall, blond chap, ran gaily beneath them under the old bamboo tree, her bathing suit clinging to her supple form.

"Hello—there's Ruth." It was Ruth Wilson. "Let's ask her. She's the logical one to answer that question. She has youth and beauty at her command. What about it, Ruth?" raising his voice.

She came and stood on the lower step of the lanai, still clinging to the bronzed arm of the blond young man.

"Hello, every fair mother's son of you. What about what?"

"Thompson is quite eager to hear your opinion on a weighty matter, eh, Thompson?"

"Oh, I know what a woman would say on this subject before she opens her mouth.

"Pray, explain this mysterious thing to me."

"Thompson wants to know if all this lore of the islands is just drivel, or whether it is real. You've lived here all your life. What about it?"

"Lure? Romance? I hardly know; I am so busy having a wonderful time that I haven't stopped to think. They're beautiful all right, with their sunsets and the moonlit nights, but we have these things the world over. Perhaps if Al and I solve our problem through this new marriage idea of ours, we may be able to tell you about our romance, at least. What do you think, Al?"

Al Harding looked at the wisp of a girl beside him. If Thompson's eyes had not long ago lost their vision, he would have seen all the romance he was seeking in the look of worship the young blond god turned on his small fiance.

"Romance means you—to me, Ruth. And all the lure of the world is tied up in that tiny body of yours."

"Hey! Hey! For that remark, I'll let you beat me out to the raft. So long, everybody."

They were off.

Don Carlos watched their young graceful bodies cutting the waves out toward the raft.

"A lovely little trick—Ruth. Her mother is sorry that she has found this infernal romance which seems to be bothering you, Thompson. She and the young fellow with her are contemplating one of those companionate marriages, and the family is dead set against it."

Stooping, he gathered it up and glanced about for the owner.

Looking into the wicker lounge behind him, he observed framed in the doorway a woman. Her eyes were fastened upon him.

Charlie's Good Deed

By MADELINE KOHLER

Daily Short Story

MY cousin, Charlie Spreckles, is the last of the victorians, Brought up by two old aunts in an upstate village, he lived perpetually in an atmosphere of mignonette and lavender, believed no evil of the world, and always wore his rubbers when it rained.

Two years in New York have not rubbed off the bloom. Charlie snaps briskly to attention and offers his seat to any standing female in the subway. He pilots old ladies carefully across crowded streets, takes home stray dogs and kittens, and in general conducts himself as an overgrown Boy Scout with no end of good deeds up his sleeve.

He drops around occasionally to my flat and takes me to the opera or a concert, or sometimes to a good rousing church sermon. Charlie doesn't like jazz or musical shows, and he has a Very High Ideal of Womanhood.

When I first met Charlie, I remember thinking maliciously that somebody ought to give that Pollyanna complex of his a good jolt. I hoped it might be I. A well-bred pessimism is the order of the day, and six feet two of naive goodness and sweetness can be irritating.

However, Charlie grows on one. I no longer want to smash his idols, and when somebody else gets out the hammer and the lovely plaster things come tumbling down, I'm pained and sorry. I like him well enough even to leave off the rouge and let my skirts down a trifle when he comes around. And if the charming simpleton could vizualize Woman in any other way except the abstract, I might like him well enough to—. Well, after all, we're only third cousins once removed.

* * *

It was a sizzling hot day that I was hurrying through Times Square bent on an afternoon's shopping. The Coney Island buses were drawn up as usual at the corner and the barkers were making a great to-do about the shining sands and cooling sea breezes. I hesitated and was lost. My decision may or may not have been affected by seeing Cousin Charlie through the window of a bus just about to start.

I boarded the bus and dropped down casually beside him. He was meticulously hatted and coated, as usual, among the coatless and perspiring crowd on the bus. A flower twinkled from his buttonhole and his sun-burned face positively radiated happiness and good will.

"Probably wishes the bus would get out of control and run amuck, so he could save all the passengers," I gloomed to myself. Aloud I said, "Sweltering day, and I felt that I must get out of the city."

"Just my good fortune to have you happen along," Charlie beamed, giving my fingers an impersonal squeeze.

The bus lurched and started. Every seat was filled. A small breeze sprung up almost immediately and I leaned back, relaxed, and watched the familiar panorama of New York streets glide by. Soon we were among the tangle of traffic on Manhattan Bridge. I realized with a start that Charlie had not again spoken, and turned to him abruptly.

Then I saw with a little pang that his attention was occupied, very much occupied, elsewhere. The girl was sitting in the seat directly ahead of us, a little slip of a thing in a grey dress and a small grey hat. Her profile, curiously childlike and sad, was turned toward the window. Her shoulders drooped wearily. Charlie was watching her with complete absorption.

He turned, abashed, and caught my eye which must have been gimlet-like at the moment. "Like a dove, isn't she?" he whispered under his breath. His eyes wore the soft and mellow expression I had seen in them that time he lugged home the stray kitten. I hoped he wasn't thinking of lugging the dove-girl home. And I cursed the fate that had made me wear magenta that day.

During the rest of the ride we exchanged small talk in a chatty manner, although I could see that Charlie's heart was not in it, and passed amused comments on the other occupant of the seat ahead. She was one of those florid, flowing creatures who seem to ooze all over any space they occupy and she took up fully three-quarters of the seat.

Black silk in magnificent folds crackled and billowed all about her. Her hat was an awesome affair in three stories and a cupola, with a little waterfall of green feathers at the side. She had bags, boxes and packages, and ate prodigiously from a box of chocolates on her ample lap. She was seen to offer one of these to the dove-girl who declined, thanking her prettily, and turned her nun's face again to the window.

"Anyway," I said reassuringly to Charlie, "She's not hungry."

"Perhaps she's soul-hungry," said Charlie sentimentally. I sniffed.

Presently the sharp tang of the sea came to our nostrils and the voices of the barkers were heard along the midway. Charlie grew almost pensive.

In a few moments more we drew to a stop on a side street and the passengers hurried out. The black silk lady oozed and crackled down the aisle, the dove-girl passed us timidly, eyes cast down. "Well?" I said with some asperity. "Oh, yes," said Charlie, rising dreamily, "I suppose we'd better get out."

As he arose he looked over the back of the seat ahead, then gave an exclamation. "Look," he cried, reaching forward and picking up a dove-grey object, "she's forgotten something. Her little handbag."

"She would," I groaned.

We hastened out of the bus and down the street. Turning into the midway we saw her a little way head, swaying gracefully along, cool and aloof among the boisterous crowd.

"Pardon," said Charlie with his best Chesterfieldian bow, "your purse, Miss. You left it on the bus." He smiled warmly and shyly, holding it out to her.

She stopped, surprised, her dove's eyes sweeping his radiant face. "Oh, thank you, thank you," she said in a small sweet voice, taking the purse, "How can I thank you?"

She snapped the bag open. I was surprised to observe that it opened like a billfold and seemed to be plentifully filled with banknotes, large and small. She hadn't looked like a very affluent person.

"Oh, no, indeed," Charlie held up a hand in shocked protest. "It is a pleasure to return it to you. But—er—if you are alone, perhaps I could escort you where you are going. Rough crowd around here."

The dove-girl looked nervously and timidly about her. "If you could just get me a taxicab," she said, "it—it's a long way."

They moved off. Charlie's arm tenderly supported her elbow, she gazed trustfully up to him. Apparently Cousin Charlie had forgotten all about me. "I'll wait in the bus," I called after them, not without a tinge of bitterness.

As I sat idly in the bus, reflecting on the curious nature of men in general and of Victorians in particular, a figure suddenly heaved itself through the door, a crackling black silk figure with its turretted hat askew. It charged, panting, down the aisle and swooped into the seat ahead of me. "My purse, my purse!" the figure cried, "I left it right here. My grey purse with all the rent money in it. Oh, oh, conductor," her voice rose in a wail, "did nobody find my purse?"

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

Woman's Game—and Man's

* * *

Most of our standard jokes, today, are about "parked cars," "ginthetic kisses," "hot mammas" and philandering husbands. And jokes show which way the wind blows.

* * *

But playing at love is not a woman's game. It is a man's game. Love is the most important and vital thing in a woman's life; and it is far more important to her than it is to a man. This is a biological fact, not a theory.

HELEN ROWLAND

* * *

To a man, love is just the icing on the cake; to a woman, it is the whole feast, from the antipasto to the demi-tasse, from the olives to the roast.

* * *

A man can manage to worry along, somehow, without love and never know what he has missed. He can even jolly himself into believing that he prefers the little near-loves and synthetic loves to the real thing. But a woman who lives and dies without love KNOWS that she has never really lived. She is just a rose-bush that has died without ever having bloomed.

* * *

Woman may play a man's game in business, in politics or in art, and beat him at it. But in love, she has got to play her OWN game, and to play it better than a man does. For a man plays just to PLAY; but a woman plays to WIN—and most of the cards are stacked against her!

* * *

That is why the world is full of restless and unsatisfied women today. Woman is trying to play MAN'S game, in the name of the "Single Standard," and the result is a grand big whoopee. A grand big whoopee for the MEN—but an awful headache for the women.

* * *

Woman is pretending to take love as lightly and carelessly as a man does; to make a pastime of it; to play with it or ignore it as he does.

* * *

But a woman cannot be honestly cynical or flippant about love. A woman cannot ignore love any more than she can ignore the law of gravity. It is the essence of her being; the most compelling force in her nature; the sine qua non of her existence. When she PLAYS with love, she is playing with T. N. T.; and when she gets through, there isn't enough of her left to make it worth while to pick up the pieces.

* * *

By pretending to play at love, woman has given man a glorious opportunitiy to make a little game of it—a jolly little game, in which he takes all the winnings, and she gets only the "consolation prize."

* * *

Man will play at love, just as long as woman will play with him. But when women STOP playing at love, man will have to stop playing, too—because they will have nobody to play with! THAT'S the answer!

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Simple Primary Ills Often Lead to Grief

TO the layman there is no more disturbing experience than to fear the presence of Bright's disease. This ailment used to be so fatal that everybody came to dread it.

DR. COPELAND

The fact is that this disease is less serious than the things that cause it. By this I mean that it just happens to be the kidneys that are made to bear the brunt of an attack that might as well have been directed against some other part of the body.

There are two types of Bright's disease, the acute and the chronic. The chronic form may exist a long time before it is suspected.

This ailment is named after Dr. Bright, who first described it. It is really an inflammation of the kidney or of the important parts of the kidney.

There is an old-fashioned idea that Bright's disease is the result of excessive meat eating. No informed person believes that today. At least nine times out of ten it comes from an infection or poison.

You may recall that many times children who have had scarlet fever may have kidney trouble following it. Indeed, any one of the infections or contagious diseases may generate body poisons which will cause an inflammation of the kidney.

Most of us fail to have just the respect we should have for acute tonsilitis. I regard it as a disease which should be included among the infections. It is likely to run almost as definite a course as scarlet fever or typhoid fever.

Of course, I do not mean it has the symptoms of these diseases, but what I have in mind is the fact that it runs a very definite course. What led me to speak about it today is that inflammation of the kidney may follow acute tonsilitis, just as it does scarlet fever.

If I had my way the expectant mother would never have any uncomfortable symptoms. Unfortunately, it is not uncommon to find inflammation of the kidneys as a complication of pregnancy.

Acute Bright's disease, or acute nephritis, as the doctors call it, may have dropsy or swelling of the tissues as an early symptom. In a severe attack there is likely to be some fever with the usual distressing symptoms of fever.

Dull pain in the back, over the kidneys, is another symptom. This may not be pronounced, but pressure in the region will indicate the tenderness.

Sickness at the stomach and vomiting are not uncommon. These may be followed by uremia. This is the word used to describe the severe headaches, great restlessness, convulsions and delirum which accompany the uremic attack. There may be temporary blindness, dizziness and even loss of consciousness.

I have not told you about this disease to frighten you. I have done it with a view to making you realize how important it is not to neglect influenza, the infectious diseases, tonsilitis and any other acute ailment. The primary condition may be of little consequence, but if it is neglected there may be serious kidney involvement.

Answers to Health Queries

M. B. Q.—What diet would you advise for a patient who cannot take sugar on account of acidity? Is honey harmful? What about raisins and prunes?

A.—Eliminate sweets and acid-forming foods. Eat plenty of green vegetables and fresh fruit. Honey is rich in sugar but is more readily digested than the latter. Raisins and prunes should be suitable.

* * *

M. A. M. Q.—What do you advise for nervousness?

A.—Try to build up the general health and this will benefit the entire nervous system. Exercise daily in the open air. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Avoid poor elimination.

* * *

M. V. Q.—Has the diet anything to do with difficult breathing during the night?

A.—Yes, it is possible that you may have gases which interfere with your breathing. Correct the diet and this trouble will be overcome.

* * *

Mrs. J. D. Q.—Is vichy water taken as a beverage—say a glassful daily—good for kidney ailments?

A.—Yes, but you should be under the care of a physician who will advise the proper medication and diet.

* * *

M. H. K. Q.—How can the vocal cords be improved?

A.—Take vocal instructions.

* * *

Mrs. M. H. Q.—What do you advise for nasal catarrh?

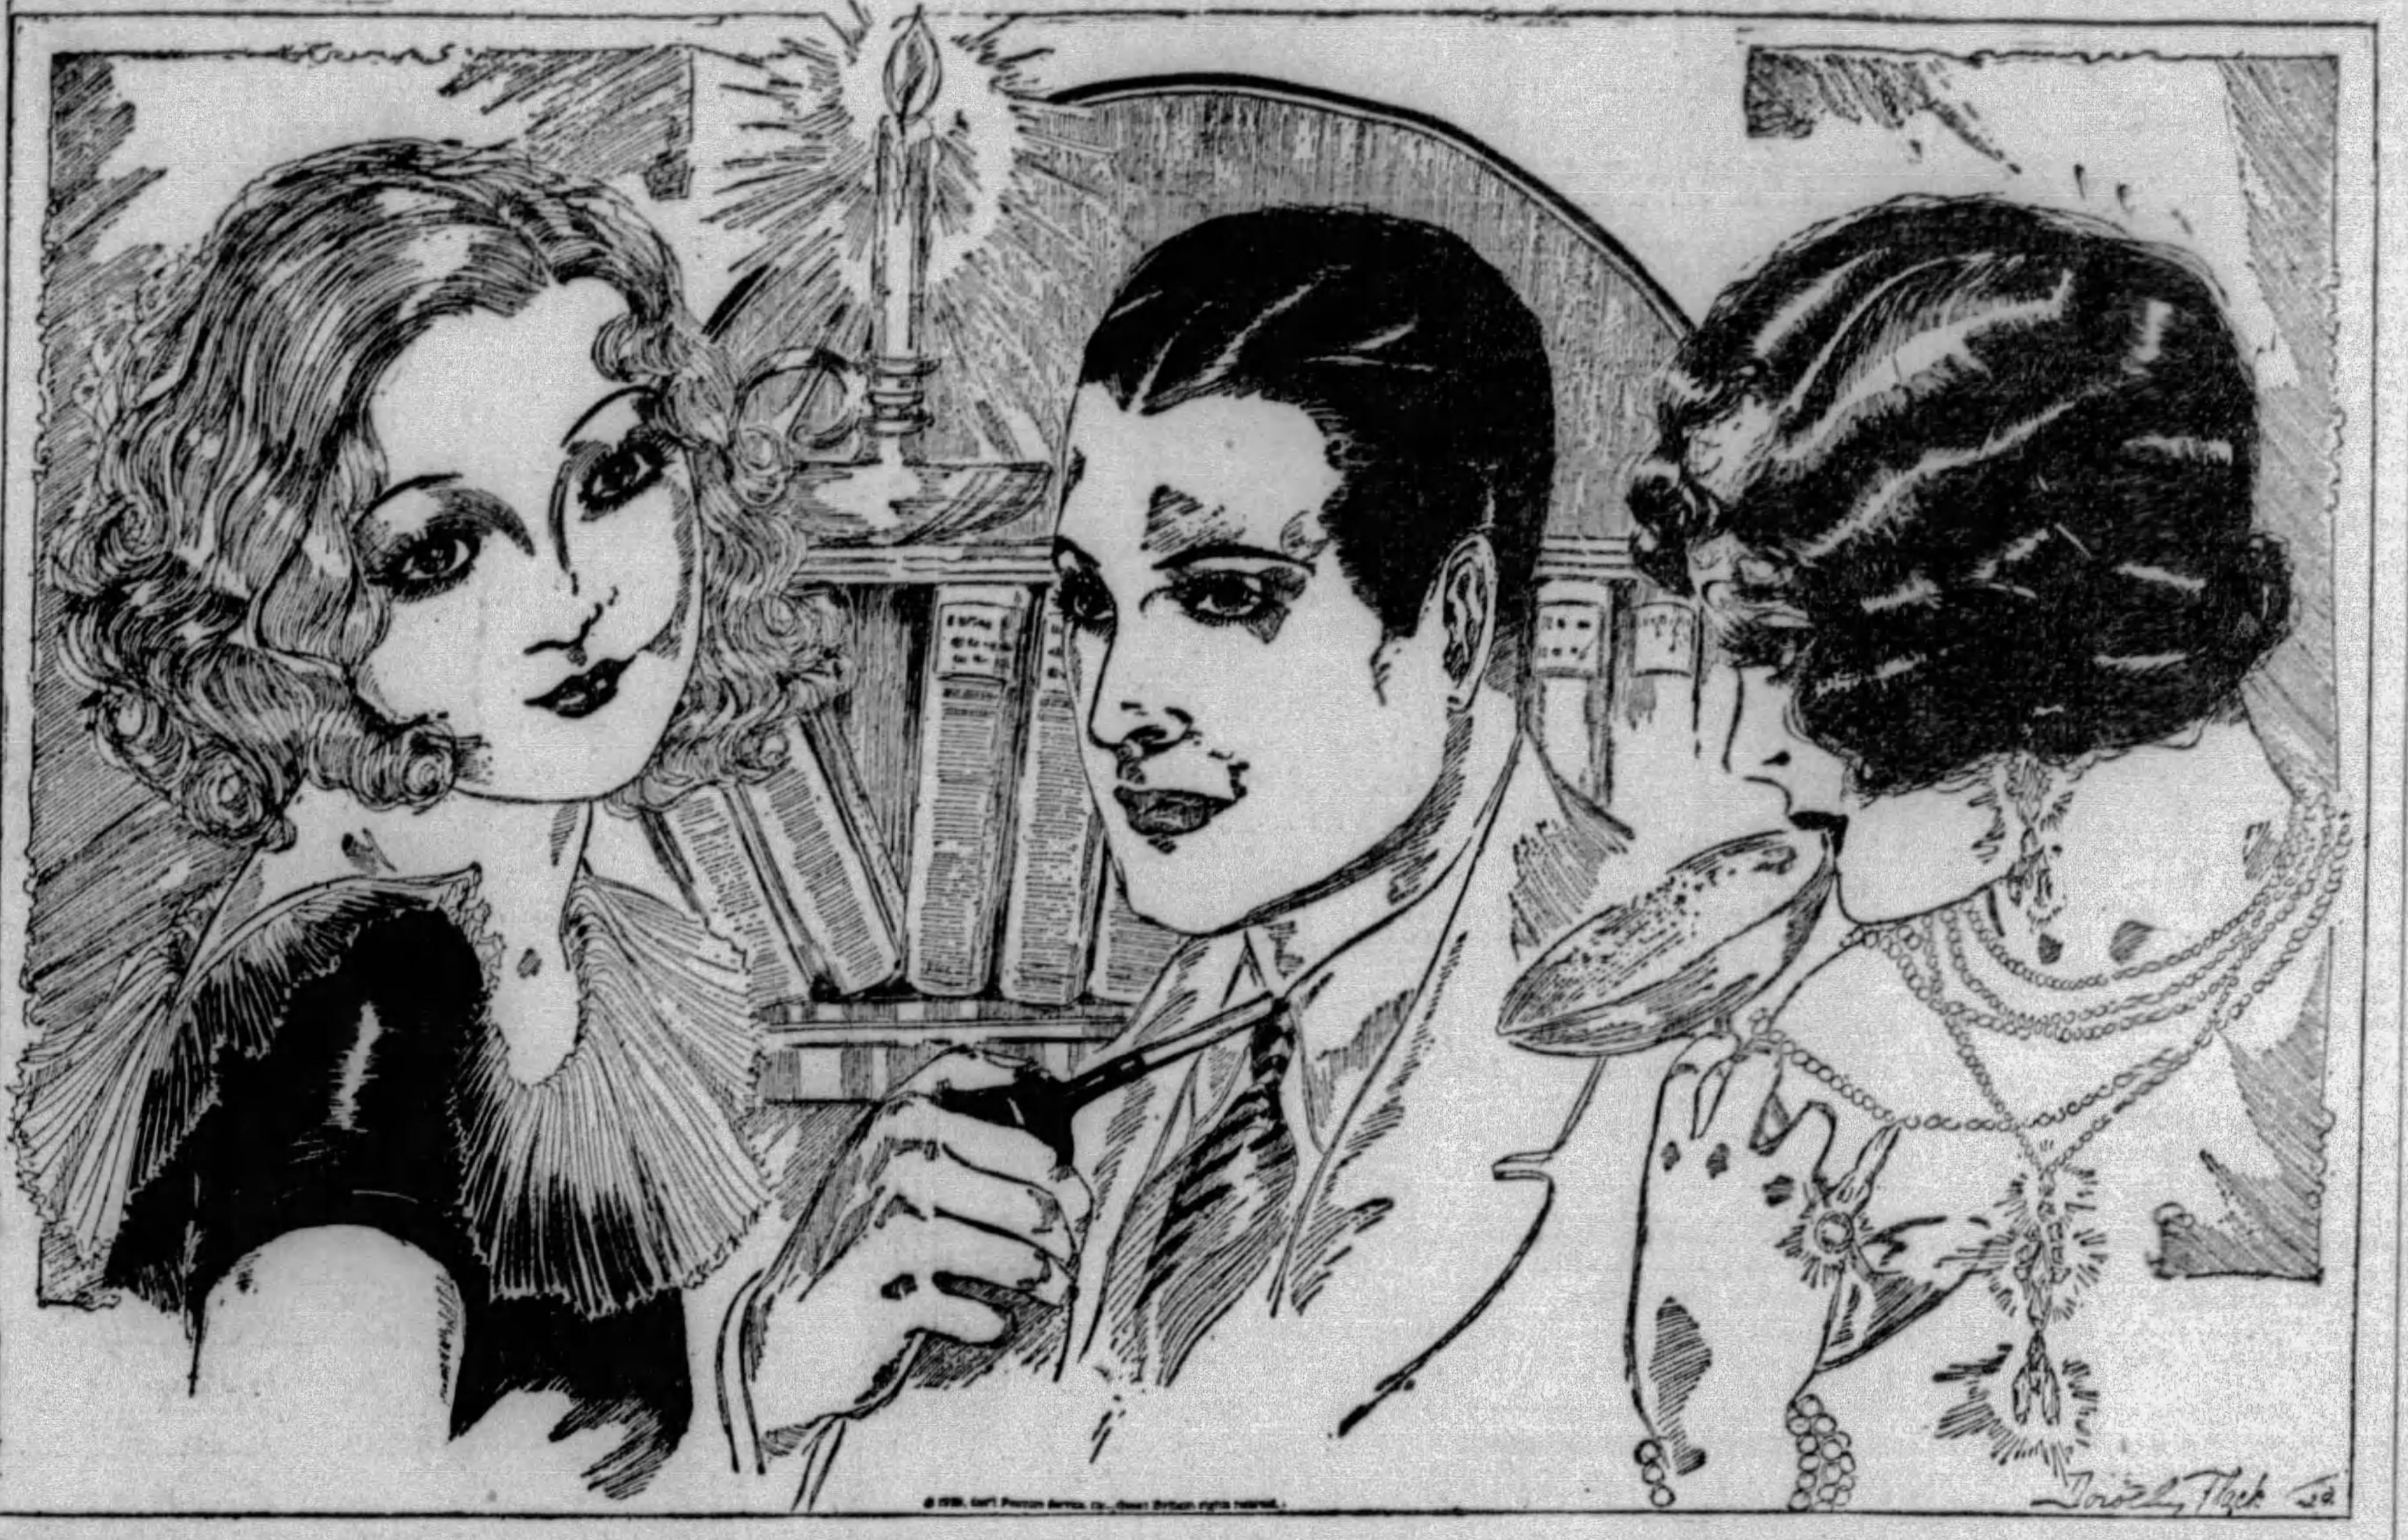
Drawn by Dorothy Flack



AFTER all, there are really only two classes into which men place the women they are sorting out for life mates—the sophisticated and the unsophisticated. He may play 'around a lot with all sorts of girls, but when it comes down to making his choice when he's ready to settle down, he takes great pains to weigh all their merits and faults.

And then what happens? He forgets all about the girls who have been good pals and play time girls, for he figures that their chief stock in trade is their ability to play and do nothing else. And he turns to the girls whom he has laughed at through the years and sneeringly called old-fashioned and plain jane. But after all, he sees his own mother in her plainness and unsophisticated attitude, and therein lies his choice, for the one whom he chooses to walk through the path of Life with him.

So, if you're a wise little girl, there will be two of you. Occasionally the play girl will be uppermost, but then the nice, plain, little girl which you really are will assert herself, and let him see that you can be both at will. This is what will win him eventually, for he wants a girl to play when he's in the mood, and a girl to mother him when he's blue and tired.

And he'll find that he has both mate and playmate for a partner and that will make for happiness for you both. For Love is the most adaptable thing in the world, particularly when one loves and is loved.

A Continuation of Love's Embers

Lillian's Courage Fails Her in Dreaded Interview With Brixton

MY ruse was almost too successful. I had planned to make Lillian forget her foolish worry over Marion's association with Ronald and Carolyn Brixton by reminding her that she had an interview scheduled with the young people's stepfather, Samuel Brixton, and that I wished to tell her some things I had learned of Charles Owen, Mr. Brixton's half-brother. I expected that she would be startled into attention to the thing she had been dreading, but I did not expect to see her put her hand to her throat at my reminder while one shiver after another rippled over her body as if she were shaking with a chill.

I saw that this queer obsession of hers concerning Samuel Brixton had robbed her of poise, almost of sanity, left her defenseless against whatever scheme he might have hidden behind his proffer to return the money which he had obtained through a ruse from Marion's father, Tom Morton. Katherine was right—she must not be left alone for an instant with either Brixton or his half-brother, Charles Owen. One of us must be with her.

She evidently had nerved herself up the night before to greet the Brixtons and keep her promise that her old friend Helen Brixton should not suspect the shuddering aversion, which was hers, for the man who had been associated with Marion's father. But the strain had been too much for her, and as I watched the long, uncontrollable shudders go over her body I doubted whether she could go through with the interview which was the reason for the Brixton's visit.

With the realization that my cue was silence, I held her firmly until the paroxysm had passed. Then I slipped my arm around her waist, and walking with her to the library, put her upon the couch and covered her warmly.

"You haf breakfast already?" she queried, her gaze trained suspiciously upon the glasses and plates whch had held the hot milk and sandwiches for Marion and Ronald. I wondered what she would have said if she had found the kitchen as it looked when the buffet supper was over, and thanked my particular little joss for the foresight, which had led Katherine and me, with Mary's aid, to put things in order again.

"No," I said, and explained briefly who had used the glasses. I then poured some milk into a pan and put it over a burner of the gas stove, Katie chuckling audibly over my casual statement that Ronald and Marion had gone to see the sunrise on the ocean.

"Dot feller he tumble hees head ofer hees heels, he so in lof, by Marion," she said, and I was thankful that Lillian was safely out of earshot.

"Don't say that where anyone can hear you," I admonished her. "Mrs. Underwood wouldn't like it. Will you please put some crackers on a plate and bring it to me with a tray and a glass and napkin?"

"I do say nodings," Katie said a bit sullenly. "Who get breakfast now? Somebody else go see sunrise on ocean?"

"No." I bit my lip to keep from laughing outright, for Katie in a sullen mood is highly mirth-provoking. "Mrs. Underwood doesn't feel well, has a chill, and I want her to drink some hot milk."

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Serving the Guests

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. Is it proper for the host to serve the hostess first, or should he serve his guests first?

2. When selecting handkerchiefs as a gift, is it correct to get the initial of the surname or the Christian name?

GENEVIEVE.

WHEN the host is serving he is given a splendid opportunity for graciously showing honor to the guests who are at the table with him and his lady. Therefore, for him to pass the first plate to their guest of honor, the woman guest of honor, is appropriate and hospitable. And I am sure that the hostess will agree with this. As he passes the plate, he says, "Grace, will you keep this?" or "Mrs. Allen, this is for you."

The next plate is passed to the woman on his left, the woman who "ranks second," that is, next to the guest of honor, who sits on the host's right. And so on, for all the women guests first. Then the hostess would be served. And then the gentlemen, in the order of seating—distinction, first the gentleman on the right of the hostess, then the gentleman on her left, and then in the order of distinction or age. This gracious way of dispensing hospitality is excellent; what we think of at the fine old English tables, when the hospitable and expansive host carved the "juicie meates" at the table.

2. This depends. If the gentleman lives in a family where there are several men with the same final initial, it would, of course, be wiser to use the initial of the first name. But best of all, the handkerchiefs should be embroidered with two or three initials.

'After-Theater Eats'

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When one intends to spend the evening dancing in the grill room of a hotel, what would be the proper food to order?

SUE.

I HAVE prepared for this answer just the pamphlet that I should love to have the opportunity of sending you. It is called "After-Theater Eats," and I have listed everything in it that I could think of, from the simplest of orders to the most sophisticated of foods "under glass." Would you be willing to send me an addressed envelope, and let me send this pamphlet to you?

Replacing a Loss

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Some time ago a young man took a ring from my finger. The ring was made of green and white gold and held a small diamond. The young man has lost the ring and now wishes to replace it. Is it proper to accept a ring from him in place of the one he lost? Would it be proper to take a diamond ring, on the order of the one lost, or should it be another ring of approximately the same value? The young man and I are only friends and I would not want to obligate myself to him in any way.

I. H. D.

IT IS proper, indeed, really obligatory, for the young man to return to you, in place of the ring that he carelessly lost, a ring as near as possible like the one that he lost. It would be better if you do not say what kind it should be—taking for granted that he will bend every effort to replace the lost ring with a similar ring.

Horoscopes

Sunday, May 19

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds portent of restlessness and change as well as some unwelcome precipitation of events without warning. Postpone new undertakings, be wise in employment and do not offend those in high places.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of restlessness and desire for change, removal or travel, possibly through loss of employment or finances, but all new ventures should be undertaken only after due deliberation and wise counsel. Safeguard against the stated losses.

A child born on this day may have some unusual talents, but these it may not wisely apply, being restless and prone to run counter to superiors or employers.

Monday, May 20

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a particularly active state of affairs with a tendency to promote new contracts, agreements and projects with zeal and much sagacity. And while these may succeed through the background of hard labor, steadfastness and stability, yet they are beset with a menace of subtlety or craft, unless extreme precaution be exercised. Domestic, social and romantic relations may engage the attention and bring much happiness.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of great activity in promoting new ventures, with new contracts and arrangements, and these should be the climax of hard labor and persistency, but there is a word of warning against treachery, subtlety and conspiracy. Personal affiliations are gratifying.

A child born on this day may be excellently equipped with social and intellectual graces and talents; these backed up by practical and stable qualities making for success and happiness. But it may be beset by snares, subtlety and intrigues.

His zeal none seconded, as out of season judged, or singular and rash.—Milton.

ELSIE ROBINSON

Author of "LISTEN, WORLD"

Elsie Robinson is a philosopher . . . but one would hardly call her gentle. She is brisk, though never brusque in setting forth her views. She likes to jog people out of mental ruts and, judging by her tremendous popularity among the countless thousands of Sun-Telegraph readers in Pittsburgh and vicinity, they like to have her do it. Her advice is sound and well taken. Read her articles as they appear every day in Pittsburgh's most complete and interesting newspaper,

BUSINESS CLUB MEET OPENED

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 18.—Nearly 500 delegates from more than 40 cities of Pennsylvania had arrived yesterday for the eleventh annual state convention of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The convention convened and will continue in session until Sunday afternoon. The keynote of the convention is "Better Business Women for a Better Business World."

The delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Elizabeth White, secretary of the Quota International. The following five state officers are in attendance: Mrs. Helen Schluraff, Erie, president; Mrs. Beulah F. Manley, Williamsport, vice president; Miss Mary Lyte, Lancaster, Pa., corresponding secretary; Miss Helen A. Blair, Wellsboro, Pa., recording secretary, and Miss Anna A. Adams, Pittsburgh, treasurer.

The convention was addressed yesterday by Frederick A. Godcarles, Pennsylvania State Librarian. Today, Edward Martin, Pennsylvania state treasurer, speaks on "Thrift." Tonight in the Cathedral a banquet, with Dr. Mildred Rogers, local club president, as toastmistress, will be held.

Sunday morning an emblem breakfast will be held under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Club with Mrs. Beulah Manley presiding. This gathering will be addressed by Judge Florence Allen, of Cleveland, member of the Ohio State Supreme Court, and Miss Helen Havener, editor of Independent Women. The Castleton Hotel is the convention headquarters.

Bellevue K. of C. To Meet Monday

Vare Backer Freed Of Senate Contempt

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP.)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday freed Thomas W. Cunningham, against whom an indictment had been returned by the Federal grand jury in the District of Columbia charging him with contempt of the Senate in connection with the Vare senatorial election case.

Cunningham was indicted after he had refused to tell the Senate committee the source of $50,000 he contributed to the Vare campaign in the senatorial contest of 1926.

Backing Car, Father Kills 2-Year-Old Girl

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 18.—Thinking that her father was going away without telling her goodbye, Helen Alcroft, 2, darted from a sandpile yesterday where she was playing, into the path of her father's car and was killed. Albert Alcroft, the father, is golf profession at the Youngstown Country Club. He was backing out of the garage at the time.

Ellwood City School Tax Set at 35 Mills

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—Ellwood City's school tax will be 35 mills this year, an increase of three mills over last year made necessary by a drop in the valuation of $50,000 which was not discovered until the board made up its budget. The additional funds are necessary to complete the new high school auditorium.

Sharon Man Hangs Self With Chain

SHARON, Pa., May 18.—The epidemic of suicides in Mercer County continued yesterday, when Tom Mikus, 40, hanged himself with a chain from a tree in the picnic grounds at Buhl Park. Mikus had been employed in the park. He has no relatives. During the past week three persons have killed themselevs in this district.

Fruit Loss $100,000 In Venango Frost

FRANKLIN, Pa., May 18.—Damage estimated in excess of $100,000 resulted to Venango County's fruit crop by heavy frost. The temperature here was 30 degrees, but a low mark of 22 was reported in rural sections. Ice formed and snow fell in Sugar Creek Township, three miles distant. Cherry, plum and apple trees and grapes suffered.

NO. 321.

AN ORDINANCE — Authorizing and directing an increase of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of Twenty-two Thousand Dollars ($22,000.00) and providing for the issue and sale of bonds of said City in said amount, to provide funds for the purpose of paying the indebtedness represented by notes of the former Borough of Hays, now part of the City of Pittsburgh, and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh be increased by the amount of Twenty-two Thousand Dollars ($22,000.00) to provide funds for the purpose of paying the indebtedness represented by notes of the former Borough of Hays, now part of the City of Pittsburgh.

SECTION 2. That bonds of the City of Pittsburgh in the aggregate principal amount of Twenty-two Thousand Dollars ($22,000.00) be issued for the purpose aforesaid. Said bonds shall be dated as of the first day of May, 1929, and shall mature on the first day of May in the year 1930. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-quarter per centum (4¼%) per annum, payable on the first day of November, 1929, and the first day of May, 1930, without deduction for any taxes which may be levied thereon by the State of Pennsylvania pursuant to any present or future law, the payment of which is hereby assumed by the City of Pittsburgh. The principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the City Treasurer of said City. Said bonds shall be a registered bond or bonds, not exceeding the aggregate principal amount of Twenty-two Thousand Dollars ($22,000.00), and the City Controller is hereby authorized and directed to issue the same in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, the expense thereof to be charged to Appropriation No. 42 (Contingent Fund). Said bonds shall be registered with the City Treasurer, and shall be transferable only on the books of said City Treasurer, and shall be signed by the Mayor, countersigned by the City controller and sealed with the corporate seal of the City of Pittsburgh. In case of the absence or disability of any such officials, the bonds shall be signed by the City Official authorized by law or by resolution of Council to act in his place. Each of said bonds shall be known and designated as Funding A Bond, 1929.

SECTION 3. That said bonds shall be sold by the Mayor and the City Controller, at not less than par and accrued interest, after giving such notice of sale as may be required by law. Provided, however, that such uninvested balances in the Sinking Funds as may be available for such purpose, shall be invested in the same without public notice by advertising or otherwise. And the proceeds of such sale, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be and are hereby appropriated and set aside and applied to the purposes set forth in this Ordinance, and to no other purpose, whatsoever.

SECTION 4. That until said bonds, issued as herein provided, shall be fully paid, there is hereby levied and assessed upon all subjects now by law liable, or hereafter to be made liable, to assessment for taxation for City purposes a tax, commencing the first year after said debt shall have been increased or incurred, namely the year 1930, sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as the same shall accrue and become payable, and any tax on said interest which by the terms of said bonds is assumed by the City, and, also a tax commencing in said year equal to One Hundred per centum (100%) of the total amount of said bonds hereby authorized, to be set apart as a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and redemption of said bonds as they become due and payable according to their terms, and the same is hereby appropriated out of the revenue of said City for the payment and redemption aforesaid. There is also hereby appropriated out of the general revenue of said City an amount sufficient to meet the installment of interest due on said bonds during the current fiscal year.

SECTION 5. That all bonds issued by the authority of this Ordinance and the Acts of Assembly authorizing the same shall be and become part of the funded debt of the City of Pittsburgh, and shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities thereof, and shall be free from taxation, as aforesaid, and for the payment of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon semi-annually as the same shall become due and payable, the faith, honor, credit and property of said City are hereby pledged.

SECTION 6. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Passed in Council, May 6, 1929.
Approved, May 11, 1929.

NOTICE is hereby given that Ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in Council of the City of Pittsburgh on March 19, 1928, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

Bill No. 846.

AN ORDINANCE — Authorizing and directing the grading, paving and curbing of Forward avenue, from Beechwood boulevard to Mt Royal road, letting a contract therefor, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed against and collected from property specially benefited thereby.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Forward avenue, from Beechwood boulevard to Mt. Royal road, be graded, paved and curbed.

SECTION 2. The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the grading, paving and curbing of said street between said points; the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the Acts of Assembly and Ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices, if let in separate contracts, not to exceed the total sum of Nineteen Thousand Six Hundred ($19,600.00) Dollars, which is the estimate of the whole cost as furnished by the Department of Public Works.

SECTION 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same, and the City's share of said work to be chargeable to and payable from Code Account No. ——, People's Bond Issue 1928.

SECTION 4. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that Ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on April 1, 1929, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL NO. 4494.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing the grading to a width of 36 feet, paving and curbing of Fallowfield avenue, from Crane avenue to present paving at Bayonne avenue; letting a contract therefor, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed against and collected from property specially benefited thereby.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Fallowfield avenue, from Crane avenue to present paving at Bayonne avenue, be graded to a width of 36 feet, paved and curbed.

SECTION 2. The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the grading to a width of 36 feet, paving and curbing of said street between said points; the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the said Acts of Assembly and Ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices, if let in separate contracts, not to exceed the total sum of Twenty-five Thousand Eight Hundred ($25,800.00) Dollars, which is the estimate of the whole cost as furnished by the Department of Public Works.

SECTION 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same, and the City's share of said work to be chargeable to and payable from Bond Fund No. 293, Street Bonds, 1928.

SECTION 4. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Notice is hereby given that ordinances, copies of which are published herewith, were introduced in Council of the City of Pittsburgh on May 6, 1929, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits viz:

BILL NO. 4899.

AN ORDINANCE — Widening Shore avenue in the Twenty-second Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Scotland street to a point 180.96 feet westwardly therefrom and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Shore avenue in the Twenty-second Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Scotland street to a point 180.96 feet westwardly thereform be and the same is hereby widened to a variable width so that the street as widened shall lie between the following described lines, to-wit:

The southerly line shall begin on the easterly line of Scotland street at a point distant south 21° 50' 00" east 46.90 feet along the easterly line of Scotland street from the present northerly line of General Robinson street west of a width of 50 feet; thence shall extend westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 200 feet, a central angle of 14° 31' 20" and a chord bearing north 77° 01' 40" west for an arc distance of 50.69 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent north 69° 46' 00" west 99.83 feet to a point of curve; thence westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 200 feet and a central angle of 34° 25' 00" for an arc distance of 120.14 feet to a point of tangent, said point of tangent being perpendicularly opposite and 80 feet south of a point on the northerly line of Shore avenue, which latter mentioned point is 180.96 feet westwardly along the northerly line of Shore avenue from the westerly line of Scotland street of a width of 33 feet.

SECTION 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Shore avenue in the Twenty-second Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Scotland street to a point 180.96 feet westwardly therefrom to be widened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

SECTION 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

SECTION 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

Maybe I'm Wrong

by JOHN P. MEDBURY

Social Accomplishments

Vital Statistics

To Whom It May Concern

Feminine Dumbbells

The bride who said she couldn't make a pound cake because she didn't have a hammer.

Justifiable Homicide

Financial Note

Matrimonial Martyrs

The man who's head over heels in love will soon be up to his neck and ears in debt.

Among the Illiteratti

An unknown writer got $10.00 a word the other day. He talked back to a judge.

Dainty Dilemas

Ode to a Chicagoan

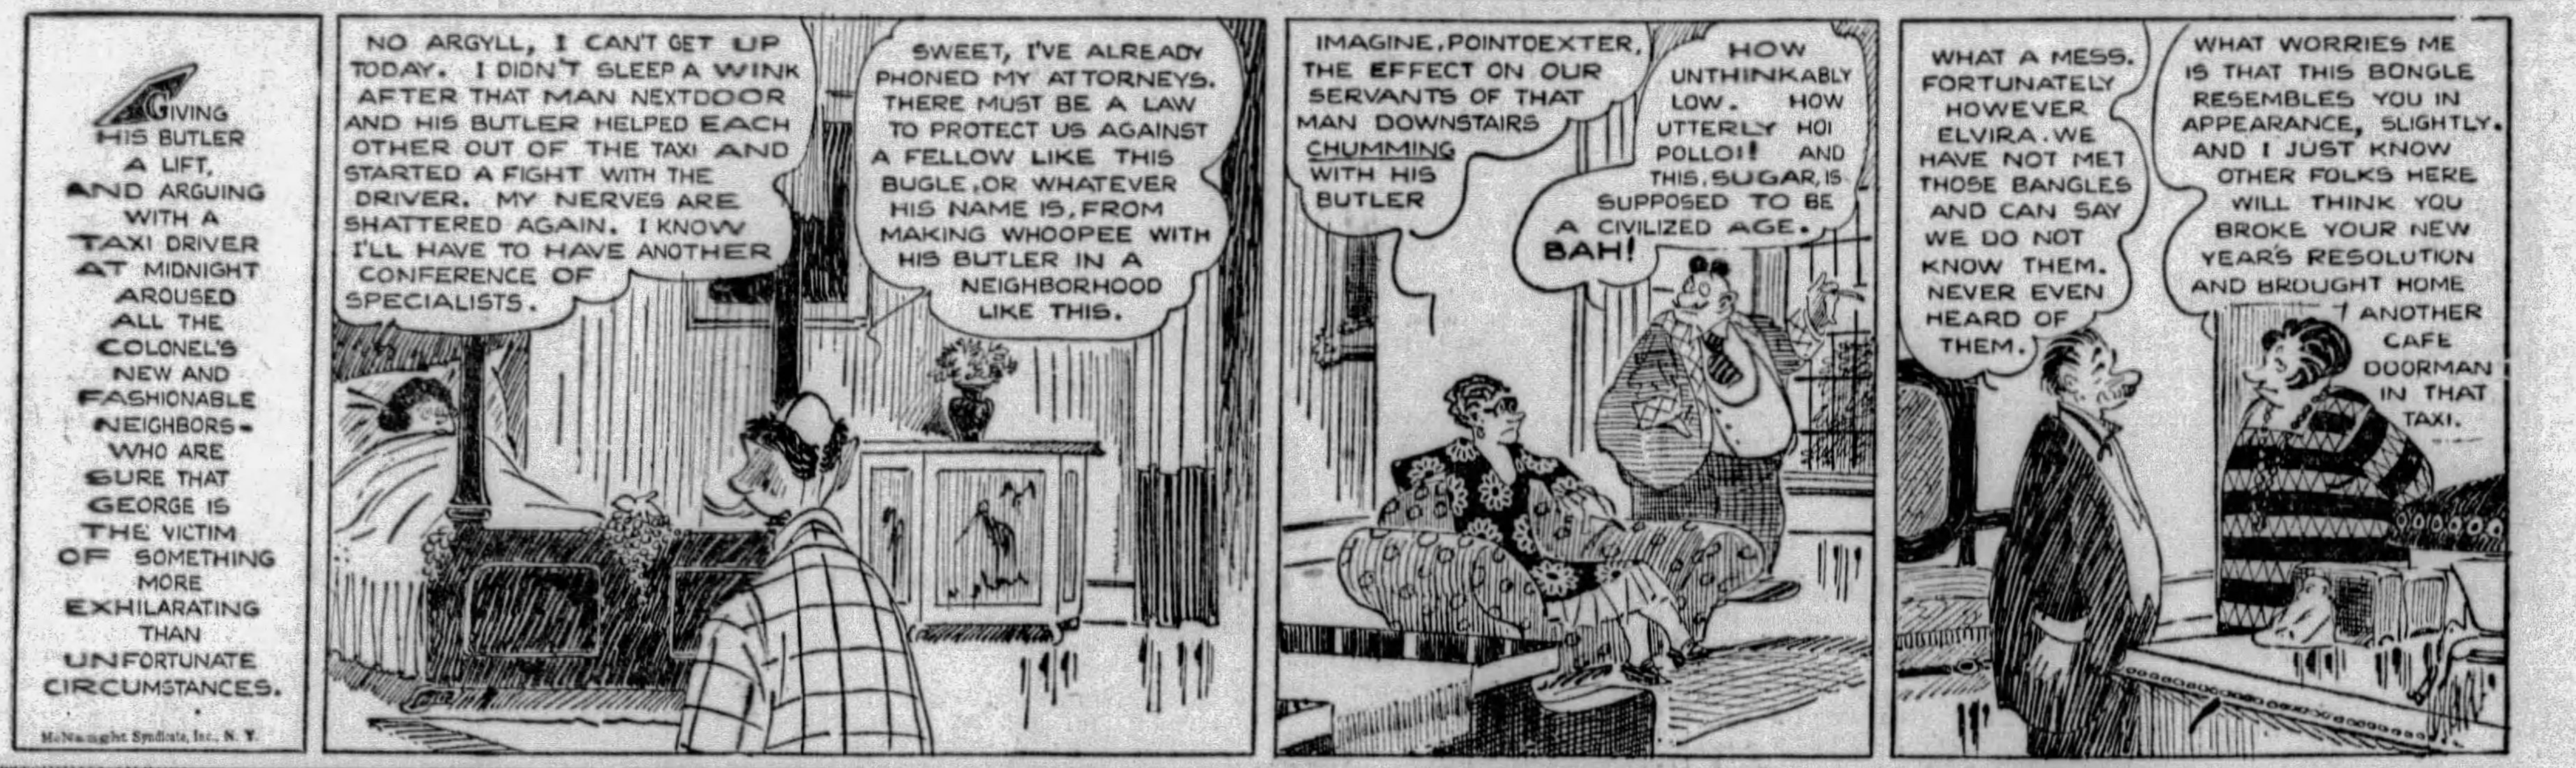
High Class Neighbors Make Low Estimates



GIVING HIS BUTLER A LIFT, AND ARGUING WITH A TAXI DRIVER AT MIDNIGHT AROUSED ALL THE COLONEL'S NEW AND FASHIONABLE NEIGHBORS — WHO ARE SURE THAT GEORGE IS THE VICTIM OF SOMETHING MORE EXHILARATING THAN UNFORTUNATE CIRCUMSTANCES.
NO ARGYLL, I CAN'T GET UP TODAY. I DIDN'T SLEEP A WINK AFTER THAT MAN NEXTDOOR AND HIS BUTLER HELPED EACH OTHER OUT OF THE TAXI AND STARTED A FIGHT WITH THE DRIVER. MY NERVES ARE SHATTERED AGAIN. I KNOW I'LL HAVE TO HAVE ANOTHER CONFERENCE OF SPECIALISTS.
SWEET, I'VE ALREADY PHONED MY ATTORNEYS. THERE MUST BE A LAW TO PROTECT US AGAINST A FELLOW LIKE THIS BUGLE, OR WHATEVER HIS NAME IS, FROM MAKING WHOOPEE WITH HIS BUTLER IN A NEIGHBORHOOD LIKE THIS.
IMAGINE, POINTDEXTER, THE EFFECT ON OUR SERVANTS OF THAT MAN DOWNSTAIRS CHUMMING WITH HIS BUTLER
HOW UNTHINKABLY LOW. HOW UTTERLY HOI POLLOI! AND THIS, SUGAR, IS SUPPOSED TO BE A CIVILIZED AGE. BAH!
WHAT A MESS. FORTUNATELY HOWEVER ELVIRA, WE HAVE NOT MET THOSE BANGLES AND CAN SAY WE DO NOT KNOW THEM. NEVER EVEN HEARD OF THEM.
WHAT WORRIES ME IS THAT THIS BONGLE RESEMBLES YOU IN APPEARANCE, SLIGHTLY. AND I JUST KNOW OTHER FOLKS HERE WILL THINK YOU BROKE YOUR NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION AND BROUGHT HOME ANOTHER CAFE DOORMAN IN THAT TAXI.

City-Borough League Is for Metro Charter

Indorsement of the metropolitan charter by the League of Boroughs, Townships and Third Class Cities, voted at a meeting of the organization held in Pittsburgh, gives the charter the support of the organized municipalities and townships of the county, and should have the effect of doing much to assure success the plan for a county-wide city at the polls June 25.

In the speaking preceding the adoption of the resolution of indorsement sentiment in behalf of the charter was vigorously expressed by representatives of various places. The delegates recorded themselves as being certain that the charter would win the required two-thirds vote of 51 per cent of all divisions of the county provided citizens take the trouble to go to the polling places and vote. If sentiment throughout the county is reflected by those attending the meeting, that assumption of victory for the charter is correct.

Yet, it was not taken for granted that such is the case, and delegates expressed the opinion that citizens should be asked to study the charter and that meetings be arranged at which the charter plan would be discussed by speakers familiar with its provisions.

Forcible annexation of many boroughs to the present City of Pittsburgh was seen as a possibility, should the charter fail of adoption on June 25, by Lewis W. Hagmaier, member of the General Assembly and Burgess of Aspinwall.

All the varied opinions expressed are of interest, and it is likely that they show the official feeling on the subject existing outside the City of Pittsburgh. This might be taken to guarantee adoption of the charter, since it is pretty certain the vote here will be recorded in favor of the metropolitan plan. But it will not be wise to take for granted that which may prove to be a false hope.

As has been pointed out, the charter cannot win by a mere majority. It must receive two-thirds of all votes cast in a minimum of more than half of the total number of cities, boroughs and townships in the county. Should it lack a few votes of giving that majority in but one place required to give the quota of 51 per cent, and have a majority in all, it would fail. Hence it will be seen that it is important that all citizens who are in favor of the charter shall vote on June 25.

It is in the polling places that the decision will rest. Citizens should be prepared to go there on the day assigned They should be prepared to vote intelligently. There is more than a month in which to make that preparation. Meantime boosters of the charter should get busy.

Allegheny Girl Scouts Gain Ten-Year 'Merit'

Girl Scouts of Allegheny County are celebrating their tenth anniversary. Only 10 years old, yet they have 3,000 girls between the ages of 10 and 15 as active members. These are [illegible] who engage in many activities, some of which [illegible] o them were they not affiliated with the Girl

Girl Scout troops are under the direction of 123 captains and 108 lieutenants, who give much of their time to the welfare of younger members of their sex. Like the Boy Scout, the Girl Scout seeks to obtain "merit." This she does through studies in such subjects as home-making, health, fine arts, nature study, sports and character building. Merit badges to the number of 1,922 have been distributed in the last year. Activities in the recreational line include supervised camp life.

Girl Scouts have a definite purpose to be honorable, trustworthy, loyal, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful and thrifty. An organization with such aims surely is deserving of congratulations on having achieved a record of 10 years of worthy activity.

Ownership of Papers Is Concealed From Editors

Another Example of Power Trust's Underhand Methods.

Ask William S. Lavarre and Harold Hall, two New Yorkers with very limited newspaper experience and capital, who were supplied with a bag of gold by the International Paper and Power Company and authorized to buy newspapers right and left, in the land of cotton.

They told the Federal Trade Commission last week of gaily spending $870,000 of the power company's money to buy four papers, and trying to get their hands on a dozen more. All the power company received in return was the notes of the two young gentlemen, who had tried to borrow from bankers and failed.

They said the stock of the purchased newspapers was "morally pledged" to their backers. But Lavarre and Hall neglected the important formality of putting the stock into the power company's hands. Instead, they kept it in their own safe deposit vaults.

This enabled them, in their April 1 statement to the United States government, to report themselves as owners of the newspapers. If the stock had been handed to the power company as collateral, the power company's interest would have had to be reported to the government.

The law requires a report of "any person, association or corporation" that "has any interest, direct or indirect, in the said stock." Perhaps they made a little slip in not reporting the interest of the power company to which the stock was "morally pledged."

The real ownership of the purchased newspapers was concealed not only from the United States government, but from the editors as well. Charles O. Hearon, editor of the Spartansburg (S. C.) Herald and the Journal, has wired his resignation to Lavarre, stating that he had not agreed "to become the editor of newspapers owned or controlled by the International Paper and Power Company or any special interests.".

Fitzhugh McMaster has written Lavarre that "I certainly would never have accepted the position as editor of the Columbia (S. C.) Record, if I had understood it was owned or controlled in any way by a power company or any public utility company."

The Lavarre-Hall episode was another example of the underhand methods of the Power Trust in bribing, corrupting and secretly buying up the nation's sources of news.

What have the power companies to conceal?

Why do they require a kept press?

And what do the decent leaders in the electric light and power business think of the free-booting, strong-arm, public-be-damned element in their midst, undoing the "public relations" work of a dozen years and casting a black shadow over the future of the industry?

Tales That Are Told

Weakened On the Way

Meeting an old parishioner, he asked:

"Well, Mr. Snooks, and how did you like my sermon yesterday.

"Ye see, parson," was the reply, "I haven't a fair chance with them sermons of yours. I'm an old man now, and by the time I manage to get to the church all the front seats are taken and I have to sit at the back. There's old Mrs. Smith and Mrs. O'Callagher's daughters an' Bert Snow an' all the rest of 'em sittin' in front of me wid their mouths open a-swallering all the best parts of your sermon, an' what gets down to me is purty poor stuff, parson, purty poor stuff."

Far More Serious

SANDY had been courting the fair Jean for two years. One evening, after Sandy had been silent for some twenty minutes, Jean murmured:

"A penny for your thochts, Sandy."

"An' what are ye thinkin' about noo?" asked the girl hopefully. "Another?"

"No, lassie; it's mair serious this time. I was just wonderin' when ye were goin' tae pay me that penny for ma thochts."

On Friendly Terms

HE had never been outside England, and neither had she, but both were recounting their experiences abroad.

"And Asia! Ah! wonderful Asia! Never shall I forget Turkey, India, Japan—all of them. And most of all China. How I loved it!"

"And the pagodas—did you see them?"

"Did I see them?" She powdered her nose. "My dear, I had dinner with them."

How to Learn

A MINISTER in Scotland observed some lads sitting on a tombstone. He said to them: "What are you doing there?"

"Nothing, sir," said one of the lads.

The boy replied: "I cannot tell you what it is, but if you will close your eyes, sir, you will see it."

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a woman at a tea-party telling her troubles to the others.

"We had an awful messy time last winter," she says. "My husband couldn't sleep, and he was away from home a lot, and working like a slave. He was trying to get a job under the county commissioners, you know, and it took a dreadful amount of work and wire-pulling to get it."

"Oh, is that so?" says one of the women that wasn't much interested. "What is your husband doing now?"

"He don't do anything now, and everything is fine at our house. He got the job, you know."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

DON'T take love lightly.

For the experiences and the rites of love, however slightly they may seem, are the most sacred things in our existence—and the most mysterious.

Love is the deepest and the tallest thing in life. It penetrates farthest into the soil of our being—it reaches highest toward the source of our hope.

Cynics may tell you that love is but a part of your physical composition, like the heat in your blood or the hunger in your stomach.

They may tell you that it arises from a desire to reproduce—

Or a selfish desire to possess—

Don't believe them!

Love may work through your body, but it is not of your body.

It is above and beyond the needs of the body.

Always men have reached toward that star, desiring it above everything else on earth.

They reached toward it when they were shambling, hairy brutes—they reach toward it now in their day of weary disillusion. Always they believed in love and trusted it. And love never betrayed their trust.

Those whom we love may fail us but love itself never fails us. Whatever it costs, love is always worth while.

That is why "falling in love" is never silly. That is why the most trivial love story has a touch of the divine in it—and why men continue to believe in love though they have lost their faith in everything else.

Love has the power to lift men out of themselves—to free them for a while from the shame and selfishness of themselves.

Self-preservation may be the FIRST law of nature but love is the LAST and GREATEST law. For love can overcome even a man's desire to preserve himself.

Because of love man will die for his friend. He will do an even harder thing—he will LIVE for his friend.

Believe in love!

Treasure it!

Treasure it even though it comes in course and common guise. For though the waters over which love moves may be muddy, love itself is a star.

Worship love. Make a religion of it. Go into the thought of it as you would go into a shrine. Go into it seeking beauty, asking for healing—

For however ugly your life may be it will give you beauty—

And however sick your soul may be, it will heal it.

LIBERTY AND LICENSE

By Garrett P. Serviss

HOW much of this loudly demanded "liberty and equality" for children and even for those who are scarcely more than infants, is good for the race, for the nation, for society, or for the individual?

"You are little animals; then act like little animals. You ought to be natural, just as they are. Your desires are natural appetites. You are born free and equal; then don't forget it when old-fashioned people try to interfere with you. Remember that styles change, and only the new ones are good. Behavior is a matter of fashion like anything else. You don't want to be like your grandfather or your grandmother. They were non-progressive persons, who listened to fairy tales, and indulged in solemn talks about morality and religion, they were prudes and hypocrites, and foolishly called things bad that were very pleasant, and chattered about avoiding them by kicking them out of the mind. That was unscientific. The true scientific way is not to believe what old fogies say, but to try all so-called bad things over again for yourselves and see if you cannot find a theory which will excuse them.

"Remember that history and geography prove that there is no vice which is always and everywhere regarded as vice. Savages have thought it wise and moral to put their old people to death in order to get them out of the way; some tribes live without any social morality, such as we pretend to respect; murder has been regarded as neither a crime nor a sin; there are people with whom stealing and lying and cheating, and any loose conduct that gratifies some natural longing, some 'weakness of the flesh' as the hypocrites say, are both admissible and admirable.

"Therefore, don't be afraid of what is called vice. Get acquainted with it. Don't let any hypocritical maxims of your elders deter you. They have really been no better than you are; they have only covered up their sins with conventionalities. See what some of their most entertaining writers have confessed. Don't read John Bunyan or John Milton, but read Isadore Duncan, or the fragments of that 'greatest of women artists and the most poignantly naked,' Sapho, the Greek. Don't read stories about people who live what are called decent lives, but read Maupassant or some other golden penned describer of men and women when they unbare themselves to Satan.

"Then, there are those old 'Ten Commandments.' Don't pay any attention to those decrepit monitors of ancient Hebrew Interdiction. They too are unscientific. They are not up to date. Their writers have mixed their morality and their God-worship with their own history and their self-sufficient ideas about alliance with Jehovah. You don't want any Hebrew-made God—if you need any at all, which is doubtful—and if you must have a God, let science make him; then he will be mathematically correct, and analysable in the laboratory."

All of these things have, literally, or in substance, been included in the modernist councils to the young and to their parents, and in the educational theories advocated by extremists who call themselves reformers. Are they advisable? Are their fruits, as we already begin to see them, good? Let us glance at them we find instead of politeness of talk and bearing rude language and manners; instead of respect and sympathetic regard for age, indifference, discourtesy, even mockery and impudence; instead of restraint (the jewel of conduct) indiscretion and intemperance; instead of generous consideration, piggishness; instead of modesty, conceit and egotism; instead of cultivated speech, slang and flash talk.

I ask again: Is it good for the race, for the nation, for society, or for the individual?

Bible Passages

Be No Stumbling Block

(1 Corinthians 8)

NOW as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up but charity edifieth.

And if any man think that he knoweth anything, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,)

But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom all things, and we by him.

Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is defiled.

But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither if we eat, are we the better; neither if we eat not are we the worse.

But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak.

For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;

But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

When Jean Is Glad

WHEN Jean is glad, how do I know?
Her lips, of course, will tell me so,
Her lips as red as any rose
And yet her heart, all tenderness,
Right through her smiling lips profess
A joy she does not wholly feel,
Jean's lips are diplomates, forsooth;
But Jean's dear eyes speak only truth.
Always, when most her soul delights,
From out her eyes peer joyous sprites
That show their mirth to all the world
As plainly as gay flags unfurled.
So it is when I find them there,
Those elves, revealing, debonair,
Who dwell sometimes in Jean's gray eyes,
That life seems wholly good and wise.

No Goods in Stock

By Herbert Kaufman

YOU'RE a typical hand-to-mouther, with a filled wardrobe and an empty mind—a thriftless, superficial, patent-leathered, fashioned-plated, plus-four bluff, constantly robbing Peter Prudence to finance Paul Folly.

There isn't a rainy day on your calendar or an umbrella reserve in your calculations.

If you devoted half the energy to promotion that you dissipate on camouflage, the biggest corporations in town would soon wear paths to your door, tendering prize berths on silver platters.

Your wife bought last season's frocks and furs with next year's expected pay increase. And the two of you are sitting up nights scheming ways and means to accumulate a further burden of debt.

You can reel off the full list of "nifties" from current theatrical "wows," but you can't quote a paragraph from the President's Message, explain the purpose of Farm Relief legislation, recite a dozen recent Acts of Congress, debate tariff revision, or define the purpose and powers of the Federal Reserve Board.

Time alone must teach you that success doesn't exercise with night clubs—that there are no notes on management in the saxophone—and that no short-cuts to advancement branch from "The Great White Way."

You're an authority on batting averages and tournament scores fairly drip from your tongue, but no one ever saw you make the round for responsibility under bogey, or step into an emergency with the needed pinch hit.

You don't subscribe to technical publications, read trade bulletins, study business news or consult reference works.

But you can dish Hollywood dirt with the gabbiest of 'em, and there isn't a track from Tia Juana to Juarez that doesn't engage your faithful attention.

You can solve the toughest cross-word puzzle, but the ingenuity that furnishes its key is strangely baffled by the details of practical problems.

You haven't earned a bonus, opened an important account or forestalled a competitive finesse since you signed the payroll.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, May 18.—The movie has done much to save Broadway from a tawdry Boweryization. For 10 years even the most enthusiastic defenders have realized "the street of streets" was slipping. It no longer presented that crisp, smart and sophisticated flair.

Still known as the Rialto, its theaters were ruthlessly torn down to rear up in the side streets. Its notable cafes—such as Rector's, Shanley's and Churchill's—were giving way to dimlit chop suey joints, the rowdy chop house and clattering cafeteria.

Upper floors were given over to expert scalp specialists, $5 millinery shops, jazz band agencies and such. Cabarets deserted the cellars for the decadent mansions eastward and cutrate pool halls took their place. Auctioneers and other racketeers swooped down like a locust plague.

Cheap dance halls, featuring the professional "hostess" and the gigolo, came up from the lower East Side to attract those tin horn sports with the side hat dips and dove-colored shoe uppers. An orange, pineapple or apple drink hutch bloomed in every building crevice.

Gum-chewing blondes with gold teeth were attracted to all night shoe, perfume, gown and hat shops. Every block had its fake jewelry sale. The smart shop moved to Madison avenue and the one dollar shirt and $2 hat shops added their touch to the depressing debacle.

Then came the glorified cinema temple! The ostentatious Paramount building gave dying Broadway a new breath of life. William Fox will erect a 52-storied office and theater building at Broadway and Forty-seventh street. The Loew State Building, comparatively new, is a few steps away.

Now comes news the old Strand movie is to come down and make way for the Warner Brothers new and gorgeous structure. This may top the gingerbread architectural record. Two other mastodonic piles a little north are rumored and thus Broadway becomes somewhat of its glittering self again.

* * *

Now that the Rialto's summer loaf is here, the actor talks big again. He is not expected to have a job at this time so he can exploit the pleasant myth of his star role next season. The actor is never a whiner. He is a better sport than most of us who fall on lean days. He may swipe the doughnut and milk bottle from next door, but he will swagger forth in his yellow gloves an hour later for his imaginary "snack at the Ritz," and indulge in high-nosed boast of his appointment with Belasco.

* * *

Every legitimate performer whistles in the dark because of the sheer sickliness of the drama these mellow days. After the worst season in years, the Rialto, from producer to humblest ham, faces something portentous and no one knows what. Whispered fear of the talkie has crystalized into acute reality. Hundreds of screen players, not vocalizing properly for sound pictures, eagerly hunt stage jobs. Producers with the bank rolls puff panetelas in anxious waiting for some sign before planning productions. A theatrical agent paints a despairing picture with: "I have 500 suitable applicants for every worth while job." More hopeful experts say there is nothing permanent in the situation. And so it goes.

Writes D. G., Columbia University: "In your columns this week I found not only a mixed metaphor but four glaring mistakes in punctuation."

Something new in heigh ho was expressed by one of those engaging ladies, whose miracles of gold digging are emblazoned in tabloids instead of frescoed windows. On a recent trip abroad she was accompanied by her own personal manicurist. If it were not for practicing all day to spit a curve in the wind like Joan Lowell for a Sunday yacht trip, there should be a wheeze there. Something about sharpening the nails to dig a little deeper or how have you been?

* * *

Something should be done about those Broadway jewelry auctioneers who twit the curiosity seekers stepping up to the doorway as a sale is going on. I eddied up to one today. "Come in Ethelbert!" shouted the be-diamonded spieler. Every neck craned my way. I would have answered back but my voice invariably goes falsetto in an emotional crisis. And there I stood in buttoned shoes!

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

WHY do you talk so much when you are trying to impress others favorably?

Do you feel that to indicate that you possess considerable knowledge it is necessary for you to discuss a little of everything as fast as you can?

Therefore the learned person whom you wish to impress realizes that you have touched upon a good many matters in your short conversation and knows that you cannot be well versed in all of them.

He is likely to think you are not very learned in any of them.

This may be the reason why you have failed to register with those whom you have tried hardest to interest.

Often the person who talks least has the most to say that is worth listening to.
